Less Mastitis Is Real Bonus At Green Acres Farm

BY PAT PURCELL

LEWES, DE — "We do things a little differently here," said Walter Hopkins of Green Acres Farm. And with good reason.

Last year they received nearly $9,000 in quality premiums from the Atlantic Dairy Cooperative for keeping somatic cell, P.I. and standard plate counts low for 12 consecutive months.

"It's nice to get paid for just doing a good job," said Walter, "but the real bonus is in the greater milk production from less mastitis," explained Hopkins. "The amount we receive in increased production is at least, double, if not triple that. The quality premium is extra."

Just minutes away from the inviting waves and sandy shore of Lewes, Delaware, lies the Hopkins' 1,000-acre farm. But while thousands of visitors flock to this vacation resort each summer, there's no one on vacation a few miles down the road at Green Acres Farm.

Walter and his father, Bill, and each of their employees focus all

National Veal Producers, Animal Rights Groups Compete For Media Attention

BY EVERETT NEWSWANGER

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.)—To get in the first word, the American Veal Association held an early Monday morning press conference here to announce a national veal quality assurance program and emphasize how well farmers care for their veal calves. And as soon as this press conference was finished, the media representatives were invited down the hall in the Sheraton-Lancaster to the presentation of Farm Sanctuary, an animal rights group that wanted to tell everyone how bad veal farmers raise their calves.

Barbara Huffman, Fremont, WI, president elect and producer of 470 veal calves every three months, represented the veal industry. Hoffman said that the public has a great deal of misconception and incorrect information about how well farmers care for their calves.

"Only two percent of the nation's population is involved in the nation's farming," Huffman said. "Very often the other 98 percent of the population don't really understand the farm. I'm here to assure the press that veal farmers do raise their calves in a humane environment. We do provide the best possible care for our calves. It's in our own best interest to do so," she said.

Hoffman said her calves grow from about 100 lbs to 350 to 400 lbs in 16 weeks. And since the clinical signs of anemia are the lack of appetite and the refusal to eat, Hoffman stressed that veal calves could not be anemic as claimed.

In an industry guideline entitled "Modern Veal Production, An Industry Perspective," one of the

BY ANNE BRIZZOLARA DAVIS

FELTON, DE — When 17-year-old Fred Biggs of Felton, Del., took a picture of a kitten prowling through the grass as part of his 4-H photography project, he had no idea that the photo would one day travel to the Soviet Union.

Biggs' photograph, titled "A Tiny Tiger on the Prowl" was one of 50 photos selected by 4-H'ers to represent the United States in a joint youth photo exhibit with the Soviet Union.

More than 1,500 4-H'ers from across the United States attending last December's National 4-H Congress in Chicago cast ballots for photographs displayed in the National 4-H Photo Exhibit. They were voting for those that would best represent to the Soviets how Americans live, work and play.

Fifty photos were selected from 182 in the national exhibit, sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company. Held annually to highlight the photographic talent of 4-H'ers, the National 4-H Photo Exhibit features up to four photos from each state.

According to area 4-H agent

Development—How These Farmers Make It Pay

BY LISA RISSER

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — There are plenty of farmers concerned with development and what it means for their future. Most think in terms of the disadvantages: complaints from nonfarming neighbors, nuisance ordinances, vandalism, and loss of agribusinesses. Some think about the money they could receive if they sell their land at development prices. But there are a few enterprising farmers who view development as an opportunity to expand their farming operation.

These positive thinkers see the value of having consumers move closer to them. They are marketing their products directly and cutting out middleman expenses. In addition, they are providing a service to their neighbors and creating goodwill.

Ken Rutt, Bobby and Dave Krall, and John and Carol Hottenstein are farmers who are using

PFA Sells PACMA

CAMP HILL (Cumberland Co.) — The Pennsylvania Farmers' Association (PFA) has sold a major portion of the marketing activities of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association (PACMA), to a new corporation, the Pennsylvania Agricultural Commodity Marketing Association, Incorporated known as PACMA, Inc.

The transaction took place following a meeting of PACMA shareholders Friday, June 9. PFA will continue to operate the PACMA Apple Marketing Program for apple growers and will conduct Market Master educational programs for members through a new Acres Corn Update: Corn futures prices added to yesterday's gains and settled higher from 4-1/4 to 9-1/4 cents on buying tied to bullish interpretations of the latest weather forecast calling for warmer than normal temperatures over the next 30 days. Further support was linked to projections by private crop analyst Sparks, reducing 1989 corn acreage to 71.7 million acres. December settled 8-1/2 cents higher at $2.45 after trading in a range from $2.39-1/2 to $2.46. Bids for generic certificates also improved slightly today with bids 1/4 to 1/2 percent higher.

Acres Soybean Update: Soybean futures prices rocketed higher this afternoon with July touching the 30 cent limit. Fast market conditions were posted with buying throughout the day tied to the latest 30 day weather outlook calling for drier and warmer conditions. Old crop was propped by a drawdown in deliverable stocks and the cancellation of warehouse receipts in Chicago and Toledo. The November option traded to a high of $6.48 midday and settled 17-1/4 higher at $6.45-1/4, while July settled 28-1/2 higher at $7.29-1/2 after touching limit at $7.31 on the close.

Acres Hog Update: Hog futures settled mixed again today with the spot June dropping 35 points while the other options settled from unchanged to 13 higher. Session long pressure in the spot option was tied to cash market weakness and fears for lower product quotes. Ideas that reduced receipts would encourage a higher opening tomorrow morning provided some support. Positioning throughout the day was featured in advance of last trading day on Tuesday. Bellies were lower this afternoon with sales tied to long liquidation and pressure from weak cash belly quotes and recent larger than expected kill figures.

New York & Phila. Frozen Eggs

June 13, 1989

Prices were fully steady to firm on wholes and whites, while barely steady to weak on yolks. Trading was fairly active yet cautious. Raw materials, though usually available, were held with varying degrees of confidence forcing buyers to become more selective and to continually reassess their position. Floor stocks were generally in balance with needs.

New England Shell Eggs

June 14, 1989

Prices were unchanged to higher on cartoned extra large eggs, unchanged on the balance and loose eggs. Trade sentiment was steady. Cartoned egg demand was about moderate as poor weather affected movement in several areas. Supplies were in close balance with needs. Additional product was irregularly available but usually adequate to satisfy needs.

Eastern PA & NJ

June 14, 1989

Prices for light type hens were generally unchanged from prior week. The trade sentiment was unsettled. Offers of light type fowl were very light and offers of heavy type hens were barely adequate for current movement. Most buyers are awaiting further market developments. Processors operated less than full schedules. Canner pack product cleared to a good demand. The undertone was firm.

LIVE LIGHT TYPE HENS: AT FARM 16-18 MOSTLY - F.O.B. PLANT 20.5-21.

Delmarva Broiler Fryer

June 14, 1989

Movement of ready to cook whole fryers was fairly good. Supplies continued short of current needs. In the parts complex, supplies of cutlets were adequate to instances fully adequate, whole breasts were barely adequate, legs and leg quarters were ample to instances surplus, while wings were short of needs. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged to higher at 68 - 80 cents. Live supplies were adequate. Average live weights ranged light to desirable. Today's slaughter schedules were moderate. The trade sentiment was fully steady to firm.

National Egg Market

June 14, 1989

The market tone was generally steady although underlying sentiment was becoming increasingly more cautious. Cartoned egg demand was irregular with retail promotional activity usually attracting the best interest. Supplies were generally adequate with additional offerings held with varying degrees of confidence. Breakers were satisfying their needs to maintain desired operating schedules.

New York Eggs

June 14, 1989

Prices were unchanged. Trade sentiment was cautiously steady. Cartoned egg demand was about moderate and generally disappointing. Supplies were usually in good balance to easily handle current trade needs.

Northeast Chicken Parts

June 15, 1989

Trucklot buying interest was mixed and selective and centered mainly on heavy offerings of leg quarters at lower trending prices. Legs were also in heavy supply and difficult to clear at several points. Cutlets were adequate to fully adequate and prices held unchanged with spot discounting still a part of some trading. Whole breasts increased in availability and several buyers took a wait and see position; the bulk of new business was slow in developing; however, trading prices were generally weak and unsettled. Wings were in tight supply; demand fairly active.

GRAIN PRICES SHARPLY HIGHER FOR 2ND CONSECUTIVE DAY. FUTURES ON SOME COMMODITIES UP NEAR DAILY LIMIT AS TRADERS THOUGHT OVER-SOLD POSITIONS EXISTED. RAIN DELAYED HARVESTING AND FARMER SELLING OF WHEAT AND SOYBEAN PLANTING NOT COMPLETED IN SOME WET AREAS. BRAZILIAN EXPORT OF SOYBEANS TIED UP DUE TO FINANCIAL CRISIS IN THAT COUNTRY. SECOND WEEK OF GOOD EXPORT ORDERS OF WHEAT AND CORN A FACTOR. LAST YEAR'S DROUGHT NOT FORGOTTEN AND SOME FORECAST THAT LARGE AREA COULD BE HIT AGAIN THIS YEAR AS SEVERAL PLACES CONTINUE TO SUFFER AND VERY SHALLOW TOP SOIL-MOISTURE MANY OTHER PLACES.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC

Full Strawberry Moon.

June 19, 1963, the Russian man and woman team of astronauts land safely by parachute in Kazakhstan June 21, 1877, ten "Molly Maguires" (members of a secret Irish terrorist society) are sent to the gallows in Pennsylvania Average length of days for the week 15 hours 17 minutes June 24, 1665, Thomas Willett, first mayor of New York City, installed in office The course of true anything never does run smooth — Samuel Butler

Ask the Old Farmer: What is the source of the term, 'rolling in money? S K, Mont

Tradition says a certain miser stored his money in his featherbed, taking out feathers as need be So someone said he was rolling in money There may be other stories, as well

Home Hints: An old piece of veiling makes an excellent lint remover

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

New England: Clearing and cold at first, then warm, some sun and some showers A heat wave coming in should extend into July, with wet bits

Greater New York-New Jersey: Sunny and cool, then warming temperatures Unseasonably cool weather mid-week, and rainy toward the weekend

Middle Atlantic Coastal: Cooling, then clearing, then hot A storm approaches, heavy in the west, and very cool temperatures continue

Piedmont & Southeast Coastal: Rain and heavy rain in the east Clear and unseasonably hot then more rains to soak in, heavy in the eastern parts

Beat Summer's Heat

Calf-tel™ Deluxe models have an access door, two 10-qt. pails inside and a bottle holder, for fast feeding without spilling.

You can stop worrying about your calves' health when the weather changes with Calf-tel™ Comfort Hutches. No other hutch provides a draft-free environment without big swings in temperature as well as Calf-tel™.

The hutch's thermomolded, opaque material eliminates the "greenhouse effect," which can cause intolerable heat on hot days, and moisture problems during cold weather.

Ridge top vents at front and back allow fresh air to move through the hutch to remove excess moisture in winter. Warm climate models have a fully open front, and a rear vent door, to keep calves comfortable.

Calves stay cleaner and dryer thanks to the hutch's 86" length and bigger sleeping area. Plus, the inside feed station prevents spoilage.

ATTENTION TOBACCO FARMERS

If your tobacco beds appear yellow and seem stunted, treat beds immediately as follows:

5 Tblsp. Ferbam 76 WP + 2 tsp. Streptomycin per gallon of water. Apply 2 gallons of this mixture per 300 sq. ft. of tobacco bed. Apply only in the evening for best results. (Refer to our March 1989 issue of Paradise Tobacco News).

Due to tremendous export demand, very low inventories, and weather problems affecting all tobacco growing areas - we expect excellent demand and an exciting market for 1989 grown tobacco!!

We would recommend any available areas on the farm be grown in tobacco. We are working with companies already and we have developed a good relationship with them.

"Our objective is the bottom line – net value of milk over feed costs."

"When we moved here a little less than three years ago, this farm didn't have any alfalfa, so we've been feeding a combination of wheatlage and corn silage. Our forage has been testing between 14% and 15% crude protein on a dry matter basis.

"SoyPLUS is our primary protein source and we've been able to feed very high levels of SoyPLUS without cows going off feed. One cow that tested 132 lbs. of milk last test is getting 15 lbs. of the SoyPLUS mix per day.

"A major benefit of SoyPLUS is its consistency – it's the same every week. There's never any difference in color or texture or weight. And it's very palatable. That's the key to feeding milk cows. I don't care how good a ration looks on paper – if cows won't eat it, they're not going to produce milk on it.

"Our main objective is the bottom line – net value of milk over supplemental feed costs. Since we switched to feeding SoyPLUS, our supplemental feed costs have been steadily going down. Herd averages are nice, but the bottom line is what pays the bills."

Lancaster Farming

OPINION

Thank You! Thank You! Thank You!

American agriculture owes one Lancaster County veal producer a huge thank you for taking great personal risks to show the public media this week what farming is really like. This farmer who remains unidentified for his own protection, allowed his veal operation to be seen first-hand by TV and print news cameras and crews as part of the American Veal Association's annual meeting field tour. He did this in the face of bold, public demonstration against animal agriculture at the convention headquarters.

The farm is impeccable. And after all negative exposure the veal industry has received, it was refreshing to see an operation that has put practical answers to the questions that are raised by animal welfare groups. The calves in this 300 head operation are not tied. They turn around in their stalls at will. A rubber coated mesh on the floor provides comfort for the calf.

And while the calves are monitored to insure that they don't receive too much iron, they are never allowed to have "iron poor blood."

The building is clean and smells fresh. A ventilation system features evaporative cooling that keeps the inside atmosphere better than outside temperatures. Windows and a dusk to dawn lighting system provide light for the calves 24 hours per day. Non-medicated feed is provided after the calf is past the start-up period.

Since the calves are free to move around, they lose no locomotion capacity. Therefore, at market time, the calves move at a lively pace in the walkways from the barn to the transportation trucks.

These calves were content and received excellent care. And the Lancaster Veal Farmer who cares for them did a great service for agriculture when he allowed the public to see that care. Thank you! Thank you! Thank You!

FARM FORUM OUR READERS WRITE

Editor,

I just received the current issue of Lancaster Farming. I want to thank you for printing the article I wrote about the Central Virginia Livestock Show, and commend you on the great job you did with the pictures I sent. I thought they were not very good but you were able to print them and make them look super.

Lancaster Farming turned out the most outstanding lay-out for us of several publications we sent pictures and articles to. You people are really professionals.

Thank you again for including central Virginia in your fine publication.

NOW IS THE TIME

By Jay Irwin
Lancaster County Agriculture Agent

To Check Lighting For Layers

One of the cardinal rules for poultry management is to never decrease the light period of flocks in production. Most flock managers would never intentionally decrease the day length to a flock in production, but we are in the season of the year when this can happen accidentally.

Most layers are in a light-controlled, not light-tight, housing. The major sources of light leakage are the exhaust fans and air intake. Pullet flocks placed in the laying house during late fall, winter or spring can be given a 14 hour day. As summer approaches and natural day length exceeds 14 hours, layers in non-light tight housing will be exposed to an increasing day length due to the light entering the building through fans and air intakes.

This increase in day length causes no problem. The longest day occurs on June 21 and decreases until December 21. It is this decrease in day length that can cause layers to go out of production unless the time clocks controlling the lights are readjusted to provide the layers with the day length they received on June 21.

To Be Aware Of a Farm Statistic Survey

U.S.D.A. Farm Statistics Service will be undertaking its annual June farm survey, according to Robert Anderson, Extension Agronomy Agent. Three thousand Pennsylvania farmers will be part of 117 thousand farmers nationally asked to answer questions about their farming operation.

The survey which will be sent to randomly selected farms between June 1st and 15th will be used to gather information about crop acreage, grain stocks, livestock inventories, the number of farms and the number of acres farmed. The facts gathered on individual farms are strictly confidential and will only be used to project state, regional and national estimates. In Pennsylvania the survey will be conducted by the Agricultural Statistics Service of PDA. Anyone who receives a questionnaire can direct questions to them at 717-787-3904.

To Control Weeds In Your Garden

Every farm and nearly every homeowner has a garden, and with that garden comes weeds. Well, it's not generally a good idea to use chemical weed killers in the home garden.

There are several good reasons for this. Among them are: difficulty of applying proper rates under home garden conditions, lack of proper equipment, and danger of injury to near-by crops and valuable ornamentals.

The home garden is also limited in the number of chemicals that can be used on more than one crop. In many cases, only one material can be used on a single crop. There may be problems by having to buy more than you need and not having a good place to store these materials.

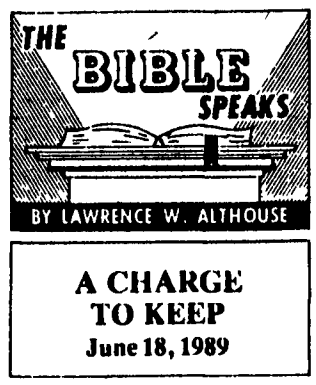
Wherever possible use mulches or cultivation and good cultural practices to help eliminate weeds, in other words, a hoe operated with two good hands is a very effective and efficient method.

To Renovate Strawberries

Since the harvest of the strawberry crop is nearly over, it is a good time to plant for next year. In most cases, plants that have yielded two or more crops cannot be expected to do well in the future. However, if the current planting is to be used for another year we suggest that the rows be worked by the use of mechanical cultivation and followed by top-dressing with fertilizer. These practices will keep the berry plants in a row and encourage additional runners to increase next year's yield.

In the case of a new planting of strawberries, we urge you to fertilize them in June and again in early August. This extra plant food will enable the setting of runners and will help increase yield next year.

The Cooperative Extension is an affirmative action, equal opportunity educational institution.



A CHARGE TO KEEP

June 18, 1989

Background Scripture: Joshua 18:1-10; 21:43 through 22:6.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:1-5, 9-11.

Of course I've read this passage before. But I must confess that somehow in the past I have consistently failed to appreciate its significance. Actually, it is one of the supreme moments in the life of Israel -- at least the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh -- for it is the one time in this people's history when, it would seem, they have been completely faithful to God's commands.

Joshua speaks to these people rare words of praise: "You have kept all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I have commanded you; you have not forsaken your brethren these many days, down to this day, but have been careful to keep the charge of the Lord your God" (Joshua 22:2,3).

A PERSONAL CHARGE

"Careful to keep the charge of the Lord your God"! Can you think of a higher commendation than that for a person, a group, a nation, or a world? What more might you want said of you than that? Can you think of a higher accolade for a church?

Unfortunately, we become so involved in the daily living of life, particularly in meeting its short-range demands, that we tend to forget that each of us has a charge to keep in God's sight. We know God has expectations of other people -- Mother Theresa, Albert Schweitzer, Thomas Merton et. al -- but we need to be constantly reminded that God also has expectations for each of us.

Some people will retort: "Well, I'm not aware of any charge God has given me!" probably lots of us feel that way and our lives show it, too. If we are unaware, however, it is not because God hasn't made known his expectations to us, but that we have not paid attention to them. If we want to know what we are charged to keep-for God, we can.

ENOUGH SAID

Mother Theresa probably knows precisely what God wants of her in the years just ahead. (I'm assuming that; I don't really know.) In contrast, at this moment I'm not really sure just what it is that God wants of me in the next few years. There seems to be several possibilities. Perhaps you're pretty much in the same situation. But that doesn't mean that we don't have a charge from God. Even in the general terms with which Joshua spoke to the three tribes, there is enough specification of what God wants of me -- and you --: "...to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave to him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul" (Joshua 22:5).

Of course, all of us would like things spelled out a bit more than that. I could quibble over just how to "love" God, what "ways" of his in which I need to walk, and specifically which "commandments" upon which to concentrate. Still, if we never get another communication from God than the charge of which Joshua speaks, it is enough to give us a charge that will claim our deepest inspiration, our staunchest faith, our greatest efforts and highest accomplishments.

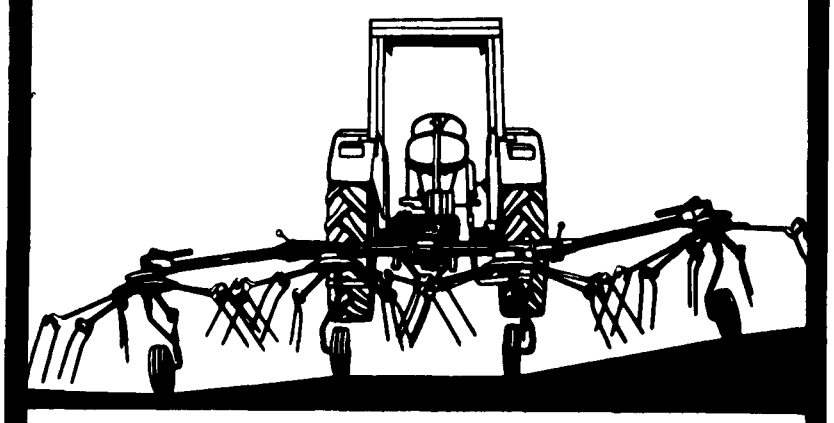
DEUTZ-FAHR...

THE GENTLE POWER IN THE HAYFIELD.



The hay's down and it rained.

The rains may soak your cut hay, but the Deutz-Fahr Centipede Haymaker can save your crop. It lifts, turns, fluffs, spreads and flexes the stems to release moisture fast. You get fast air-drying, save more nutrients and maintain hay quality.

Stop in soon and check out the new Deutz-Fahr Centipede Haymaker. See why Deutz-Fahr is the gentle power in the hayfield.

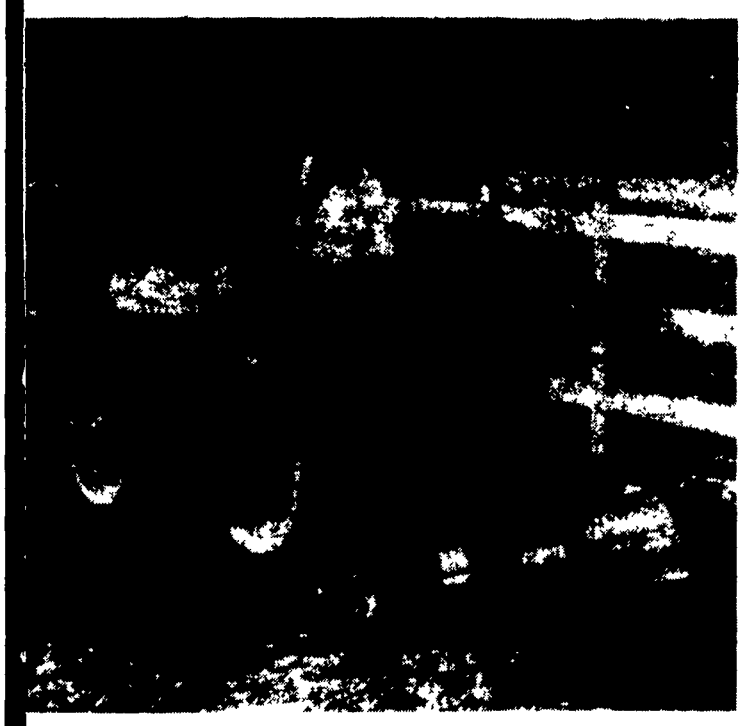
TO WORK THEM IS TO LOVE THEM.



Kubota's compact and mid-sized diesel tractors come in different sizes, but to know the quality of their work is to love them.

Kubota's B-Series and L-Series tractors share unusually fuel-efficient diesel engines, from 10-40 PTO HP, that just outworks the competition.

Kubota tractors are comfortable, with a clean platform design many owners have come to love.

And of course, versatility is built into every Kubota.

Quick-attach implements convert your Kubota into a scraper, loader, mower, tiller, posthole digger or more.

Kubota B-Series or L-Series diesel tractors. To own them is to work and love them.

KUBOTA®

Kubota Tractor Corporation Markets a full line of tractors from 10 to 85 PTO horsepower through a nationwide network of nearly 1,000 dealers.

FARM BUREAU ACRES

Acres Wheat Update: Wheat futures continued to strengthen today and added from 6 to 6-1/2 cents to yesterday's gains. Professional buying and some commissionhouse short covering was featured with further support tied to spillover from rallying soybeans and corn. Underlying support was provided by continued harvest delays due to rain in the Delta and South east and cash market strength. Whispering of upcoming export interest by China and the USSR also helped with the USDA announcing after the close a sale of 100,000 metric tonnes to China. July closed out the day at $3.98-3/4 while the December settled at $4.05-3/4 after trading in a range from $4.00-1/2 to $4.06.

Acres Cattle Update: Live cattle futures closed higher this afternoon from 10 to 45 points while feeders lost 20 to 37 points. Activity throughout the session was light with buying tied to firm cash market fundamentals. Many participants took to the sidelines today in readiness for Friday's 7-State USDA Cattle on Feed Report. Pressure in the feeder cattle was tied to sharp gains in corn prices despite a sharply higher CME index. Support was provided by continued activity at the auction barns with prices improving steadily. Pre-estimates for the Cattle on Feed report pegged on feed numbers June 1 at 99.6%, May placements at 85.1% and Marketings at 102.1%.

A new look in spreader design.

More than 7 years ago, Hedlund/Martin introduced the Scavenger—a manure spreader based on an entirely new technology.

Gone were unreliable apron chains and "rooster comb" beaters. Gone were leaky endgates. Gone were the old-fashioned boxy shape. In their place—a unique patented square auger and side-discharge expeller reel. And with its welded Unibody construction, Scavenger looked like nothing before.

But even though it looked unusual, Scavenger worked. Scavenger proved itself where it counts—in the fields of farmers all across America.

And like all successful advances in technology, Scavenger invited a slew of competitors. Today, a wide variety of farm equipment manufacturers sell a Scavenger-like machine.

Unmatched performance.

While some of these look-alike units are perfectly adequate for certain manure-spreading application, none can match Scavenger's overall versatility. Scavenger spreads all kinds of manure—liquid, semi-solid, pen pack (even frozen)—all year 'round. In even spread patterns up to 50 feet. All in one machine.

So when you find it's time to purchase a new spreader, take a hard look at your choices. Don't be misled by spreaders that claim to do it all. Compare actual capabilities. We think you'll find your choice obvious. You'll choose the spreader with unmatched performance—Scavenger.

See for yourself.

For a firsthand look at Scavenger, see your local Hedlund/Martin dealer. Or write: Hedlund/Martin, Inc., A Gehl Company, 741 Kutztown Road, Myerstown, PA 17067. Telephone: 717-933-4151.

A Gehl Company®

Scavenger's design and technology is covered by one or more of the following patents: U.S. 4,362,272; 4,467,967; 4,473,184; 4,479,608; Canadian 2,262,676; 1,161,468; 1,167,078.

Bale Accumulator

The Steffen Systems Bale Accumulator conveniently and easily packages up to ten 2-tie bales or eight 3-tie bales into a uniform arrangement which can easily be handled by one of the Steffen Systems loaders. The fully automatic electric over hydraulic controls operate the accumulator without the need of an operator. With its quick and smooth functions, there is no need to slow down the baler to allow for proper functioning of the machine. Also available for use in 2-tie bales is an optional tie bar.

CONTROL WEEDS LIKE NEVER BEFORE
Introducing PURSUIT®

Applied early postemergence, new PURSUIT® herbicide combines contact and residual activity for removing everything from velvetleaf to cocklebur and foxtails to shattercane - all season - and you can rotate to field corn the following year.

It's the only postemergence soybean herbicide that offers season-long control of more than 40 grasses and broadleaf weeds.

Just take a look at this partial list of weeds controlled by one early postemergence application of PURSUIT:
Broadleaf Weeds • Velvetleaf • Cocklebur • Pigweeds • Morninglories • Common Sunflower • Nightshades
Grasses • Foxtails • Shattercane • Crabgrass • Barnyardgrass • Seedling Johnsongrass • Woolly Cupgrass[1]
• 28 other broadleaf weeds and grasses.

Now registered, PURSUIT has been reserved by thousands of Midwest farmers. See us soon about getting PURSUIT® herbicide for yourself— demand may exceed supply.

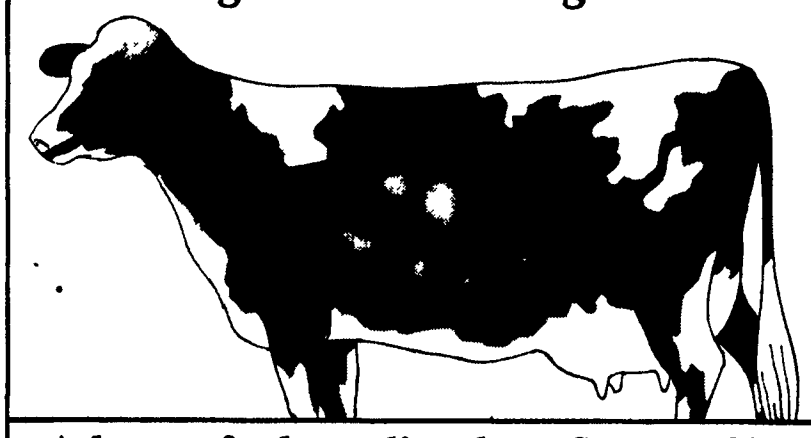
Is too much of your dairy protein breaking down before it gets here?



Ask your feed supplier about SoyPLUS®

SoyPLUS can boost income over feed costs by delivering more undegradable protein to the small intestine, where nutrient absorption really takes place.

SoyPLUS is a richly aromatic, high-energy soybean meal that has been processed in a unique way to increase its level of undegradable (bypass) protein. University research and many 20,000-pound herds are proving that SoyPLUS can significantly increase your return over feed costs.

Green Acres Farm

their attention on getting that 20-cent premium. They may not always get it, says Walter, but that is their constant goal.

General cleanliness is the key to consistently earning quality premiums. That only comes from doing a lot of things right — not just one or two. It's not so much what they do at Green Acres Farm, but how they do it.

The Hopkins farm 500 acres in corn, 250 acres in alfalfa and the rest in double crop rye with corn and small grasses. Their herd of nearly 300 head of registered Holsteins and identifiable grade Holsteins reached a rolling herd average of 19,900 pounds with 780 pounds of butterfat. The milking parlor is a double-six herring bone setup. Total head at Green Acres Farm is nearly 630.

They house 280 cows in a freestall barn built to accomodate a 180-head. That feat takes some manuevering and good management.

"Cows do not lie in the alleys because we feed five times a day and I think that keeps them up and exchanging places," said Walter.

Walter admits there is a price to pay for the overloading and that is extra work to keep the bedding fresh. "But it's worth it to us and we are willing to do that," said Walter. "Because we overload the free stall barn it's important to keep the stalls in top shape. We tend the stalls at least three times a day," said Walter.

The beds are dirt and sloped slightly uphill, because cows prefer to lie uphill. The Hopkins bed with recycled sawdust from a near by horse farm.

Just the words 'recycled sawdust' makes a farmer scratch his head and raise his eyebrows and he questions the wisdom of the farmer who uses recycled bedding of any kind. But with Hopkins quality record, they're doing every thing right.

"It is exceptionally clean and the horse farmer is glad to be rid of it. We load it from piles, bring it here and mix lime in it - 80 pounds of lime per 30 free stalls once a week," explained Walter.

"The sawdust is kiln dried. That's most important no matter how clean the reused bedding might be," said Walter. "The sawdust must be kiln dried."

Bedding can be freshened as often as they like because the bedding is free so there's no thought to costs. Before finding the recycled bedding, Walter was spending as much as $300 a month and sometimes more.

Walter remodeled the barn and parlor in 1976 and added the low line. Automatic takeoffs were installed three years ago along with sprayers. Walter sets the takeoffs to the level of desired dryness. Getting the last drop of milk is not as necessary as keeping the udders in good condition.

"I wanted to improve udder quality and lower our somatic cell count, and keep our milking to a one-man operation. With the system we had before, one man had his hands full and two people had time on their hands," said Walter. "Now we milk 50 cows an hour and they do a good job, too."

Although somatic cell count was not high at Green Acres Farm, pre-dipping was a big step forward, according to Walter. A sprayer at every milker takes the place of the pre-dipping cup. The cup is nothing more than an instrument for spreading disease, Walter strongly believes.

Washing is not a part of the milking preparation. "When we first come up to the cow we use our hands to knock off the excess dirt and take two squirts of milk out of each quarter. I insist on stripping the cows before stimulating them to get that high bacteria milk out before it has the chance to be diluted with the low count milk," said Walter.

An iodine solution is sprayed on teats. It stays on for 30 seconds, and paper towels are used to dry the teats completely.

They don't have many hot quarters since they've been predipping. If they have a hot quarter they find it at milking time. But no matter what time it is, 4 a.m. or 4 p.m. Walter is called immediately and the cow is treated. Out of a 300-head herd, Walter may treat one or two cows a month.

"Minutes are very important when treating a hot quarter," said Walter. "We used to find a hot quarter and call the vet. Vet comes the next day. If I've got a cow with a hot quarter, I put her immediately on a I.V. solution prescribed by our vet." Only Walter or the assistant herdsman is allowed to treat the cows.

Infected cows are milked first because the milking crew is Feeding five times a day keeps the 280 cows moving around so all are comfortable in the 180-cow freestall barn. Bill Hopkins checks the herd of registered and identifiable grade Holsteins at Green Acres Farm. Herd average is 19,914 pounds and butterfat is 788 pounds.

First thing in the morning and the last thing at night — Walter checks the temperature in the milk tank.

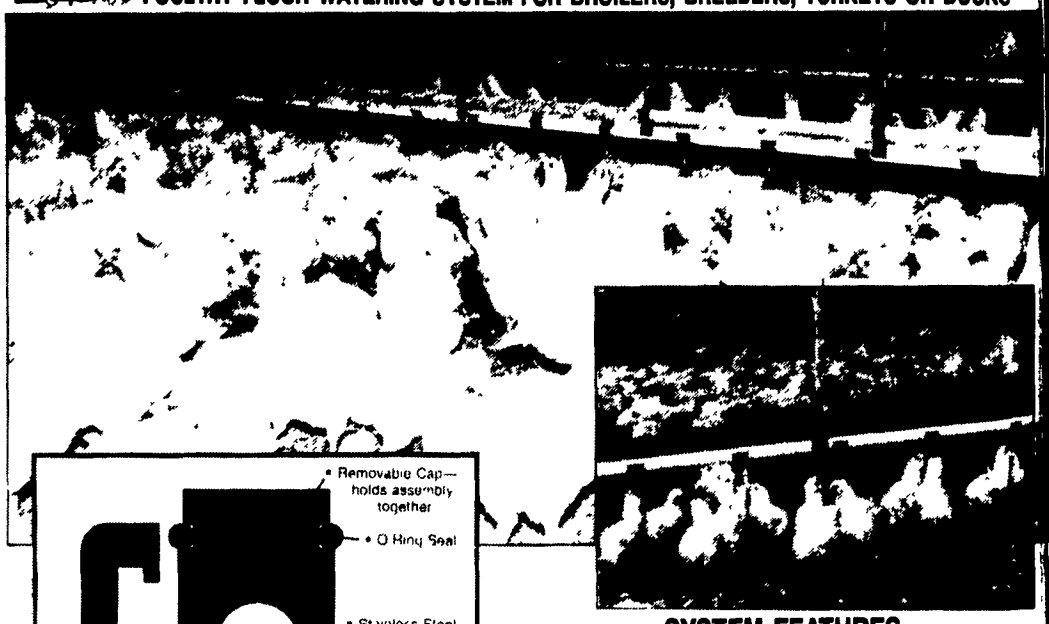
POULTRY FLOOR WATERING SYSTEM FOR BROILERS, BREEDERS, TURKEYS OR DUCKS



• Removable Cap— holds assembly together
• O Ring Seal
• Stainless Steel Ball Shut Off
• Stainless Steel Triple Seal
• Valve Body with Left or Right J Type Connection
• 360° Stainless Steel Trigger Pin
Drinker Assembly Cross-Section
Patented
VAL 1985

SYSTEM FEATURES

- Water is always accessible, and always clean The system is completely enclosed. Nipples are self cleaning, and they do not collect dirt. Since the nipple "washes" every time it is triggered, it does not get clogged by feed or feather dust.
- Drier litter is maintained because of the reliable triple seal and low water pressure. There is less spillage and no squirting with this low pressure (¼ lb. or less) watering system.
- The pressure regulator (30VVR332) can provide and maintain a uniform ¼ lb. pressure for the entire length of a 500 ft ¾ inch plastic water pipe

NIPPLE DRINKER FEATURES

- Day-old birds can activate the valve from any side, any angle (Mini drinkers required only if birds have been debeaked day-old)
- Triple stainless steel valve seat made to precision specifications No rubber seats to replace Drinker operates on low ¼-lb pressure Minimizes wet litter problems
- Each nipple can serve 15 broilers, 10 heavy breeders or 8 turkeys
- Drinker mounts on water line saddle by means of a flange Easy assembly and easy replacement
- New Mini-Trough Drinker available for day old debeaked birds Attaches to Nipple Floor Watering System, and remains through grow-out period There is no need to remove the mini-trough between flocks

HERSHEY EQUIPMENT COMPANY, INC.

"I don't fudge on quality when it comes to cleaning and sanitizing. It's top of the line all the way," said Walter. " I go according to specifications, I also use a higher concentration of chlorine than recommended because of the hardness of the water here. And I think it's pretty cheap insurance. You don't save $15 and lose $900. I think that's called pennywise and dollar foolish. And we use individual paper towels and as many as we have to get the teats dry."

fresher, Walter believes, and less likely to make mistakes. Milkers are always disinfected after milking the infected cows.

"You've got to start with clean cows. Less dirt, debris and bacteria keeps infection out. A good P.I. level starts with condition of the cows and you can't have dirty cows with good standard plate count," said Walter. Cows are clipped once a year, tails and udder are also clipped.

An industrial water heater installed 10 years ago assures Walter they will have a plentiful supply of 180-degree water, 20 degrees hotter than recommended, for a complete wash cycle. The system is sanitized prior to milking.

The Hopkins receive on the average 16 cents/CWT for quality premium. Soaps, detergents, and dips cost them an average of 12 cents/CWT. But that doesn't count the increased production from lower mastitis or the money saved for mastitis treatment not used.

"I don't fudge on quality when it comes to cleaning and sanitizing. It's top of the line all the way," said Walter. " I go according to specifications, I also use a higher concentration of chlorine than recommended because of the hardness of the water here. And I think it's pretty cheap insurance. You don't save $15 and lose $900. I think that's called pennywise and dollar foolish. And we use individual paper towels and as many as we have to get the teats dry."

Also, quick cooling is crucial to maintaining milk quality and Walter continues the tradition his father began. "Before I step into the barn, before I say good morning or anything, I check the temperature in the tank. It's the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night," said Walter.

"If we have any question about the quality of some of our milk, antibiotics or cooling, we don't take any chances. We don't say, "ah, it'll be all right. We dump some milk. It's just not worth it to take any chances. We've got to protect our markets we have. To provide a quality product,"said Walter.

"What we do here is more preventative maintenance," said Walter. "We can do it, too, because we've got good men working for us. I know it's making us money and it's nice to get paid for just doing a good job."

Recycled sawdust used for bedding in their 180-cow freestall barn, allows Walter to keep nearly 280 cows clean and comfortable despite the over capacity. Eighty pounds of lime per 30 stalls and tending beds atleast three times a day keeps beds in a top shape.

"It's nice to get paid for just doing a good job," said Walter,"but the real bonus is in the greater milk production from less mastitis," explained Hopkins. "the amount we receive in increased production is at least, double, if not triple that. The quality premium is extra."

TE YOUR WATERING SYSTEM

Big Dutchman® CAGE WATERING SYSTEM
Mfg. by VAL

O-Ring Seal
Stainless Steel Ball Shut-Off
Stainless Steel Triple Seal
Valve Body with Left or Right J-Type Connection
Bolt Assembly Cross-Section
360° Stainless Steel Trigger Pin
Patent Applied

System Features

- Drier manure pits and greater freedom from leaks because of the triple seal stainless steel valve seat and low pressure operation. Easy triggering and gravity controlled positive closing allow this nipple drinker to supply adequate water at a pressure of ¼-lb. or less.
- Cage rows can be supplied from one end by a closed tank assembly, to a system length of 650 feet. Pressure regulators may be used up to 525 feet.

Drinker Features

- Each nipple can supply adequate water for 12 laying hens.
- Water is available to birds at all times. Positive 360-degree side action makes water accessible from any angle.
- All moving parts of the valve are made of high quality stainless steel
- Triple seal design reduces the possibility of leaks.
- Drinkers snap on the water line and are secured by a "J" connector with no threads.
- Drinker cap holds the entire nipple assembly together. Easy to take apart and reassemble.
- Drinkers are self cleaning. Since they "wash" each time they are triggered, the nipple orifice does not collect feed or dust.
- No rubber seats to replace.

Tractor Fatalities Can Be Prevented

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre) — Farming can be fatal. According to figures from the National Safety Council, the death rate for agricultural workers is 52 for every 100,000 workers -- five times greater than all other industries averaged together. Death certificates and newspaper clippings analyzed by Penn State researchers indicate that tractor-related fatalities account for nearly 50 percent of all farm worker fatalities in Pennsylvania since 1980.

A survey conducted by Dr. Dennis Murphy, associate professor of agricultural engineering, and Michael A. Huizinga, a graduate student in agricultural engineering, show just how dangerous tractor accidents can be. While tractors account for only 5 percent of the injuries received on farms, injuries resulting from tractor accidents are the most severe.

"We think most cases of rollover end in fatalities, even though we're just beginning to see evidence of this," says Murphy.

Ninety percent of tractor fatalities can be prevented, according to Murphy, but these preventive measures are rarely used. "Farmers as a group tend to accept risk as a part of farming," Murphy says. "Or they think accidents are not going to happen to them. Perhaps they've operated a tractor for years without an accident."

The results of Murphy and Huizinga's research show that the vast majority of tractors on Pennsylvania farms are not equipped with a rollover protection structure or a cab with rollover protection. About 70 percent of all tractor-related fatalities involve a rollover. Another 25 percent are related to extra riders and tractor operators falling off moving tractors. Both of these types of accidents could be reduced with the use of tractor cabs, according to Murphy.

Murphy stresses the need for rollover protection. "Cabs with the doors shut are the safest way to go. Not only do they protect if a rollover happens, but they also protect drivers and any riders from being bounced out of seats."

Although cabs provide more protection for everyone, Murphy discourages allowing riders. "There is neither a safe nor convenient place for an extra rider to be. Kids can bump controls or a rider can get in the way of controls, causing even more accidents."

The move to complete rollover protection has been slow. In 1976 the Occupational Safety and Health Administration declared that employees operating farm equipment must be provided rollover protection. This was amended in 1977 to exclude farms with less than 11 employees, eliminating the need for compliance for 90 percent of agricultural operations in the country.

In 1985 tractor manufacturers voluntarily began making rollover protection standard equipment. However, there are few of these tractors on farms. Murphy's survey shows that only 62 percent of these newer tractors have rollover protection. Overall, fewer than 20 percent of all tractors in Pennsylvania have rollover protection.

"most farmers buy used tractors," says Murphy, "which limits the number of 1985 and newer models on farms. In addition, dealers can take the cab off new tractors if farmers claim 'special circumstances,' like orchard or low clearance use."

In 1987, Murphy and Huizinga conducted the state-wide stratified random mail survey of 1200 farms on which the information is based. Eight hundred and twenty responses were received, a 68 percent return rate. These surveys were designed to gather information on farm injuries and related tractor safety issues. Earlier studies showed that in 1975, 14.9 percent of farms had one injury. Murphy and Huizinga discovered that in 1987 there were 13.3 work injuries per 100 farms. The decline rate is so slight that it is not considered significant.

Despite design changes made to tractors and other farm machinery by agricultural engineers and manufacturers, farmers are still at great risk every day they do their job. "Getting farmers to realize that there don't have to be so many risks in farming is difficult," admits Murphy.

SUDAX® Helps You Feed A Family Of Six For Less.
It's not uncommon to carry 6-8 cows per acre when you plant SUDAX® Brand sorghum-sudangrass from DEKALB-PFIZER GENETICS.
Whether you use it for greenchop, haylage or supplemental pasture, SUDAX grows back amazingly fast. In fact, it's possible to cut it 3-4 times in one season.
What's more, SUDAX is higher in protein than coarse-stemmed sorghum-sudangrasses. Feeding trials show that it actually costs less to produce a pound of protein with SUDAX than with many lower-quality brands.
So ask your DEKALB-PFIZER seed dealer or Agway Representative about SUDAX today. And help keep the family's feed costs in line.

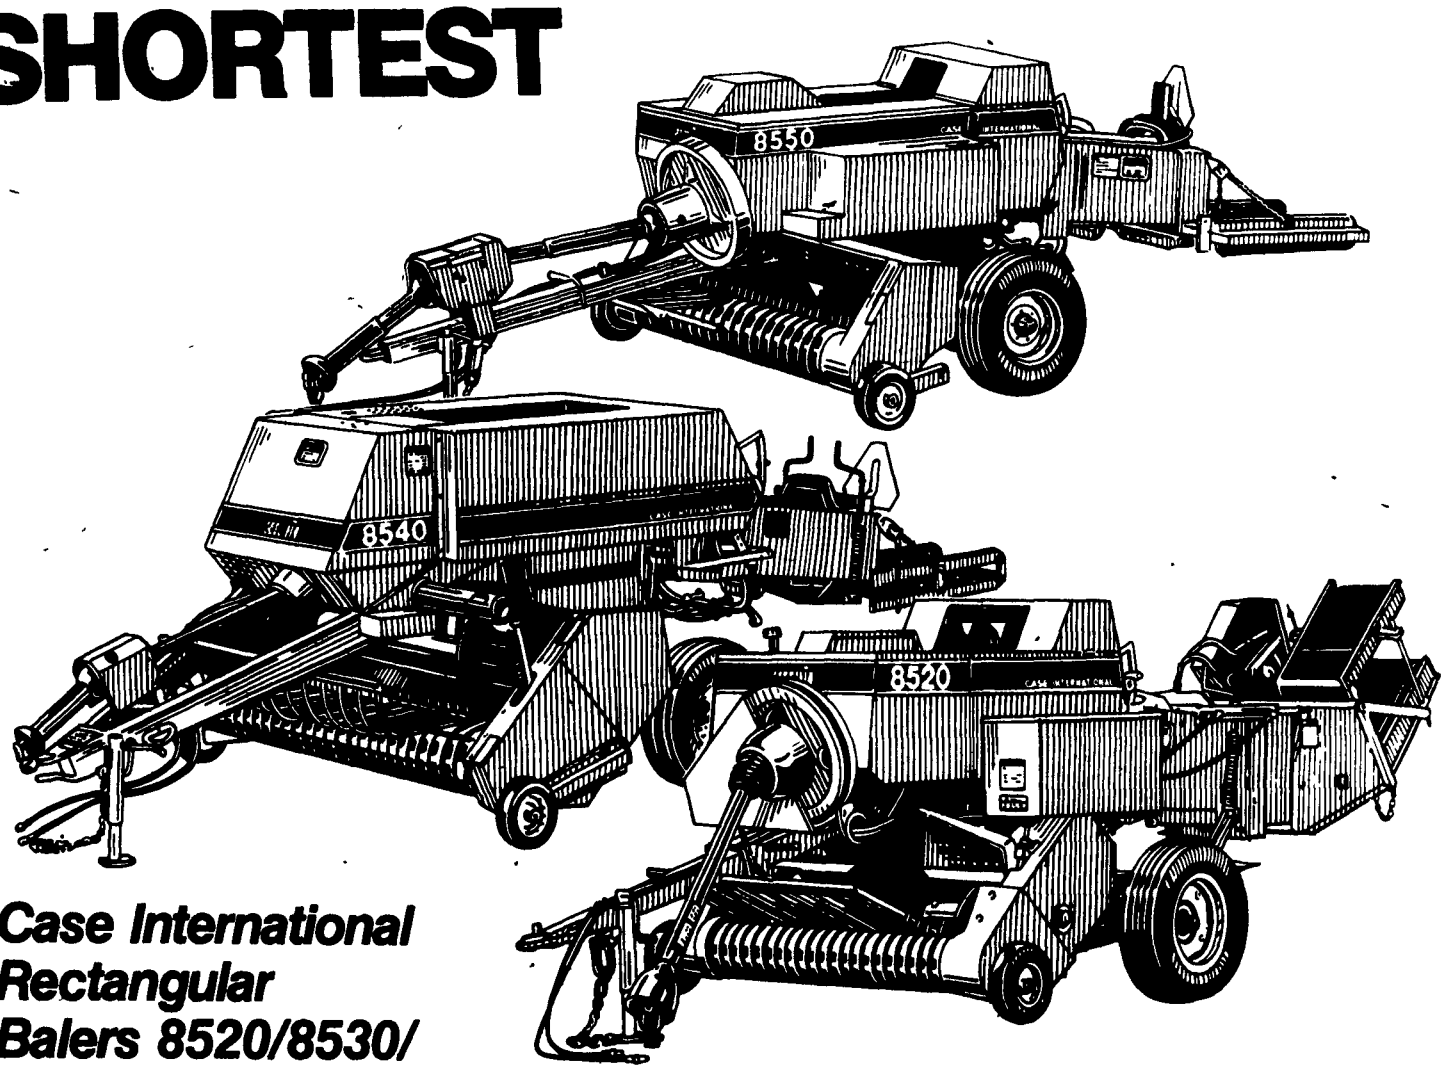
A STRAIGHT LINE IS STILL SHORTEST



Case International Rectangular Balers 8520/8530/ 8540/8550/8580

That's why all five 8500 Series Case IH Rectangular Balers give you center line design. Your hay moves in a straight line from the time it's picked up until it leaves the baler as a tight, uniform bale.

Center line means there are no corners to turn to get crop into the bale chamber as with conventional balers. Nutritious leaves go into the bale, not on the ground. And with the baler directly behind the tractor, it's easy to transport through narrow bridges and gates.

Case IH Rectangular Balers also give you:

- Wide, low-profile pickups collect full, heavy windrows with leaf-saving gentleness because the crop is not lifted as high to get it into the baler
- Prepacker chamber compresses hay into uniform flakes
- Flake size, density and bale size are more uniform
- High-speed, short-stroke plunger to pack bales tighter
- Hydraulic density control (optional on 8540, standard on 8550/8580) to regulate chamber pressure for tighter, square-shouldered bales for easier stacking

Produce tighter, more uniform bales — on schedule.

Development:

The Rutts

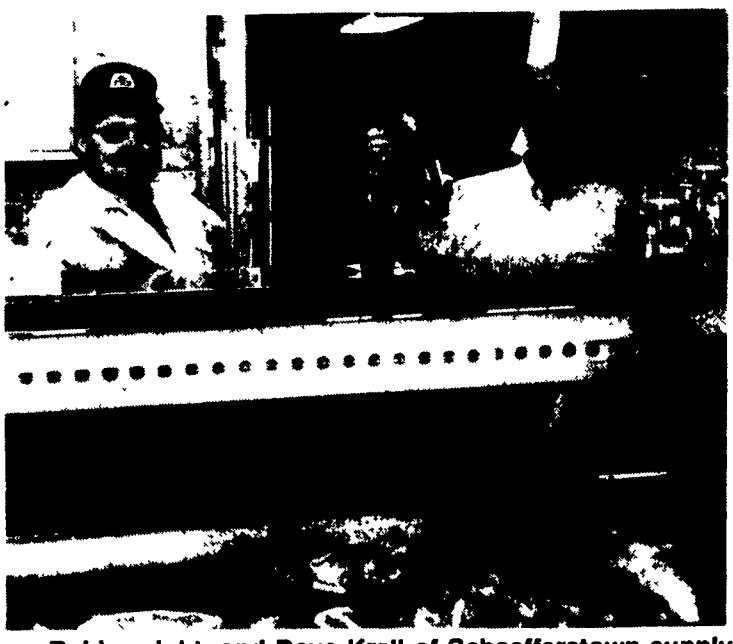
With financial shrewdness and an eye for opportunity, Ken and Connie Rutt of Quarryville found a way to expand their cropland at virtually no cost. At the same time, they have provided financial security for their future.

About 15 years ago the Rutts began speculating in real estate in a small way. They purchased a 40-acre farm and adjoining property. For four years, the land was used to raise cash crops of corn and soybeans, then the farm was sold to another farmer for four times what the Rutts paid. The adjoining land, which contained a meadow and lake, were sold last year.

"We used the money from the sale of the farm to buy the home farm from my father in a tax-free exchange," recalled Rutt.

A couple of years later, in 1980, the Rutts were able to purchase a farm down the road from them. It was a 71-acre property with an abandoned stone house and a barn set in a wooded ravine. A spring ran through the house's basement.

The ravine with stone house and barn beyond Ken Rutt was part of a purchase he made in 1980. He sold the 10-acre tract because it was nonproductive and held onto the tillable land on which he grows corn and soybeans.



Bobby, right, and Dave Krall of Schaefferstown supply meat to southern Lebanon County residents. Dave raises beef cattle many of which he sells as quarters that Bobby has butchered direct to customers.

"We sold the buildings and 10 acres of woodland right away and later sold more woodland that was divided into two building lots and five lots on road frontage," said Rutt. "The sale of the tracts covered the cost of the farm, and we only lost five acres of tillable land."

The premise behind the Rutts' transactions was to find farmland with enough nonproductive land that they could sell to fund their purchases. "That way we were able to increase our financial base and expand our farmland without getting into debt," said Ken.

When considering properties, Ken looks not only for nontillable ground but also buyers for the land he wants to sell. In making the final settlements for property, he arranges the sale of nonproductive land and buildings in the same transaction to minimize sales and transfer taxes.

Buying land and selling off nonfarmland "enables you to pay what people ask and end up with the cropland you want at an affordable price," explained Rutt. "In Lancaster County, you have to do creative things (to buy farmland) or you won't make it."

In another transaction, the Rutts bought a 60-acre property of which they sold 15 acres to Pioneer for an alfalfa test farm and arranged with the transaction to receive all the alfalfa Pioneer grows. After selling off some additional nonproductive road frontage, the Rutts now have more debt-free tillable land.

Lately the Rutts have been investing in residential and commercial properties that they rent out. These properties will help provide income when they leave their 100-cow dairy farm in their son Phil's hands.

A state-appointed member of the Pennsylvania Ag Preservation Board, Rutt believes that most farmers have a certain amount of nonproductive land that they could sell off if they had to. "But I wouldn't want to see people doing it with prime land," he stressed.

Carol Hottenstein straightens asparagus at her market and bakery shop. Originally Carol sold the extra produce from her family garden. Now, with the help of her children and husband, John, she raises 35 acres of produce.

Development:

meat to southern Lebanon County residents for many years. Up until 1976, meat was delivered door to door. About 50 to 60 percent of the beef it sells is raised by Dave Krall, Bobby's son. The remaining beef and all the pork is purchased from area producers.

The butcher shop is a small business that is facing increasing competition from grocery stores and fast food restaurant but even "with all the grocery stores going up around us, we're still holding our own," said Bobby. "We've been increasing slightly over the years."

The growth is due in part to the freezer beef trade that Dave has created. Most of the 70 to 80 head of Angus, Charolais, or Hereford crosses that Dave raises are sold as quarters that have been butchered by Bobby.

The freezer meat is butchered according to customer specification and brought to the customer unfrozen. "People like to see what they are buying," explained Bobby.

"If we had more space and labor, we could sell more quarters," said Dave. But although the demand is there, neither Krall is anxious to get too big. "We're working all the time now, I doubt if we'll get any bigger," commented Dave. "I like being a little operation; it's nice being small.

"I would like, though, to some day build a third stable to feed more cattle," he added.

Dave also is capitalizing on newcomers' desires by starting a sheep flock. "The Pennsylvania Dutch really don't eat lamb, but the people moving in like it," he stated.

Currently he and his wife are building a flock, which he hopes eventually will number about 20-30 ewes. The sheep are Dorsets, which he plans to cross with Polypays. They are being raised on corn and hay, much like Dave's beef cattle are fed.

A certain portion of the shop's trade is from Lancaster Countians. "People are looking for a place like this (shop). They want to pick out their meat and talk to the cutter," said Bobby. "These individuals saw their parents selecting their meats, and they want the same one-to-one contact."

Krall's Meats also attracts consumers who want sausage smoked the old-fashioned way: with wood or corn cob smoke. "It takes longer to smoke, but the flavor is why it's popular in the Pennsylvania Dutch area," Bobby remarked.

The Hottensteins

What began as a little extra produce sold from the family garden has blossomed into a family business for the Hottensteins of Lancaster. Soon after Carol and John Hottenstein were married Carol began selling produce by the roadside. Shortly thereafter, in 1977, increasing demand led her to plant two acres of produce, which she sold on a mostly self-serve basis.

"At this point we began taking (the produce business) seriously and began increasing acreage," Carol said. "Now we're up to 35 acres and six part-time workers."

Originally dairy farmers, the Hottensteins had sold the cows in 1972. They converted the old milk house into a market in 1978 to accommodate their growing business. In addition, they built a broiler house, and John was able to return to full-time farming. He currently divides his time between raising the produce and about 38,000 chickens.

"I began baking in the house in 1984 and made cakes and pies; cookies I bought elsewhere," recalled Carol. Two years later the Hottensteins added a bakery to their market by connecting the old milk house to a former tobacco stripping shed.

Among the products they sell are sweet corn, strawberries, sugar peas, green and yellow beans, cantaloupe, hull peas, broccoli, green peppers, pumpkins, squash, asparagus, lima beans, raspberries, cakes, cookies, pies, quick breads, and bedding plants.

Most of their clientele comes from East Petersburg and Landisville. But, situated near Route 283, a major expressway, the Hottenstein Market and Bakery gets a lot of business from people on their way home from work. "We're in a growing community, but you have to have a good product to get them in," stressed Carol.

She further attributes their growth to good service. "We provide service that most places don't," she explained. "We wait on the customer, help them with plants, and carry their box to their car."

Computerized Concentrate Feeding Pays Off Dairy Operations

NEWARK, DE — The computerized electronic grain feeder is growing in popularity among dairy farmers, according to Dr. George Haenlein, University of Delaware Extension dairy specialist. He says that dairy farmers confronted with lower returns per cow are looking for ways to cut costs and stay in business.

Haenlein and three of his colleagues, Richard Bacon, research associate; Dr. Joachim Elterich, professor in the department of food and resource economics; and James Wolfer, farm superintendent, collaborated on the bulletin "Does Computerized Dairy Concentrate Feeding Pay?" to offer dairy operators an objective way to evaluate computerized feeding systems.

The bulletin compares free-access feeding of concentrates to the computerized system and covers break-even analysis and annual budgeting costs and returns. It also contains six tables that aid in the analysis of using a computerized feeding system.

"It is likely that farmers with other livestock, including beef, creepfeeding lambs, nursing ewes, veal calves and dairy goats, will soon find electronic feeders a more profitable alternative to traditional feeding programs," Haenlein says.

Copies of the bulletin are available from: Dr. George Haenlein, Dept. of Animal Science, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19717-1303.

Morrisville Students Take National Honors

The Morrisville College dairy judging team won its first-ever national championship last month at the National Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture competition in Mattoon, Illinois. The team beat out junior-college teams from seven states, and even scored higher than all but the champion four-year college, Sam Houston University.

Members of the team, all of whom are studying dairy science, include (front row, left to right) Jeff Love, a freshman from Gouverneur, New York; Bruce Koningisor, a freshman from Cattaraugus, New York; Keith DeMun, a senior from Troupsburg, New York; (back row) team advisor, Associate Professor Jim Curtis; Adam Sonnen, a freshman from Richland, Pennsylvania; and Gleason Wally, a senior from Walton, New York. The college's agricultural mechanics team finished fourth at the same competition.

Joy Sparks, Biggs' photo was one of three selected at the 1988 Delaware State Fair to represent the First State in the national exhibit. "The judges for the 4-H photography category look for three or four photos that they feel display exceptional quality and that are also a little unusual," Sparks says. "The pose of the striped kitten really reminds you of a tiger on the prowl."

In addition to the photos from 4-H, which is the youth branch of Cooperative Extension, the joint exhibit includes 50 photos chosen by the Soviets from pictures submitted by members of the Pioneers, a national youth organization in the U.S.S.R.

The traveling exhibit was on display in the Soviet Union and at Eastman Kodak headquarters in Rochester, N.Y., in May. It will be exhibited this fall at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md. Portions of the exhibit may be scheduled for national, regional and county events upon request by county or state 4-H offices.

The selection of "A Tiny Tiger" for the exhibit came as a surprise to Biggs, a member of the Viola Fireflies 4-H club since 1979. He became interested in photography about four years ago and has worked on his 4-H photography project for just two years.

He took the winning picture with a 33 mm camera while lying down in the grass at the kitten's level. "I focused in on the kitten and left the surroundings alone," he says. "I hope people who look at the photo see the sparkle and warmth that I saw before I took the picture."

Biggs enjoys practicing and improving his photography skills and sharing his photos with others. He was proud to know that his picture would be viewed by people in the Soviet Union.

And what message does he hope others will find in "A Tiny Tiger"? Biggs says the photo offers a different perspective on life compared to many photos that emphasize the negative. Even though the kitten looks like a prowling tiger, the picture is not threatening or violent.

"People are tired of seeing bad things happen," Biggs says. "I hope this picture grabs people's attention in a different, more positive way. You can look at it and have a feeling of warmth--there's something friendly about it."

Biggs, a 1989 graduate of Lake Forest High School, plans to pursue his interest in photography after 4-H. He'll take his camera along this August when he starts a two-year program at Valley Forge Military Academy in Pennsylvania.

Wadel Bull Goes To ABS

DeFOREST, WI. — American Breeders Service has selected a young Holstein bull, Wa-Del Royal Boy-ET to enter their Progeny Testing Program. He was bred by Rick L. Wadel, of Shippensburg, Pennsylvania. He is sired by Lekker Valiant Royalty and from Nor-Vi Valor Zada (VG-88). This high testing daughter of Sir C Valor produced over 1200 lbs. of fat as a Sr. three-year-old (365 days, 2x milking) and has a lifetime fat average of 4.5%. In turn, her dam is a VG daughter of Lime-Hollow Elevation Mars with consistent 4% fat test and records of 912 lbs. of fat. Royal Boy combines many popular ABS sires close-up in his pedigree. He has two crosses to Valiant, one to Mars and one to Mowry Imperial Knight, the maternal grandsire of Royalty.

Wa-Del Royal Boy-ET joins over 200 other young Holstein bulls being tested this year through the ABS testing program. After a four-year wait, his progeny will be evaluated and a decision made as to whether or not he qualifies to join the elite line-up of ABS proven sires.

Education Is A Big Part Of Veal Convention

BY PAT PURCELL

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Education was a big part of the 1989 American Veal Association Convention held in Lancaster June 12 through June 14. Veterinarians and other industry specialists discussed profitable ways to improve calf health and environment.

Naval Infections

Cutting costs, and time and labor input through improved health were the common goals of health seminars conducted by Dick Sommer, VMD from Indiana; John Wagner, VMD of Michigan and Dan Meyer, Ag Engineer of Penn State University.

Sommer urged veal farmers to pay more attention to naval infections. Naval infections can lead to health problems throughout the animal's life cycle.

Sommer listed some do's and don'ts. Veal farmers should not remove the umbilical cord. They should check carefully for naval infections and hernias. Ten to twenty percent of the calves have hernias. Infected navals are swollen, hot and sore. A hernia is soft and pliable but will appear swollen.

Farmers should be concnerned about infections here because the umbilical cord is actually four structures within one with the possibility of infections in all four structures. It is important for the naval to close up quickly. Infection from the naval has a short distance to travel to cause damage. Infections should be immediately treated with penicillin and can be flushed with peroxide.

Selenium Deficiencies

Areas of the country, such as the Great Lakes region, which are naturally deficient in selenium, produce calves which may be selenium deficient, according to Sommers. The proper balance of selenium and vitamin E is critical to the immune response and can prevent many health problems.

Care must be exercised when giving selenium and vitamin E. While a little is very good, too much can be toxic. Sommer cautioned farmers on two products which are similar, MU-SE and BO-SE. Both should not be on the farm at the same time because MU-SE is five times the strength of BO-SE and Sommer said it is too easy for a rushed employee or owner to make a mistake, a big mistake.

If a deficiency is suspected, have the veterinarian do blood tests.

Vaccinations

For those veal farmers not using vaccines, but are considering it, Sommer warns that not all vaccines are the same and the cheapest is not necessarily the best.

"Vaccines produce healthier and more productive calves. If you are not vaccinating for BVD, you may not have a problem now, but I believe you are heading for potential disaster," said Sommer. "It will catch up with you."

Water Tested

"Have your water analyzed. You may be surprised at what you are feeding," said Sommer.

There is probably nothing more beneficial to a calf than fresh water given frequently in timely and sufficient amounts. Calves must be given water immediately when they enter the barn. Summer months is extremely critical.

Less Stress-More Profit

Stress in veal calves is a subject that cannot be overdone, according to Dr. Wagner. Stress robs calves of their good health and, in return, robs the veal farmer of a healthy profit.

Structures must be sanitized between calves and that means steam cleaning not spraying cold water on the calf cribs.

"Bring the animal to a clean structure and immediately offer him 16 pounds of 105 degree water," said Wagner.

The calf's internal temperature is 104 degrees and the calf will use energy to warm that water. Wagner suggests force feeding the calves water. Calves are probably close to dehydration by the time they reach their destination. The calves may have gone without food and water for several hours since leaving their previous home.

Sufficient amounts of water will encourage the calf to urinate and defecate, before going to sleep.

"The survival rate will be much greater if you force feed water to calves," said Wagner.

Sommer and Wagner stressed that detailed records must be kept both by the veterinarian and the farmer on all facets of animal care.

Manure Management

Mitch Woodward, nutrient specialist formerlly of Lancaster County and presently working in Maryland, told farmers that 28 million tons manure are produced in Pennsylvania each year. Pennsylvania, like many other rural areas in the country, is experiencing ground water problems.

Sixty-five percent of the rural wells sampled in Pennsylvania failed at least one of the EPA standards, said Woodward. The problem is how to maintain profitability in the ag sector while protecting the environment.

In an extensive farm nutrient management analysis of 86 farms in the Lancaster County area, totaling 5,850 acres, manure applications were cut without any reduction in corp yields for a total savings of $19.30 per acre.

"That's good for the farmer's pocketbook and for water quality," said Woodward. "We've got to clean up our own shop before someone without the knowledge comes in to regulate us."

Ventilation In Veal Barns

Drafts and high humidity causes health problems in veal calves. Dan Meyer, ag engineer from Penn State University, showed veal producers how to improve their profit margin by improving ventilation.

Meyer has worked for six years visiting nearly 90 veal farms. Portable and low-cost air quality equipment is available. This equipment enables the veal farmer to monitor air quality quickly and accurately. The right ventilation improvement can greatly benefit animal health. So much so that in one-year's time, according to Meyer, the improvement will pay for itself through less calf mortality, and less medication, time and manpower.

Meyer has devised a plan which tells the farmer how much he can afford to spend on ventilation based on how much money he will save with the improvements. Ventilation changes can increase producers small margin of profit by decreasing mortality rate and increasing feed conversion.

Only good records can provide the producer with necessary data to make accurate judgments. The farmer first needs to know where he is before he can know where he wants to go. To do their best, calves need a clean, dry, draft-free and sanitary environment.

Meyer travels the East Coast and throughout the Mid-West visiting farms and helping farmers solve their ventilation problems. Meyer can be reached at: (814) 865-7685.

Veal Quality Assured

Dr. Clyde Smith, professor emeritus of Ohio State University, discussed the veal quality assurance program. The program will be a nationwide cooperative effort between veal farmers and government agencies.

Under the voluntary program, veal producers will follow established standardized procedures designed to meet or exceed government standards. Part of the program is a strict adherence to animal health procedures which includes the maintenance of complete and accurate records both by the veal producer and the tending veterinarian.

Under the quality assurance guidelines, veal farmers will assure that all feed additives and medications will be used in an established verterinarian-client-patient relationship. This procedure will assure that all additives are withdrawn in compliance with current practices to avoid possible violative residues.

According to Smith, all records of the formula fed and the individual treatments will be maintained by the veal farmer for a period of 90 days after the calf is marketed.

Dr. Clyde Smith and Barbara Huffman

National Veal Producers

paragraphs is published as follows: "To discuss the anemia issue, it is essential to note that anemia reflects low blood hemoglobin levels. It is muscle myoglobin, not blood hemoglobin, that affects the color of the meat. Modern veal producers provide sufficient amounts of iron in the diet to be used for blood hemoglobin, but control the iron carefully so that it is not used for muscle myoglobin."

Huffman said that while veal calves are raised in individual housing, they enjoy controlled environmental conditions, can interact with each other, can groom themselves and assume a normal postural adjustment. In addition, each calf does not need to compete for feed.

The American Medical Veterinarian Assn. supports the current modern veal production methods and affirms that confinement rearing of veal calves offers some unique advantages for the animal.

THE OTHER SIDE

A part-time veal producer in the other camp provided the animal rights group with a special champion of their cause. Roy Malik, Oley, Berks County, said a little more than a year ago he was in a restaurant in the Boyertown area that advertised that they did not serve veal because of what they said was the inhumane way veal calves were treated. Malik said he got the idea to talk to the owners and told them he would offer them veal that is not raised in crates. At the time, Malik was raising goats. So he fed the goats' milk to the veal calves and supplemented it with a non-antibotic, completely medicated-free special milk replacer from California.

Now, along with a 4-H student, Malik keeps about 12 to 18 calves at a time, gives them all the milk they want twice a day. "They are housed in a pen the size of half a motel room and allowed to run free on a three acre lot.

Malik said his only mortality cases were several calves that were nearly dead when he got them from his source. He gets his calves from three farms that have contracts to sell him any calf they do not want for a flat $100 per Holstein calf. He does not buy calves from a stockyards.

Roy Malik

He admits his operation has been non-profit for 1988 and says the problem has been to find restaurants that will take all cuts of veal from the calf. "If a calf had 200 rib tops I would be happy," Malik said. "But since they only have 12 ribs you can only get so many cuts."

Malik has better hopes for 1989 as he now has found a restaurant that will contract with him to take all the meat from the calf.

The calves are grown and ready to slaughter at 15 to 18 weeks. The meat is rosy in color as opposed to conventional white meat. One calf is dressed every other week that weighs from 176 to 200 lbs..

"My customers say the product has an excellent flavor," Malik said. "And the texture, while different from conventional veal, can still be cut with a fork.

Malik has a full-time job as a milk inspector for the Pennsylvania Department of Agricluture in the Bureau of Food and Chemistry.

LANCASTER VEAL FARM

A Lancaster County veal farm opened for media inspection as part of the national convention program is definitely a profit making operation. This operation feeds 300 calves in three different age groups to have an even flow of calves for the market. The pens are 26 inches wide, the calves are not tied, and they turn around at will. The floor is made of coated rubber meshing for calf comfort and the feed is non-medicated after a starter ration is completed. While iron is monitored in the calf to be sure it doesn't receive too much iron from, for example the water source, at the same time the calf is never allowed to have "iron poor blood."

The clean modern building is lighted 24 hours per day from windows and a dusk to dawn system that keeps lights on all night. A ventilation system features evaporative cooling so that even on a hot summer day, the temperature will be 10 degrees cooler in the barn than outside.

The barn is clean, smells fresh and features a manure scrape system under the pens that is used two times per week.

The Lancaster veal grower says in his system the calves can move around enough that they lose no locomotion capability. The calves move briskly out the pathways to the truck when they are ready for market.

He could not envision the idea that his calves would need to be dragged onto the truck from the stall because they had been so immobile during their growing period that they could not walk. "When I load the calves to go to market, they are frisky and run down the aisles," the Lancaster veal farmer said. "I don't believe the calves housed in my pens lose any locomotion at all."

QUALITY ASSURANCE

To answer the complaints that antibiotics in a few cases have been detectable in the meat, AVA announced plans to begin a nationwide producer quality assurance program to be sure veal meat is produced in a safe and wholesome manner.

The program includes a series of initiatives and will be a cooperative effort between the veal farmer and government agencies according to Dr. Clyde Smith, professor emeritus of veterinary science, Ohio State, who will direct the program.

"Veal farmers already produce a nutritious and wholesome product for the consumer," Smith said. "This quality assurance program will create a standardized program for all producers to follow that will outline the exact steps to be taken so that veal will exceed government standards for wholesomeness and the prevention of accidental residues."

Under the guidelines of the program, veal farmers will agree to follow established production procedures. In calf husbandry practices, farmers will certify that the veal calves are raised under standards equivalent to or exceeding the standards of AVA.

All records of the formula fed and the individual treatments will be maintained by the veal farmer for a period of 90 days after the calf is marketed. "Should unacceptable levels of residues be found in any of the calves submitted for market, the appropriate records will be made available to government personnel to help find the source and cause of the problem," Smith said. "The Quality Assurance Program will further enhance the image and safety of veal products."

division called the PFA Marketing Cooperative.

PFA is a voluntary, statewide farm organization representing over 23,000 families in 54 county associations.

PFA Administrative Secretary Richard Newpher said the sale will enable the marketing service, which conducted $22 million in business last year, to continue to evolve through private funding and flexibility to meet the growing needs of the agricultural community. PACMA, Inc. will not be affiliated with PFA.

Michael Orndorff, president of PACMA, Inc., said the new operation will offer clients a number of marketing services including cash and forward pricing of grain and livestock, futures hedging, feedstuff sales and market advice. These services will no longer be offered by PFA. Newpher said PFA members seeking marketing services will be referred to PACMA, Inc. which will be located at 475 E. High Street, Palmyra.

Eastern Elects New Local Officers

SYRACUSE, NY — The West Branch local of Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc. held its local annual meeting on April 1, 1989, electing new officers to represent the cooperative's dairy farmers in this area.

Officer's elected were President Kenneth Snyder, Cogan Station, Vice President John Carpenter, Linden, Secretary/Treasurer Wanda Derr, Cogan Station. The local also elected a delegate, Paul Katzmair, and an alternate delegate, Bruce Bartley of Cogan Station, to represent the local at Cooperative business meetings at their Syracuse headquarters.

Other business conducted during the local meeting included a discussion of district activities by Director Dale Paulhamus.

Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative is the largest milk marketing and bargaining cooperative in the Northeast, with over 3000 members making up 115 locals throughout Pennsylvania, New York, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware.

FARM MANAGEMENT

Do You Have An Estate Plan?

By Alan W. Strock
Farm Management Agent/
Chester and Lancaster counties

Did you know that every Pennsylvania citizen has a will? Their will is either their personal, private written will or the generic will that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania dictates.

Most likely if you would die without a will, that is to die INTESTATE, your estate WOULD NOT be distributed the way you would have liked or intended. That is why every adult in Pennsylvania, and especially farmers, needs a will and an accompanying estate plan to distribute their estate to their heirs, friends, charitable organizations, and others according to their wishes.

The Commonwealth has contingency plans to fit every circumstance that your estate may present. For example, did you know that if a spouse dies the entire estate does not automatically transfer to the remaining spouse? The share the remaining spouse would receive depends upon the following circumstances:

1. Only if no children, grandchildren, or parents of the deceased survive will the surviving spouse receive the entire estate.

2. If there are natural children, natural grandchildren, of the deceased and the surviving spouse, or a surviving parent or parents of the deceased. THEN the surviving spouse receives the first $30,000 of the estate plus one half of the remaining estate balance.

3. If one or more surviving children or grandchildren are NOT children or grandchildren of the deceased and the surviving spouse, (that is the spouse is divorced and remarried probably), then the surviving spouse receives one-half of the entire estate.

The State also has specific plans for your estate distribution when:

1. No children or grandchildren survive but a parent or parents of the deceased survive.

2. There are no surviving children or grandchildren, or parent(s), but the deceased has surviving brother(s), sister(s), nephew(s), niece(s), grandnephew(s), and/or grandniece(s).

3. There are no surviving children or grandchildren, parent(s), brother(s), sister(s), nephew(s), niece(s), grandnephew(s), or grandniece(s), but the deceased was survived by their grandparent(s).

4. There are no surviving children or grandchildren, parent(s), brother(s), sister(s), nephew(s), niece(s), grandnephew(s), or grandniece(s), or grandparent(s), but has surviving uncle(s), aunt(s), or cousin(s).

5. There are no surviving children or grandchildren, parent(s), brother(s), sister(s), nephew(s), niece(s), grandnephew(s), or grandniece(s), or grandparent(s), uncle(s), aunt(s) our cousin(s), but has children of the deceased's cousin(s) that survived them.

6. There are no surviving children or grandchildren, parent(s), brother(s), sister(s), nephew(s), niece(s), grandnephew(s), grandniece(s), grandparent(s), uncle(s), aunt(s), cousin(s) or children of the deceased's cousin(s).

THEN the ENTIRE ESTATE PASSES TO THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

So as you can see the COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA is vitally interested in your estate plan. BUT, unfortunately don't let them do YOUR planning for YOU.

Some difficult questions you may want your estate plan to address are: How to treat my children equally and/or fairly? How do I treat the non-farm children? Can my offspring afford to purchase the farm? How can I lower my Federal estate and gift and Pennsylvania Inheritance taxes? Can I use a trust or a living trust? Who do I select as the guardian for my children? What estate planning tools are available? What is the role of insurance in my plan? Also, be sure to not let these difficult questions STOP you from planning the distribution of your estate.

Remember you have many many tools available to help plan your estate such as: different ownership methods, last will and testament, trusts, special farmland use evaluation for both federal and state purposes, gifting, partnerships and corporations, to name a few.

So, do yourself and your heirs a favor and visit your accountant, lawyer, local county agent, insurance agent or other estate planning professional and start planning, or reviewing your present plan, TODAY, tomorrow may be too late.

WESTFALIA HIGH-TECH DAIRYING

Whether you milk in a parlor or a stanchion barn,

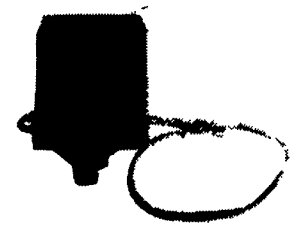
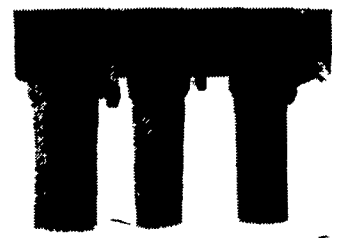
PARLOR MILKING SYSTEMS
Westfalia parlor milking systems — from the minute your cows enter the parlor to the moment they leave, nothing but efficient, cost-effective milking.

STANCHION BARN MILKING SYSTEMS
A product of innovative research and common-sense engineering. Westfalia stanchion barn milking systems are a favorite of smart-minded dairy.



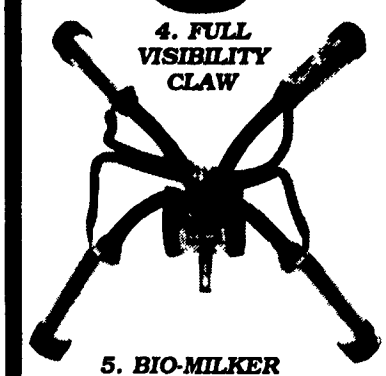
7. AUTOTRONIC

3. VACUPULS



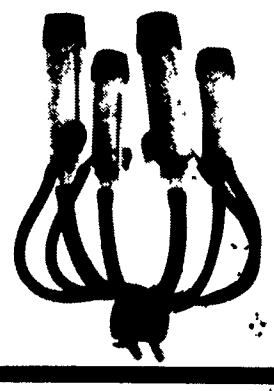
8. DELUXE WASHER

4. FULL VISIBILITY CLAW



9. ECONOMY WASHER

5. BIO-MILKER



10. STIMOPULS C

1. FULL MOUNTED RECEIVER
Stainless steel pipeline receiver package in 2", 2½ " or 3" size. Heavy-duty design includes electric control and magnetic starter to handle up to 2 H.P. pumps.

2. WALL MOUNTED RECEIVER
Some high-quality features as the floor mounted receiver with the added benefit of wall mounting. Excellent for installing Lo-line, Mid-line or Hi-line pipeline systems.

3. VACUPULS
Pneumatic pulsation at its best. Highly reliable, this non-electric unit can be used with any type milking system Available with milk-to-rest ratios of 67 33, 60.40 and 50.50.

4. FULL VISIBILITY CLAW
This no-nonsense milker features a large inflation inlet and milk outlet for maximum output. Optional vacuum shut-off valve is also available

5. BIO-MILKER
Specially designed to regulate your milking operation, this positive pulsed air bleed milker assures harmony between udder and cluster. Milks with lower vacuum levels even in stanchion barns with a high milk line

6. RPS 2800 VACUUM PUMP
This precision built, high capacity vacuum pump is built to last From 32 through 200 CFM (ASME) vacuum delivery meets any installation challenge, and cast iron body construction assures long life. Free Ice Cream Benefit

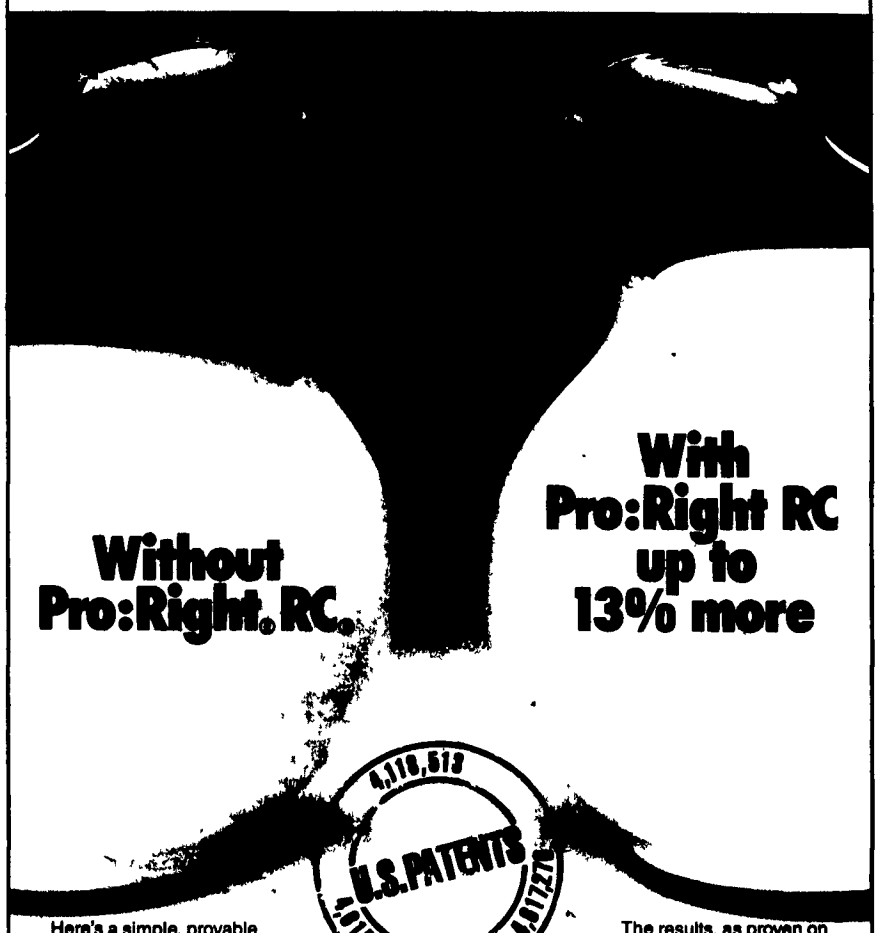
PHILADELPHIA — Ice Cream emperors will abound as hundreds of gallons of ice cream and ice cream novelties are scooped up, FREE. The Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Association (MAMMA) will sponsor the third annual "Everyday is Sundae" ice cream giveaway on Wednesday, June 21, from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. with the raindate on June 22, at the same time. The event is at the fountain area in front of the Judge Lewis Quadrangle Square at Independence Mall.

As poet Wallace Stevens said, "The only emperor is the emperor of ice cream," and ice cream manufacturers are bringing enough ice cream to feed Philadelphia's ice cream emperors, young and old. Featured ice cream will include: Bassetts, Ben & Jerry's, Chambord, Friendly's, Green's Dairy, Haagen-Dazs, Harbisson's Dairy, Jack & Jill, Kraft Dairy Group, Richman and Turkey Hill.

Children will also enjoy stories read by The Read Together Coalition, a group of Philadelphia agencies that promote literacy. Handout literature will be available on the site. In addition, see the antics of the Philly Phanatic, be photographed with the 2000-pound Turkey Hill Cow, Breyers' hot air balloon or Jack & Jill's old fashioned ice cream truck. Hand crank homemade ice cream and get some tips from Friendly's Ice Cream Chef. Batman the D.J. and Bobo the clown will be on hand giving out frisbees and MAMMA balloons. While Ron Geoffries will entertain you with his walking magic tricks.

Agway Supports June Dairy Month



Here's a simple, provable truth for the dairy farmer who wants to improve his income. Patented Pro:Right RC can give you more milk from the grain fed. And that means higher profits.

It's a question of balance. Pro Right RC increases dairy feeding efficiency by regulating the types and amounts of carbohydrates and protein in a cow's ration. It works for all forage programs.

Only Agway has it.

The results, as proven on farms like yours, and at the Agway Farm Research Center, are increased feed efficiency up to 10%, and increased milk production up to 13%. You can measure the difference in your bulk tank and your milk check.

Regardless of what some other feed companies may tell you, only Agway has Pro·Right RC, with its patented formulation process to help you get more milk per feed dollar.

Working for people who work the land.

Cumberland Farm Tour Next Saturday

CARLISLE (Cumberland Co.) — The Cumberland County Farmers' Association is sponsoring a Free Farm Tour at Leo's Dairy, Holly Pike, Carlisle, Saturday June 24, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

The day's activities will include registration for door prizes, a tour of the fields by hayride, inspection of the dairy barn and milk house, and a walk thru the processing plant. As you complete the walking tour, you may visit the exhibit tent where you will be offered free samples of milk, ice cream, and various meat products by the Cumberland County Dairy Princess and various commodity Queens.

Leo's Dairy Farm owned and operated by the Leonard Leo family, includes 510 acres planted mostly in corn for feed. Approximately 250 cows are milked daily in the automated milking parlor, which is capable of milking 70 cows per hour.

Adjacent to the dairy operation is the store where customers can purchase processed farm fresh milk, ice cream and other dairy products.

This event is sponsored by the farmers' association to help promote and show the public all the different agricultural products produced in Cumberland County.

$3250 Top At New Holland Heifer Sale

A scene from the Registered Holstein Heifer Sale at New Holland Sales Stables last Saturday. The high selling heifer was the daughter of the 2E 91 EEEE Poverty-Hollow Margaret-ET cow pictured on the cover of the catalogue. Consigned by Stonehurst Farms, Strasburg, the bred heifer sold for $3250 to Mark Hassler, Fleetwood. Both the 2nd and 3rd dams were also 2E, one at 92-GMD EEEE and the other 94-GMD. Sire of the heifer was Mel-Est Valiant Irose Melvin. Milk production on the dam was up to 36580m 3.9% 1434f.

Second high selling price was $2900 for another heifer with both the dam and granddam EX consigned by Stonehurst. Bred for fall freshening, this Hanover-Hill Triple Treat-Red daughter sold to Henry Kettering, Lancaster. Milk records on the dam went up to 31020m 3.3% 1029.

Third high price was $1650 on an Astronaut daughter consigned by Norman Kolb, Lancaster. The dam of the home bred heifer had records to 28,000m and 889f.

Abe Diffenbach was the auctioneer. Henry Kettering read pedigrees.

Sire Power Adds Two Program Consultants

TUNKHANNOCK (Wyoming) — William Hageman, II, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and Michael Swartley, Wysox, Pennsylvania, have joined the sire department staff as Sire Programs Consultants, according to J. Lloyd Ebersole, Director of Sire Programs and Assistant Manager at Sire Power, Inc.

The primary responsibility of the sire programs consultant position is the evaluation of herds in Sire Power's marketing area which are enrolled in LAMP, the Linear Appraisal and Mating Program. In addition, these consultants assist in gathering linear type information on bulls graduating from the GOLD Young Sire Development Program.

Bill Hageman attended the University of Wisconsin-Madison where he received both his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in Dairy Science. While in school, Bill was a member of the Badger Dairy Club, Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity and Gamma Sigma Delta. He was the recipient of the 1986 Kildee Scholarship and placed third in Dairy Shrine's Student Recognition Contest.

As a member of the UW-Madison dairy judging team, Bill placed fifth overall at the 1985 National Intercollegiate Contest. His team placed first overall and first in oral reasons. He has since served as an assistant coach for the team.

Bill has assisted with the management of his family's farm, Hageman Holsteins, particularly with sire selection and show string supervision. He also was employed for one summer as a herdsman at American Genetics, Inc., in Wisconsin. While there, Bill was involved in the management and daily care of the milking herd and donor cow operation, as well as promotion of the entire herd. Additionally, Bill participated in 4-H and the Wisconsin Junior

Michael Swartley

Holstein Association. Bill and his wife Kelly have relocated to Tunkhannock, Pennsylvania.

Mike Swartley graduated with honors from Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Dairy Science. He competed in several dairy judging contests and placed twelfth overall at the 1987 National Intercollegiate Contest. Mike received a Delaware Valley College grant award and was also a recipient of one of the first scholarships presented by Sire Power's Northeast Sales Division to students residing in the sales area. While in school, Mike also worked for Browning Ferris Industries as a maintenance assistant.

Mike has been involved in all aspects of his family's Holstein operation, with his main areas of concentration being herd health, sire selection, record keeping, and milking. Prior to attending college, Mike was employed for three years as a full-time herdsman at the Bradford County, Pennsylvania farm of Roe Russell, Jr. At this 125-cow Holstein herd, his management responsibilities included sire selection and herd health. Mike has also relocated to the Tunkhannock, Pennsylvania area.

Pen-Col Bull Goes To ABS

DEFOREST, Wi. — American Breeders Service has selected a young Holstein bull, Pen-Col Desirable-ET to enter their Progeny Testing Program. He was bred by Pen-Col Farms, of Millville, Pennsylvania. He is sired by Browncroft Jetson and his dam is a Bell daughter, Pen-Col Bell Dream VG. This Bell daughter produced 27,950 pounds of 3.8% milk in 305 days, 2x, calving at 2 years and 2 months of age. Her dam is an 87-point Conductor daughter with records to 27,000 pounds 4.2% milk. Bell Dream has already produced several very fine daughters.

Pen-Col Desirable-ET has one of the highest pedigree indexes for production of any bull progeny tested by ABS this year. After a four-year wait, his daughters will be evaluated and a decision made as to whether or not he qualifies to join the elite line-up of ABS proven sires.

Garber Wins National Junior Production Award

COLUMBUS, OH — Janice Garber of Willow Street, Pennsylvania, was the recipient of a junior production award presentation at the American Guernsey Association (AGA) national convention on May 21, in Rochester, New York.

These awards are presented to junior members whose animals ranked in the top five for milk, butterfat and protein production. Animals must have been owned by the applicant prior to the date of calving and at the completion of the lactation for which records were submitted. All records were judged on a 305-day, two-time, mature-equivalent basis (305D-2X-ME). Only official DHI and DHIR records made during the calendar year of 1988 are cligible. There are two divisions, individual and a group of three cows.

Garber, the daughter of Ken and Thelma Garber, placed fifth in the butterfat production category with her group of three cows. The three cows, Willows Admiral Doll, Willows Fayette Toshya and Willows B Tex Velvet had a combined ME average of 18,355M 847F 598P.

This contest is sponsored by the AGA and funded by the Youth Fund. The AGA was established for the registration and promotion of the Guernsey breed. For photos or more information contact AGA Information Director Cheri Shroer, 7614 Slate Ridge Blvd., P.O. Box 666, Reynoldsburg, Ohio 43068 or (614) 864-2409.

Dairy Night At The Buck

Dairy night at the Buck Tractor Pull in Lancaster County was held last Saturday night. Sponsored by Show-Ease Stall Company, Julie Greider, the 1988 Lancaster County Dairy Princess, and two of the three Lancaster County contestants for 1989 were on hand to represent the dairy industry. In the photo, Diane Hershberger, Quarryville, (left) and Nicki Wivell, Elizabethtown, pose with a muscle tractor while the dairy princess takes the wheel. Angie Spickler, Mt. Joy, was on a graduation trip.

Free milk was provided by the following dairies: Kreider's Restaurant, Manheim; Mapleholf Dairy, Quarryville, Oregon Dairy, Leola and Pine View Dairy, New Danville.

Bring Alfalfa Disease Problems To Landisville

LANDISVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — Many alfalfa diseases have been detected in southeastern Pennsylvania in the last few weeks. The incidence of these diseases have been enhanced by the excessive rain we have been having.

If you are having disease problems with your alfalfa, bring your questions (and plant samples) to the Landisville Field Day, Wednesday, June 21 at the Penn State Southeastern Field Research Laboratory. Dr. Kenneth Leath, USDA Plant Pathologist will be one of the speakers and will be discussing forage diseases, their impact on production, quality and stand life, and how to manage diseases.

Other topics will include small grain management and variety selection, annual forages, forage weed and insect control, and forage variety evaluation. The field day begins at 10:00. Lunch can be purchased at the field day site.

Check Fields For Potato Beetle Hatching

YORK — CPB scouting from southeastern Pennsylvania reports potato beetle adults are actively laying eggs as of May 31. An averaging 44 egg masses and 34 adults were found per 100 plants. The warm weather the past few days will speed up egg laying activity and egg hatch. Growers should check their fields on a regular basis. It may be necessary to check more frequently this year due to the large amount of rainfall.

If growers are using Bt (Trident or M-one) or cryolite (Kryocide) apply the material when the larvae are small, less than 1/4". Remember, use of cryolite must be in connection with an integrated pest management program in which one of the registered Bt products is first applied to the fields to be treated with cryolite. Cryolite and Bt do not kill as fast as conventional insecticides so larvae will be seen on the plants after they are treated.

Check fields five to seven days after spraying. The high soil moisture and warm weather will produce new foliage quickly and this will be unprotected. Insects are also more active in warm weather, feeding and egg laying are sped up.

INTRODUCING CHORE-TIME®'s NEW H2 FEEDER

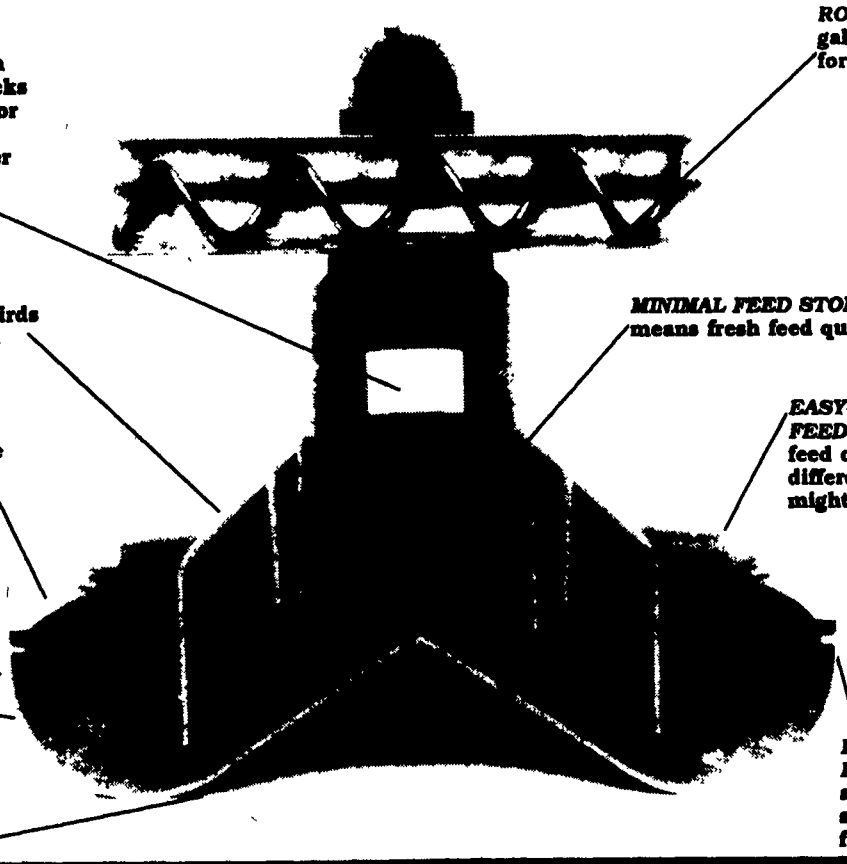
A New Way To Feed Broilers And Turkey Poults

H2 Broiler Feeder With Flood Gates Open, Fills Pan With Overflow Onto The Paper For Quick Starts With Minimum Waste.

H2 Turkey Poult Feeder Has Feed Chutes To Fill Pan Without Any Spillage Onto Shavings.

Pan Hangs On Cone For Easy Cleaning.

- OUR 10-YEAR WARRANTY on the auger and 5-year warranty on the pan says it all - WE STAND BEHIND IT!
- ALL-PLASTIC FEEDER consists of 3 simple, rugged polypropylene parts for permanent corrosion-proofing. Pan easily removes for clean-out and hangs from feeder for drying and storage.



FEED WINDOW (when Feed Gate is open) automatically floods pan with feed to attract chicks from day one. Saves labor — no more hauling and scooping feed into feeder pans!

ROLL-FORMED TUBE is galvanized inside and out for rust-resistance.

LARGE DOME discourages growing birds from getting into pan.

MINIMAL FEED STORAGE within dome means fresh feed quickly to all birds.

SELF-LEVELING PAN — a patented Chore-Time feature — cuts feed waste and bird bruising since pans can swing.

EASY-TO-ADJUST FEED LEVEL lets you set feed opening to allow for different types of feed you might decide to use.

UNIQUE PAN SHAPE and low pan height is ideal for chicks, with no grill to obstruct eating. Pan has 13-inch diameter.

BUILT-IN HIGH CONE evenly distributes feed in pan, prevents stale feed buildup in feed level tube.

DOUBLE FEED-SAVER LIP on pan limits raking and billing and helps you save every bit of precious feed.

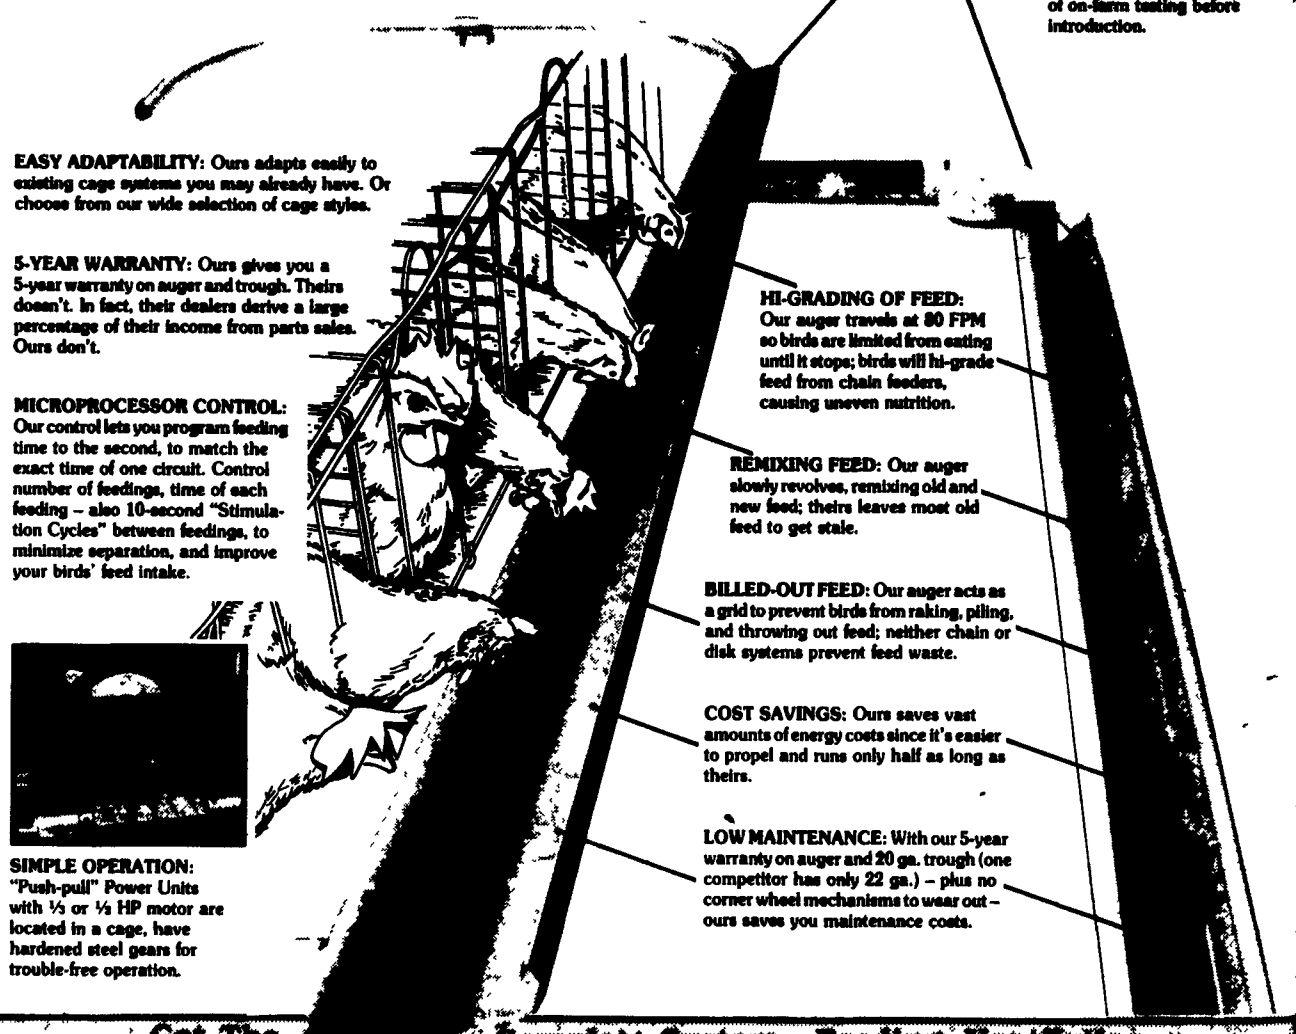
Chore-Time's ULTRAFLO® feeder can free you from your chains

We have probably been too modest up to now about the merits of our new generation ULTRAFLO® cage feeder vs. the old style chain feeders some of our competitors are still trying to sell you. In fact, the only negative comments about our feeder come from our competition, not our customers. So we would like to point out the bare facts:

FEED SAVINGS: On-farm results show a feed savings of ½ lb. per 100 birds per day – over $10,000 per year savings on a 100,000-bird house. Year after year.

TROUBLE-FREE DESIGN: Our feeder has only two moving parts – the one-piece auger plus each drive wheel; their chain has more. Our corners are heavy 12 ga. zinc plated tubing for long life; their corners have a reputation for trouble and short life.

PROVEN DESIGN: Over 10 million birds are already on our feeder worldwide. Also, it was proven in 5 years of on-farm testing before introduction.



EASY ADAPTABILITY: Ours adapts easily to existing cage systems you may already have. Or choose from our wide selection of cage styles.

5-YEAR WARRANTY: Ours gives you a 5-year warranty on auger and trough. Theirs doesn't. In fact, their dealers derive a large percentage of their income from parts sales. Ours don't.

MICROPROCESSOR CONTROL: Our control lets you program feeding time to the second, to match the exact time of one circuit. Control number of feedings, time of each feeding – also 10-second "Stimulation Cycles" between feedings, to minimize separation, and improve your birds' feed intake.

HI-GRADING OF FEED: Our auger travels at 80 FPM so birds are limited from eating until it stops; birds will hi-grade feed from chain feeders, causing uneven nutrition.

REMIXING FEED: Our auger slowly revolves, remixing old and new feed; theirs leaves most old feed to get stale.

BILLED-OUT FEED: Our auger acts as a grid to prevent birds from raking, piling, and throwing out feed; neither chain or disk systems prevent feed waste.

COST SAVINGS: Ours saves vast amounts of energy costs since it's easier to propel and runs only half as long as theirs.

LOW MAINTENANCE: With our 5-year warranty on auger and 20 ga. trough (one competitor has only 22 ga.) – plus no corner wheel mechanisms to wear out – ours saves you maintenance costs.

SIMPLE OPERATION: "Push-pull" Power Units with ⅓ or ½ HP motor are located in a cage, have hardened steel gears for trouble-free operation.

Pennsylvania Farm Has Winner Of Two National Production Honors

Lindenhof Bonus J Tele Xenia, a Pennsylvania bred senior two-year-old cow, has collected two national honors including the New England Guernsey Breeders' Association (GBA) and the Nyala-Bedford trophies. "Xenia" and her owners were recognized at the 1989 annual meeting of the American Guernsey Association (AGA) in Rochester, New York, on May 22.

The 25th New England GBA Trophy recognizes the highest 305-day, two-time, Mature Equivalent (ME) milk record in the breed. The Nyala-Bedford Award, established 20 years ago in the memory of F.T. Bedford of Nyala Farm in Connecticut, is given to the two-year-old cow with the highest DHIR ME milk production.

K.D. and Else Linde of Oxford, Pennsylvania, are the breeders of "Xenia" who is now owned by Linde's children, Axel Linde and Millie Widmann. "Xenia's" actual record of 2-06 305D 24,030M 3.6% 866F 3.2% 763P converts to 29,076M 1,022F and 900P on an ME basis. The jumper two-year-old record is a national class-leading record for milk and protein.

By a Mid-Atlantic Guernsey Sire (MAGS) graduate, Lyndale Bonus J Telestar, she has a Modified Contemporary Deviation (MCD) of +12,577M +291F +309P. Her January 1989 indexes of +1,332M +32F +$128 +33P +$111CY, CPI +234 rank her 176th in the breed for Cow Performance Index (CPI).

This individual is backed by a Lone Palm T H Jupiter dam who is out of a Kellogg Minnies Choice daughter with 3-03 305D 17,450M 4.0% 679P 3.2% 566P.

The AGA is the national organization for the registration and promotion of Guernsey cattle and is headquartered in Reynoldsburg, Ohio.

Summer Promotion 'Moooves' Milk

SYRACUSE, NY — The American Dairy Association and Dairy Council (ADADC) is hoping to "mooove" milk this summer with an exciting promotional line-up. The "Get Mooovin' With Milk" campaign is the season highlight, using special June Dairy Month features and summer-time taste incentives, as well as a promotional tie-in with Sears.

"One of the primary objectives of this campaign is to provide an umbrella theme for supermarket retailers to use throughout the entire store," says Michele Martens, consumer promotions manager for ADADC. The package includes a milk carton side-panel offer to distributors; in-store point-of-purchase materials such as a June Dairy Monthy display that can be customized by the individual stores; television and radio advertising featuring the theme; and a Sears portrait offer.

The campaign features the entire family of milk - whole, low-fat and chocolate. The fluid-milk emphasis also provides a variety of options with special summer foods, such as fresh-fruit and vegetable dishes calling for dairy ingredients.

The American Dairy Association and Dairy Council Inc. is a dairy promotion association funded by dairy producers from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Officers Elected To Pedigreed Livestock Council

COLUMBUS, OH — New officers of the National Pedigreed Livestock Council (NPLC) include president Wendell Schronk of American Brahman Breeders Association, Houston, Texas; secretary-treasurer Zane Akins of Holstein Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt.; sheep director Kathy Krafka of National Suffolk Sheep Association, Columbia, Mo.; swine director Darrell Anderson of American Yorkshire Club, West Lafayette, Ind.; beef director Gene Kuykendall of Beefmaster Breeders Universal, San Antonio, Texas; horse director Ron Blackwell of American Quarter Horse Association, Amarillo, Texas; and dairy director Maurice Core of American Jersey Cattle Club, Reynoldsburg, Ohio.

They were elected May 16 at NPLC's annual meeting in Columbus, Ohio.

Farmers Hold Monthly Meeting

WEST CHESTER, (Chester Co.) — Chester/Delaware Farmer's Association Directors, at their monthly meeting held recently in West Chester, heard reports, planned for farmers policy development and continued stream monitoring programs for farmers.

Harold Bryson, Oxford, reported that Marjorie Kraus of Algal Research Center, Landenberg, has been retained as environmental and water quality consultant for Association members. Association members who have questions about their water quality or are being harassed for alleged stream pollution should contact the Algal Research Center or their nearest Director.

Directors voted to support House Bill 2336, sponsored by Congressman Richard Schulze. Robert Lange, West Chester, explained that, "the purpose of the bill is to reduce estate taxes on the transfer of farm property within a family. The estate tax would be reduced to zero over a 30-year period. The special exception would apply in a 50-mile radius of a major city area."

"We need the support of the Pennsylvania Farmer's Association, the American Farm Bureau Federation, other state and local organizations. Only by making other congressmen aware of the problem, can we secure support. The adoption of the bill will make it possible for farm land to stay in farming. The land will not need to be sold piecemeal to pay inflated estate taxes caused by development in urban areas", Lange stated. It is expected that Arlen Specter will sponsor similar legislation in the Senate.

"Township Policy Development chairmen should reserve 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, August 9 in Honeybrook for their organization meeting," Elmer Mast, Parkesburg, Chairman, said. "It is important that all Farmer's Association members participate. Policy statements reflect issues at the county, state and national levels. Issues such as eminent domain, zoning, reduction in real estate taxes, and protection of private property — can all be presented and discussed at the policy development meetings." It was suggested that perhaps an open meeting be held to invite in other groups that are concerned with agriculture such as supervisors, fire companies, extension, fish and game clubs.

Tim Hihn, Avondale, said that a committee of mushroom farmers had been picked to work with the Pennsylvania Farmer's Association for the creation of a statewide mushroom commodity committee. Since mushroom farmers are nationwide, this could evolve into a national committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation. The three members named are Mike Pia, Pete Alonzo and Steve Vincenti.

Ed Kuncle, PFA Regional Organization Director announced a regional District Directors meeting for August 8, 7:00 p.m. at Gilbertsville Fire Hall. Legislative up-date meeting will be held Monday, August 7 at Yoders in New Holland. He said that 124 guests from nine counties attended the Ladies Day Out at the Red Rose Inn in Jennersville.

Kuncle said that horse farmers may want to support state legislature bill HR 1381. If passed, this would exempt the equine industry from sales tax on their supplies and maintenance materials.

"Farm-City Day is set for Saturday, November 11", Linda Hicks, West Chester, Chairperson told the Directors. "Farms will be grouped in the Southwestern portion of the County. Included will be dairy, beef, and mushroom farms."

The Annual Meeting and dinner is to be held Thursday, September 28; stated Charles Moore, Cochranville, meeting Chairman. Election of Directors and voting on proposed policy will be conducted, he said.

PSU Ag Students Selected For Scholarships

HARRISBURG — Two Penn State students have been named to share the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program's $1,000 "Milk Can Trophy" scholarship, presented last fall to the College of Agriculture of the winning school in the Penn State vs. University of Maryland football game.

Christine M. Reaver of Adams County is a junior in the Dairy Production Program at University Park, and is pursuing a minor in Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology. She currently serves as secretary of the Penn State Dairy Science Club and is co-editor of the club's yearbook, Penn State Dairyman. Christine plans a career in agribusiness with the dairy cattle industry.

Tammy S. Balthaser is a freshman in the Food Science program on the Berks County campus. She is the 1988-89 Berks County Dairy Princess and is active in the Berks County 4-H Swine Club, the Western Berks 4-H Dairy Club, the Hamburg F.F.A., and the Berks County Junior Holstein Club. She is also the 1988-89 PA State Second Alternate Dairy Princess. Tammy hopes to work in the food industry in dairy product quality assurance.

In thanking the PDPP for its contribution, College of Agriculture Assistant Dean for Resident Education Robert C. Baldwin noted the scholarship money not only provides direct support for deserving students, but also encourages "the attainment of our goal of overall scholarly excellence throughout the college."

AGRIPRO SOYBEANS

NUMBER ONE IN RESEARCH

AP-3023
Big Yields On Lighter Soils.
This fast-growing Group III variety combines drought adaptability with very good Phytophthora tolerance. For maximum yield and stress tolerance. This high-performance variety does well with no-till practices, and we recommend planting at moderate populations in 30-inch rows. AP-3023 has a very good resistance to shattering, protecting your yield when harvest is slightly delayed.

AP-3977
A Big Yielder And Nearly Disease Proof
This hardy late Group III variety has resistance to 15 Phytophthora races. Its excellent standability makes it first choice for narrow rows. AP-3977 overcomes disease to produce big yields.

AP-4321
Short, Stout and Bred to Yield.
You can expect big yields when you plant this high profit early Group IV variety on your better soils. It adapts very well to narrow-row planting and responds strongly to fertility. AP-4321 produces excellent yields without lodging. It's an excellent companion to popular AP-350.

AP-350
The Soybean The Others Would Love to Beat!
This proven performer is the benchmark early Group IV variety.
Maturity is 4 days later than Williams 82, and 1 day later than AP-4321. It produces consistently high yields and has excellent resistance to Phytophthora root rot. AP-350 does well even on wider rows and adapts to a wide variety of soil conditions and management practices.

If you knew what they know, you'd have Penn Jersey building a Harvestore® system for your haylage, too.

Beat the Weather. When you make Harvestore system haylage, you get your crop out of the field earler, at 40% to 50% moisture. Before it has a chance to be spoiled by rain.

Get Higher Quality Forage. You can usually harvest when nutritional quality is highest. And you save more of the leaves, where most of alfalfa's protein is contained, which means you spend less on purchased protein.

Save Labor. It takes only about half as much labor to harvest an acre of haylage for a Harvestore system as it does to store the same acre as baled hay.

Deal with a Reputable Company. Get the back-up of A.O. Smith Harvestore Products 40 years of experience and Penn Jersey's 25 years as the area's authorized Harvestore Systems dealer.

Excellent Financing. Check our special program of 0% interest through Sept. 1, 1990!

The results you may achieve with your Harvestore® System depend primarily upon your management skills and may vary from successful results achieved by others. Any application to a particular farming operation requires the advice of qualified experts and is subject to limitations of good management, weather and other conditions present at the individual location.

Berry time brings many smiles to the Eby Family. Despite the long hours and the intensive labor, the three week berry picking time is the highlight of the Eby's year. Left to right: Helen, Melvin, Donald and Kaye Eby.

Strawberry Picking Time Brings Smiles To Eby Family

BY LOU ANN GOOD

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) — It's strawberry picking time again. To the Eby Berry Farm, that phrase brings a sweet rush of excitement.

The three week picking period culminates in a rewarding feeling for the Ebys who spend months making sure that each year's crop will be sweeter than ever.

Pickers at the farm this week were not disappointed. The huge red berries were at their prime in flavor and hung heavily on the vines enabling quick picking.

Said Melvin Eby, owner of the operation, "Despite the rain, this year has the possibility of being an exceptional year, just like '85 and '87."

The rain is a mixed blessing. It encourages larger berries, but it can also limit picking time. If berries are not picked at maturity, they rot. But, so far, in between the rains hundreds of "pick-it-yourselfers" converge on the three and a half acres that have been planted with Early Glow, Late Glow and Guardian berries. Son Donald and wife Kaye, who help with the operation, spend 15 hour days picking in order to get ahead of the rain.

"We crawl on our hands and knees while picking," Donald said.

"Of course we get aching backs," Kaye said, "but that's part of the job. We love the season."

The strawberry abundance is especially sweet to the Ebys who last year pulled through one of the worst berry seasons ever. "Hail destroyed our crop during blossoming season. We lost 90 percent of the early varieties," Melvin said.

Forty years ago, Melvin's parents started a small berry business on the 25-acre Manheim farm. Melvin, who continued the business, expanded it to its current size in 1958. Each year they start a new 1½ -acre patch enabling them to always have 3½ -acres to pick.

Melvin's wife Helen said she picked berries a lot in her early years of marriage. Today, she primarily handles the phone calls, cooks and takes care of other interruptions so that things can run smoothly for those who work in the patch.

"The average customer picks between two and 20 boxes, but some order 300 to 400 boxes," she said.

Melvin said that this April, they planted 9,000 plants with a tobacco planter. "We buy them from Maryland. It takes three people about eight to nine hours to plant them," he said.

Early Glow berries are the first to mature. They are a firm, red and extra sweet berry that is perfectly shaped. Late Glow blooms later as the name suggests. They are an exceptional late berry similar to the Early Glow. The Catskill is a softer, sweeter berry that blooms during midseason. Guardian is a large, late berry that is irregular in shape.

It's a funny thing," Melvin remarked. "Some farms in the area do better with a different kind of berries than others."

The Ebys are able to distinguish the different varieties both by looks and by taste.

Although a normal picking season lasts only three weeks, the work is far from over for the Ebys. Within two weeks after harvest, the plants need to be mowed off, the rows narrowed to 12-inches and fertilized.

Berries must be cultivated and hoed every week until mulching time in December. The Ebys use 50 tons of corn fodder for mulching.

To grow a good crop, plants need at least one inch of moisture weekly. More rainfall is not a problem unless berries are ripe. Then they may rot before being picked. But too much heat is also a problem for then it tends to dehydrate the berries and causes plant stress.

Blossoms are removed from the plants during the first year to enable a heavier crop the following year. To remove blossoms, the Ebys use scissors. A herbicide is used for weed control.

Hives are placed on the farm to encourage high bee cultivation.

Pick-it-yourself prices, this year, are 80 cents a quart or 75 cents for 10 or more quarts.

Kaye said, "The best thing about raising strawberries is the picking season. I like to meet the customers." Her father-in-law Melvin echoed her sentiments.

Still, there are things that cause much stress. "The uncertainty of the weather, the risk that accompanies it and the knowledge that berries are a sensitive, perishable crop cause some frustrating moments. But, the whole family enjoys carrying on the family tradition on the Manheim farm that has been in the family for four generations.

In addition to carrying on the berry tradition, Melvin also is a plumber as his father had been. Son Donald follows in his father's footsteps. The men consider themselves fulltime plumbers except during the berry season when plumbing must wait for more convenient times. They also raise steers and corn on the side.

Although they enjoy these activities, it's berry time that brings the most smiles to the Eby family.

MICROWAVE MINUTES

By JOYCE BATTCHER

MICROWAVE MINUTES
BY JOYCE BATTCHER

Now that "homey" cooking is in vogue, cornstarch pudding is making a comeback.

Cornstarch pudding is one of the easiest desserts to microwave. It cooks quickly, needs little attention, and can be served warm from the microwave or icy cold. Chilled, it's a refreshing dessert for cool summer eating. Warm, it's a comforting food to eat on a cold rainy day.

Advantages of cooking pudding in a microwave are summed up in one word — convenience. Egg yolks or whole eggs can be added at the beginning of cooking, instead of being carefully stirred in towards the end. Stirring is done every 1 to 2, instead of constantly. There is no worry about scorched pudding with a burnt aftertaste. Finally, there's no pan with sticky cooked-on milk to scrub.

Cornstarch pudding calls for simple ingredients. Milk — whole, 2 percent, 1 percent, or skim all are fine — sugar, cornstarch, and flavoring are the basic ingredients. Traditional pudding also calls for butter and egg yolks to add a rich creamy flavor. Newer, slimming versions call for skim milk and cornstarch with minimum sugar and butter. Extra vanilla accents flavor and makes pudding taste sweet and rich.

To cook 4 servings of pudding, you'll need a 2-quart measure, mixing bowl or deep casserole. A deep container is better than a shallow dish for 2 reasons. Pudding boils high in the microwave, so a deep large container helps prevent boil-overs. Heat is more concentrated in a deep container, so pudding will be easier to stir and smooth out. A wisk is best for rapid stirring to get the mixture perfectly smooth.

Stir sugar and cornstarch together first for ease in combining the cornstarch with milk. Then slowly stir in eggs and milk until perfectly smooth. If you have a 1½ - to 2-quart microwave-safe measure and a whisk, you can measure milk and cook pudding in the same container. Add cornstarch and sugar to measured milk and whisk well until smooth.

Puddings that don't contain eggs need stirring only halfway and about three-fourths of the way through cooking. Those with eggs need more stirring, especially towards end of cooking, to avoid getting a pudding with specks of cooked egg floating around in it.

Homemade pudding needs to start to boil in order to thicken, but it must not boil too long or it will become thin. Pudding should boil 10 to 15 seconds to eliminate a starchy flavor.

Pudding mixes are also convenient to microwave. Use a deep 2-quart bowl, casserole or measure. A pudding mix must come to a full boil or it won't thicken, so a large container is necessary to prevent boilovers. In a 650- to 750-watt microwave, microwave on High, uncovered, for 5 to 7 minutes, or until pudding is boiling. It should boil about 15 seconds. Stir it twice during cooking — after about 2½ minutes and again after about 4 minutes. Otherwise, there will be a big lump of starch in the bottom of the container.

If you want to get fancy with cornstarch pudding, layer it in parfait glasses with well-drained canned fruit or fruit pie filling. Or, right before serving, top dishes of chilled pudding with fresh fruit. Or, serve warm pudding over fresh raspberries or thinly sliced fresh peaches.

Make pudding with slightly less milk and pour it into a graham cracker or baked pastry crust for a cream pie. (For a recipe that calls for 2 cups of milk, use 1¾ cups instead.) Or, thin cooked pudding with dairy sour cream and serve instead of whipped cream on strawberry shortcake or blueberry cobbler.

Old-Fashioned Cornstarch Pudding (below) is a wonderfully easy pudding to make with a rich, creamy, old-fashioned taste. Be careful not to cook too long, or the egg yolks will curdle and the pudding won't thicken during cooling. But cook it long enough to thicken. It should just start to boil or puff up.

Lower Calorie Chocolate Pudding (below) appeared in an earlier "Microwave Minutes" and has become a favorite of many readers. It's lower in calories than regular pudding, but it's still rich-tasting and nutritious.

All "from scratch" puddings are almost quick-as-a-mix to make in the microwave. But Quick-As-A-Mix Caramel Pudding (below) calls for fewer ingredients and faster mixing. Cooking time is slightly less because less milk is used.

Old-Fashioned Cornstarch Pudding

⅓ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups milk
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon butter
1½ teaspoons vanilla

In a microwave-safe 2-quart measure, mixing bowl or deep casserole, stir together sugar and cornstarch. Gradually stir in milk and add egg yolks; whisk until smooth. Microwave (High) 2 minutes; whisk well. Continue microwaving (High) 3 to 4 minutes, whisking after each 1 minute, until pudding is thick and starts to boil high. Stir in vanilla. Pour into serving dishes. Serve warm or cold. Makes 4 servings.

Each serving — made with whole milk: 215 calories, 5g protein, 10g fat, 26g carbohydrate, 99mg sodium, 151mg cholesterol.

Lower Calorie Chocolate Pudding

6 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa
3 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups skim milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

In a microwave-safe 2-quart measure, mixing bowl or deep casserole, stir together sugar, cocoa and cornstarch. Gradually stir in milk until smooth. Microwave (High) 5 to 6 minutes, stirring after each 2 minutes, until pudding is thick and boiling. Stir in vanilla. Pour into serving dishes. Serve warm or cold. Makes 4 servings.

Each serving: 153 calories, 5g protein, 0 fat, 34g carbohydrate, 64mg sodium, 2mg cholesterol.

Quick-As-A-Mix Caramel Pudding

1½ cups milk
¾ cup caramel ice cream topping
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon vanilla

In a microwave-safe 2-quart measure or casserole, stir together milk, ice cream topping and cornstarch until smooth. Microwave (High) 4 to 5½ minutes, stirring after each 2 minutes, or until thick and boiling. Stir in vanilla. Pour into 4 dessert dishes. Serve warm or cold. Makes 4 servings.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

To borrow a phrase, all good things take time.

Fifty years, to be exact. Five decades. Half a century. More than half the expectancy of a long lifetime.

Today, we celebrate my mom's and dad's anniversary of fifty years. At least as family and friends we celebrate it today, though the actual official day is a few days away.

They were wed as the decade of the Great Depression was drawing to a close and the devastations of World War II was just threatening on the horizon of international events.

Theirs was not a wedding of impressive proportion, just a quiet ceremony. There was no new home to move into, nor an apartment of extravagance. Money was certainly not overabundant in that era when bread was a nickle a loaf and wages not more than a few dollars weekly.

But, in spite of those tough economic times, they made it, carving out their life together. They started slowly, renting a place to live, until they could purchase their own first home.

Neither was afraid of hard work. Dad spent most of his work career in York's chain manufacturing industry. Mom was home during our early years, but returned to a full-time job in the garment industry when the youngest of us was four.

In spite of both holding down regular jobs, they tended a big garden every summer, kept a few chickens and maintained the house and our buildings in good repair.

We were certainly never what could be called wealthy; yet we never lacked for those things we really needed. There was always more than enough healthy, tasty food, at hot meals we shared together as a family. Our clothing, if not the most expensive from the most fashionable store, was clean, given good care, and acquired according to our needs - if not always our faddish wants.

There were always shoes - and warm socks and boots - for our feet, a tight roof over our heads, and the more luxurious things of life as they could be afforded in a budget which had to cover a home, car and four growing kids.

What they gave us was more long-lasting than the newest style of shoes, or expensive clothes, or lavish playthings.

While certainly never tyrants, they taught us self-discipline and responsibility. Took us to church regularly as a family. Upheld their civic responsibility by voting. Quietly set an example by acts of kindness and thoughtfulness to others.

They hauled us and our friends to sock hops, youth group meetings, school plays, high school sports practices. Lectured us if schoolwork wasn't up to expectations. Piled us into the car every summer for several days of vacation.

Taught us that picking potatoes from the garden, mowing the lawn, or washing dishes would not ruin us for life. Gritted their teeth and gave us driving instructions in the family car. Allowed us to have pets.

Our lives were well rooted in summertime family reunions, Christmas dinners with aunts, uncles and cousins, and Sunday afternoon visits with both kinfolks and close friends. They, simply as a matter of lifestyle, gave us a sense of security and belonging.

The legacy of their union is not in the pages of history books, commemorative statues or a few sound bytes on the evening news. It is rather in the love and respect and admiration their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren continue to have for them today.

Thanks, Mom and Dad, for a solid upbringing. For being there when we needed band-aids or help with a school project. A shoulder to cry on, or an ear for listening. For patiently correcting and tolerating us when we were less than the ideal children. And especially, for letting go as we went our own ways, yet always being there with your undying support.

Thanks, Mom and Dad, for loving us.

Happy Golden Wedding Anniversary, Mom and Dad, with all our love.

Satisfying Hearty Appetites With Meals Using Dairy Products

"My husband, Bob, and I farm approximately 100 acres. We have a dairy herd with 55 milk cows. Our children are Greg, 16, Marci, 13, and Kristen, 10. (Greg gets quite a bit of coverage from Lancaster Farming since he's involved in a lot of 4-H and FFA activities.) We all work together on the farm, each having our own chores to do."

CHEESE BALL

16 ounces cream cheese, softened
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon chopped pimento
1 tablespoon green pepper
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Dash Cayenne pepper
Salt to taste
Chopped pecans or finely chopped dried beef

Combine all ingredients except pecans or beef. Form into a ball. Roll in nuts or beef. Chill until ready to serve.

"This is my favorite dairy recipe. My husband and three children live on a 170-acre dairy farm. We milk 75 cows."

MACARONI & CHEESE

1 cup macaroni noodles, uncooked
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup sour cream
1 cup processed cheese
1 cup sharp cheddar cheese, grated
2 eggs, beaten

Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain. Combine macaroni, cheeses, sour cream, and eggs in buttered 2½ -quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serves 6-8.

LASAGNE

1 pound sausage
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon whole basil
1½ teaspoons salt
16 ounces tomatoes
12 ounces tomato paste
10 ounces lasagne noodles
2 eggs
3 cups cottage cheese
2 tablespoons parsley flakes
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 pound mozzarella cheese, sliced very thin

Brown meat, spoon off excess fat. Add next five ingredients. Simmer uncovered 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cook noodles in large amount boiling salted water until tender. Drain and rinse. Beat eggs; add remaining ingredients, except mozzarella. Layer half noodles in 13x9-inch baking dish. Spread with half the cottage cheese filling and half mozzarella followed by half the meat sauce. Repeat layers. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving.

SETTLERS' CORN CASSEROLE

4 cups cooked corn
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup light cream
½ cup saltine cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
½ teaspoon pepper
Ripe olives, sliced, optional
¼ pound Swiss cheese, sliced
6 bacon strips

Add cream, crumbs, salt, pepper, olives, and corn to eggs. Spoon into a buttered 2-quart casserole dish. Top with cheese and bacon strips. Bake at 350 degrees for 30-40 minutes. Remove from oven and let stand 5 minutes.

POTATO CHOWDER

4 cups potatoes, peeled and diced
½ cup finely chopped onion
1 cup grated carrot
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
4 chicken bouillon cubes
6 cups milk
4 tablespoon butter
½ cup flour

In large Dutch oven or kettle, combine potatoes, onion, carrots, salt, pepper, parsley, and bouillon cubes. Add enough water to cover. Cook until tender, about 15-20 minutes. Do not drain. Scald milk and remove 1½ cups. Add butter and flour to removed milk. Stir with wire whisk. Add remaining hot milk to undrained vegetables, then stir in thickened milk mixture. Stir until blended. Simmer 15 minutes on low heat. Serves 8-10.

"My husband, Bern, and I, along with six of our nine children, one daughter-in-law, two sons-in-law, and 11 of our 19 children, own and operate Fox Chase Farms in Towanda.

"We are 'Milk Juggers' and bottle our milk in half-gallon bottles. We run a restaurant here on the farm and also use that building to sell our milk.

"Our farm in 1,200 acres. We milk 140 cows and have a total herd of 260. I enjoy cooking and have a spoon collection that numbers about 900."

HOLLOWED BREAD & DIP

1 round loaf of rye or pumpernickle bread
2 cups shredded sharp cheese
6 ounces cream cheese
1½ cups sour cream
1 cup diced ham
1 tablespoon butter, melted
½ cup onion, chopped
1 can chopped green chiles
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Hollow out center of bread; cut insides into bite-sized pieces and set aside. Thoroughly mix together remaining ingredients. Pour into hollowed bread. Cover with foil and bake at 350 degrees for 70 minutes. Put on center of plate and surround with pieces of bread. Fresh vegetables make good dippers too.

Undeniably delicious main dishes made with dairy products will satisfy hearty appetites.

"This corn pudding recipe is an old one my mother used. Mother never wrote it down, but my sister gave me directions for making it. It is better warm, but also good cold. I have taken it to many church suppers and family get-together meals.

"We raise beef cattle and hogs on our farm. We have a garden and I can and freeze vegetables and fruits."

Featured Recipe

This year, on Dad's special day, why not skip the preparation of a labor-intensive, complicated meal and give Steaks, Potatoes 'N Peppers a try. It's filled with the flavors Father knows best and goes together fast, fast, fast.

Start this quick-to-prepare meal on a grill with two, naturally tender and juicy beef T-bone steaks, each cut 1 to 1½ inches thick. Typically, T-bone steaks will yield two and one-half, three-ounce cooked servings per pound. Serving is easy when you carve the cooked steaks diagonally into thick slices.

Steaks, Potatoes 'N Peppers

Preparation time: 10 minutes
Microwave cooking time: 6 to 7 minutes
Cooking time: 16 to 30 minutes
2 beef T-bone steaks, cut 1 to 1½ inches thick (approximately 2 pounds)
2 large baking potatoes (do not pare), cut into ½ inch thick diagonal slices
¾ teaspoon coarse grind black pepper, divided
3 tablespoons olive or vegetable oil
2 cloves garlic, minced
¼ teaspoon salt
1 large green, red or yellow bell pepper, cut into 10 lengthwise wedges

Place potato slices on paper plate, overlap slightly. Cover loosely with plastic wrap. Microwave at HIGH 6 to 7 minutes or until potatoes are barely fork tender, rotating plate ¼ turn after 3 minutes; reserve. Rub ½ teaspoon pepper into both sides of beef T-bone steaks. Place steaks on grid over medium coals*, turning once and season with salt, if desired. Broil steaks cut 1 inch thick 16 minutes for rare; 20 minutes for medium. Broil steaks cut 1½ inches thick 22 minutes for rare; 30 minutes for medium. Meanwhile combine olive oil, garlic, salt and remaining pepper; brush on all sides of potato slices and pepper wedges. Place vegetables around steaks on grid during last 9 to 12 minutes of broiling time; turn after 5 minutes and cook until tender. Carve steaks into thick slices and serve with vegetables. 5 servings.

ANSWER — A. J. Kannod of Monongahela asked how to poach eggs without having them stick to the bottom of the pan. Thanks Amy Bush, Bangor, for answering. she suggests using a 2-quart pan filled with 1 quart water. Add ½ teaspoon vinegar. Bring water to a boil. Add three eggs. Cook 2 to 3 minutes, according to desired softness or hardness.

ANSWER — Mrs. L.A. Kille, Bridgeton, NJ, requested a recipe for marinated chicken breasts. Thanks Jo Anne Waber, Coatesville, for sending one.

Marinated Parsley & Parmesan Baked Chicken

½ cup bottled Italian dressing
1-1½ pounds chicken cutlets, cut-up
1 slightly beaten egg
2 tablespoons water
½ cup Parmesan cheese
⅓ cup bread crumbs
2 tablespoons snipped parsley
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Pour salad dressing into baking dish. Add chicken. Cover and refrigerate 4 hours, occasionally spooning dressing over chicken. Drain, reserving dressing. Combine egg and water in a small dish. In a plastic bag, combine cheese, bread crumbs, parsley, salt, pepper, and paprika. Dip chicken into egg mixture, shake a few pieces at a time in crumb mixture to coat. Return coated chicken to baking dish, spooning remaining dressing over chicken. Bake in 350 degree oven 45 to 50 minutes or until chicken is tender.

ANSWER — Marlene Grow requested a recipe for red velvet cake. Thanks for the overwhelming response from Kristina Rhodes, Columbiana, OH; Jo Evans, Boyd, MD; Anna Martin, Reinholds; Anna Wenger, Manheim; Karen Burkholder, Berniville; Norma Van Horn, Middleburg; Josephine Matenus, Dallas; and others.

Red Velvet Cake

Color paste:
2 ounces red food coloring
2 tablespoons instant cocoa powder
Mix together and set aside.
½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs, room temperature
1 cup buttermilk
2¼ cups cake flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon baking soda

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add the eggs and the color paste. Beat 10 minutes with electric mixer at medium speed. Add the buttermilk alternately with flour, salt and vanilla. Remove bowl from mixer and lightly stir in the vinegar and baking soda.

Important: Put vinegar in first and sift soda into it. This way, the soda dissolves and no lumps will leave dark spots in the cake.

Spoon into two 9-inch round cake pans or two 8-inch square pans, which have been greased and floured. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Layers can be split and frosting added between top and sides.

Red Velvet Frosting:
1 stick butter
6 tablespoons margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons flour
⅔ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter, margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add 1 tablespoon flour, one at a time, alternately with milk. Add the vanilla. Beat for 12 minutes with electric mixer. Scrape sides of bowl until all sugar is completely dissolved.

ANSWER — A. J. Kannod of Monongahela requested recipes using a stewing hen for a good chicken and noodle casserole or stew. Thanks Kristina Rhodes, Columbiana, OH; for sending a family favorite.

Chicken Tehzarine

1¼ cup dry spaghetti
1½ cup cooked chicken or turkey
¼ cup pepper, green or red
¼ cup chopped onion
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 cup chicken broth
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup grated cheese

Mix together all but mushroom soup and cheese. Combine soup with 1 can of water and pour over first part. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour in a casserole.

ANSWER — Georgette Hunsicker, Bath, is looking for a recipe for a last-minute cake, that may have been called slop cake. Thanks to Gladys Willi, Liverpool; Mrs. Fred Talada, Chemung, NY; and Kay Landis, for answering.

Dump Cake

1 package yellow cake mix
1 20 ounce can crushed pineapple, undrained
1 cup cherry pie filling
1 cup chopped pecans
½ cup butter, melted
½ cup coconut, optional

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 13x9x2-inch pan. Dump undrained pineapple into pan. Spread evenly. Dump in pie filling and spread evenly. Next layer: dump dry cake mix into cherry layer. Spread evenly. Sprinkle pecans on top. Top with butter and coconut. Bake at 350 degrees for 48 to 53 minutes.

Slop Chocolate Cake

2 cups sugar
¾ cup powdered cocoa
1 cup milk
½ cup oil
1 cup hot coffee
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour

Mix well. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes in a 13x9-inch pan. Batter will be runny.

QUICK CHEESEBURGER PIE

1⅓ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
3-4 tablespoons cold water
1 pound ground beef
½ -¾ cup onion, finely chopped
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup flour
⅓ cup dill pickle liquid
½ cup dill pickles, chopped
⅓ cup milk
2 cups shredded cheese, American or Swiss

Mix 1⅓ cups flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Cut in shortening until mixture looks like tiny peas. Sprinkle with cold water, one tablespoon at a time. Mix lightly until all flour is moistened. Pat in bottom and up sides of 8-inch round pan. Bake for 15 minutes at 425 degrees. Cook and stir beef and onion in skillet until brown; drain. Sprinkle withsalt and flour. Stir in pickles, pickle liquid, milk, and 1 cup cheese. Spoon into dish. Bake 15 minutes; sprinkle with remaining cheese and bake until crust is golden brown, about 5 minutes. Serves 4-6.

HOME-MADE CHEESE

3 gallons skim milk
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons baking soda
3 teaspoons salt
3 cups cream

Mix ingredients in stainless-steel container and set at room temperature until it is thick milk, about 1 to 3 days.

Put on medium heat and stir with a wooden spoon every five minutes until it is 92 degrees or too hot for your fingers. Keep at this temperature for half an hour.

Pour through strainer. Let whey run off. If there is some moisture in the curd, press it with your hands. Let set for 2 hours.

Put curd in a 4-quart stainless-steel double boiler. Crumb them up with your fingers. Mix in 2 tablespoons baking soda. Let set 2 hours at room temperature. Put double boiler on stove on medium heat. Add 1 cup cream and ½ cup butter. Melt and stir. Add 2 cups cream as needed. Melt until smooth, stirring, about one hour. Add three teaspoons salt. Stir then pour into cheese dishes. Makes about 2 quarts.

Kid's Korner

Zoann Parker, director of Lancaster County 4-H, watches as Michele Roosenberg of Manheim, plants pumpkin seeds in anticipation of the Pumpkin contest to be held on October 14.

Plant Your Pumpkins Now For The Great Pumpkin - Prize Give Away

BY LOU ANN GOOD

All around Lancaster County, kids are planting pumpkin seeds for the great pumpkin-prize give away.

Local businesses are giving the seeds and instructions to any one between the ages of zero and nineteen. Then, On October 14, a Pumpkin Festival will be held at the Lancaster Farm and Home Center, 1383 Arcadia Road.

Kids should choose one of their pumpkins to exhibit at the festival. Prizes will be given for the largest, ugliest, and best decorated.

Imagine, you can win a $500 savings bond for placing first; a $100 one for second placing; and a $50 bond for third prize.

More prizes will be given to the top ten best carved pumpkins.

This week in Penryn, many boys and girls were busily planting their seeds. Nine-year-old Michele Roosenberg of Manheim, said she thought growing a pumpkin would be fun. She planned to plant her seeds in her mom's garden.

Eleven-year-old Victor Joiner of Manheim said he had never planted anything before, but he is looking forward to watching the seeds he planted grow into huge orange pumpkins.

Cousins Jonathan and Laura Hershey of Manheim plan to plant their seeds. Their parents will help them find a 3x3-foot area in full sun with well drained soil to plant the seeds.

According to the instructions, the pumpkin patch should not be near trees or buildings. Turn the soil over with a shovel and break up the larger clods. Rake smooth. To get the largest and best pumpkins, seeds should be planted about a foot apart. Plant the seeds ½ to 1-inch deep in the beginning of June. Plant when the soil is moist but not wet.

Once the pumpkins appear, be on the look out for insects. Most insects can be removed by hand and crushed. Pull weeds before they grow tall. Be careful not to injure the pumpkin vine. As the vines grow, they will become quite large. If they invade areas where they are not wanted, carefully lift them and turn them so they head in a different direction. Never cut or step on the vines because that could kill the plant. Water the plant at least once a week.

Harvest your pumpkin before frost. Leave the stem attached and be careful not to bruise or cut the pumpkin.

To exhibit your pumpkin at the festival, choose one that has a firm stem, no cuts or bruises. Wash it to remove dirt. Pack it in a box stuffed with newspaper so that it will not roll and get damaged on the trip to the festival.

If you have any questions about growing your pumpkins, call Penn State Master Gardeners: Richard Artz, 717 397-0910; Charlie Good, 717 687-6923; and Willard Petrie, 717 442-4421.

According to Zoann Parker, director of Lancaster County 4-H, there are 10,000 packets of pumpkin seeds to be distributed. So far, about one-half of them have been distributed.

If you would like to participate in the program, pick up seeds and instructions at one of the following places: Boscov's Department Store, Brook Lawn Farm Market, Funk's Farm Market, Huber's Nurseries, P.L. Rohrer & Bro., Inc., Stauffer's of Kissel Hill, and Lancaster County 4-H extension office.

See you at the Pumpkin Festival on October 14 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Register your pumpkin between 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. Between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., there will be pony rides, a petting zoo and exhibits to enjoy. Judging will be done between 11 a.m. and noon. Prizes will be awarded between noon and 1 p.m.

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

June is Dairy Month, and a great time to highlight the wholesomeness of dairy foods. Dairy products contribute significant amounts of essential nutrients to the diet including calcium, protein, riboflavin and phosphorous. Versatile enough to fit individual taste preferences, they also fit in with the nutrient needs at different stage of life.

Children's Food Preferences Include Dairy Products.

The growth rate slows down in the childhood years, but children still benefit from the high quality protein, calcium and phosphorus in dairy products. Although many children have erratic appetites and food preferences, they often enjoy dairy foods. Milk, chocolate milk, yogurt, and cheese are popular nutrient-rich dairy foods for children.

Calcium Important For Adolescents.

Life infancy, adolescence is marked by rapid growth. Because of a growth in bone mass, calcium and phosphorus needs are greater during the teen years. Dairy foods supply 76% of available calcium in the diet, but since meal-skipping, fad diets and fast food meals are popular practices during the teen years, calcium intakes are often low. Cheese, such as mozzarella on pizza, and yogurt are well accepted by teens and contribute significant amount of calcium.

Adults Choose From Dairy Variety.

Dairy foods contribute important nutrients for adults as well. We never outgrow our need for milk. Calcium continues to be a concern for many adults, especially women. For adults concerned about their calorie, fat and cholesterol intakes, low-fat milk, yogurt and cheese, as well as nonfat milk and yogurt, are available to choose from

DEVELOP A SOUND MONEY SYSTEM

As food, housing, transportation and recreation costs continue to climb, your family may find it more difficult to make income stretch from one pay day to the next. To increase purchasing power and save for goals in the near future and long term, develop a sound money system.

Start by finding out where the family income goes, have family members who are spending money carry a small notebook and jot down money spent. This way you can keep track of all expenditures, even small items like parking fees, newspapers, cosmetics, refreshments and one-item stops at drug or grocery stores. These are easy to class as little nothings but they can add up to a significant amount of money over a month. It will also help the family to decide on allowances for everyone.

By the end of one week, you will notice that most of the family's spending falls into categories such as food, transportation, housing/housing operation, clothing, vacation, education, gifts, contributions, medical care and personal needs. Keep recording expenses for at least one month. With this information, the family can decide on specific plans for spending future income.

While the family is learning how they are spending their income, set up specific routines for discussing money. Have regular family conferences to talk freely about family needs and goals.

Cows That Don't Smell And Don't Eat

Since the beginning of 1989, Deb Obeholtzer has marketed more than 100 cows. She claims, "They're low maintenance animals. They don't need feed and they don't smell."

BY LOU ANN GOOD

WRIGHTSVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — Who says you need a barn to produce cattle?

Not Deb Oberholtzer. Since the beginning of the year she has produced more than 100 Holsteins in—of all places—her home.

True, they're a bit messy—shedding hair on her carpet and taking up space—but they aren't a bit smelly—at least not to visitors even though Deb swears that she smells cows when working with them.

Her cows aren't registered or classified. They don't give milk, no matter how mature they become. They don't require feed and they don't moo.

What do they do?

They decorate lawns. "Lawn cows," Deb has dubbed them.

No two are alike since Deb places their markings differently each time."

Although others duplicate her efforts, Deb said, "No one else goes into the detail that I put into them." The cows are fitted with stuffed noses and udders and flaunt a full-brushed macrame tail.

The cow-making process includes the whole family. Husband Rick cuts out the plywood form with a jig saw. He fastens on the metal stakes to insert in the ground so that the cows stand upright.

After she cuts out the material, stitches it on a regular sewing machine and stuffs the forms, the Obcholtzers two-year-old and five-year-old help brush the lint off the fur.

The finished product is then sold at Deb's mother's business called "Amish County Furniture" along Rt. 272, 2 miles south of the PA Turnpike exit 21. For more information, call (215) 267-6700. The calves and the smaller cows sell for $55. The large cows sell for $89.

"As fast as I can make them, my mother sells them," Deb said.

Considering that lawn cows are her fulltime job, Deb devotes 40 hours a week making to making about 15 to 20 of them. It takes her about 2½ to three hours for the small ones. The large cows with their stuffed udders require seven hours of hand work.

Although Deb has sewed ever since she can remember, her business evolved rather quickly. Last year, when lawn sheep were the craze, a few people, at her mother's shop, asked if there were cows available. Deb's mother suggested Deb try making one. Deb designed one and after that things took off. Since then, she has changed the designed slightly and added the stuffed udder feature.

The demand was so great that Deb quit her previous fulltime job to fill the orders. She said, "It's much nicer to work out of my home and not need to get a babysitter." But it does create a problem when Deb has an order ready for pick up. Then her two year-old cries because she doesn't want to see any of the cows leave.

Deb who grew up on a dairy farm said that she likes working with her lawn cows better than the real ones. She'd like to make a Guernsey or Angus for special orders.

According to Deb, lawn cows are lots of fun. Owners find them conversational pieces. Passerbys and neighbors find them delightful to gaze at. And occasionally phone calls report a cow has escaped from the barn into the lawn.

For Deb, lawn cows are a profitable business. One made possible by "real" dairy farmers.

Maryland To Hold Beef Festival

Benny Dean and the Southern Rain Country Band, *the Maryland Beef Cook-Off Contest, arts & crafts booths, square dancing and Texas-style dancing demonstrations are among the many featured activities at the First Annual Maryland BEEFestival, Sunday, June 25, from 12 noon to 6 p.m., at the 200-acre "Back Acres" Farm, in Mt. Airy, Maryland.

While everyone's enjoying the live entertainment, educational exhibits and demonstrations, they'll savor the aroma and taste of real Maryland beef rib-eye steak and roast beef sandwiches, barbecue, hot dogs, and more right off the grill. Admission and parking for the Maryland BEEFestival are free.

The BEEFestival is sponsored by The Maryland Beef Council, The Maryland Cattlemen's Association, and Maryland's Organized Beef Breeds. For further information and directions to the 1st Annual Maryland BEEFestival call 301-831-7991.

* The Maryland Beef Cook-Off Contest winner's recipe will be entered in the Regional Contest. The winner of the Regional Contest will proceed to the National Cook-Off Contest in Portland, Oregon. For further information on the Maryland Beef Cook-Off Contest entry rules and regulations, contact Ms. Anita Wehrman at 301-592-3940.

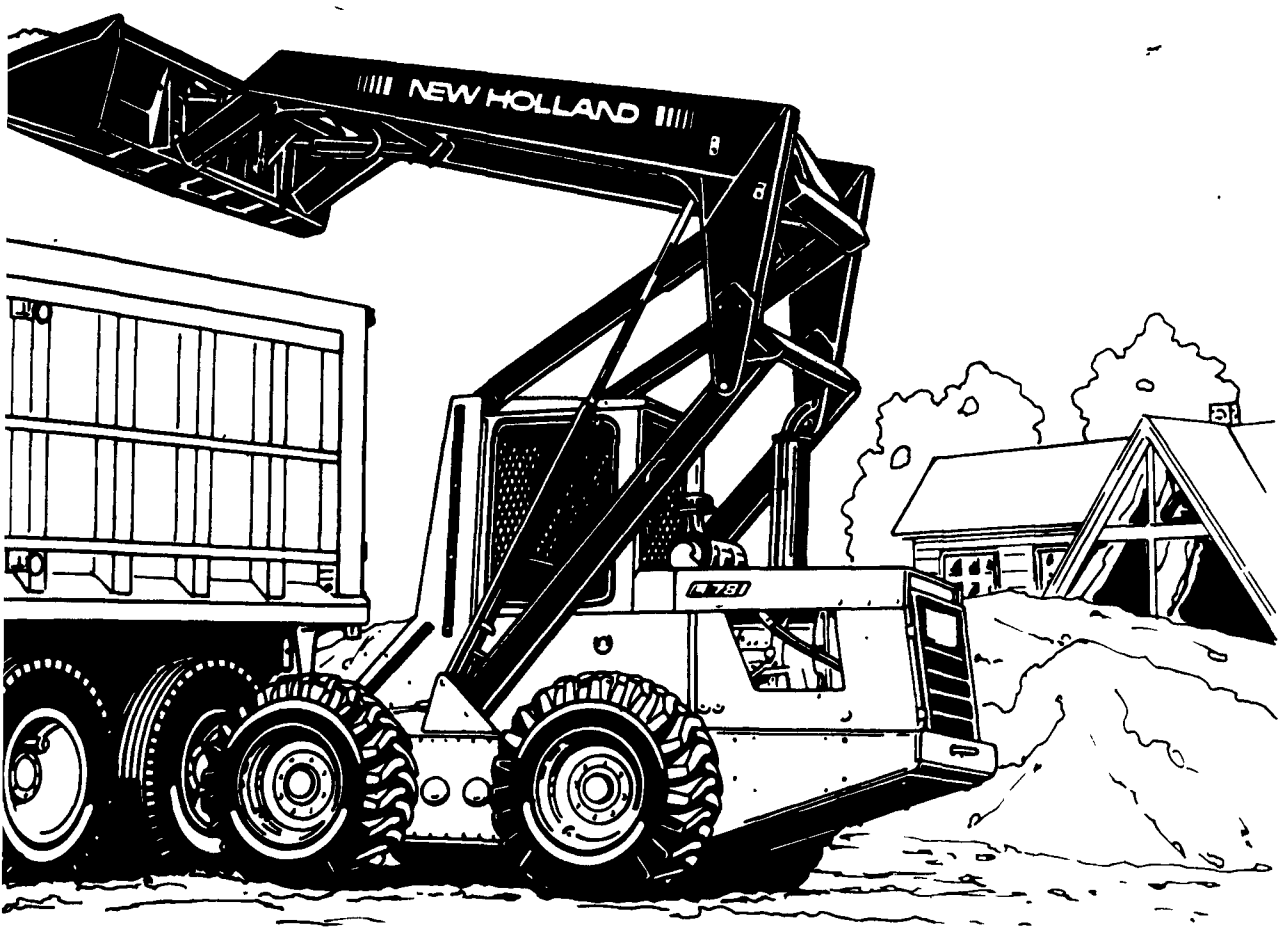
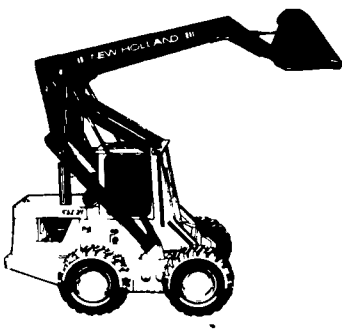
Reach for the sky!





Unmatched dump reach.

Get it done fast!

This loader does it all.

New Holland "Super Boom" loaders lift the payload forward as the boom rises. So you get more forward dump reach where you need it most. Extra dump reach means you can load the center of a tandem-axle dump truck.

Super Boom loaders also feature a longer wheelbase for increased stability and fast cycle times for more productivity.

Models range from 18 to 75 horsepower with SAE load ratings up to 2,050 pounds.

Ask us for a demonstration. You'll see how much better a skid-steer loader can be.

ANSWER — Susan Breckbill of Oxford requested a recipe for a yeast cheese bread. Thanks Martha Hohmeier of Lincroft, NJ; for sending one, and to a reader from Woolrich, for sending a whole wheat version. Also, thanks to Nicci Meyers, Centre Hall, for sending a recipe from the Farmer's Market in EPCOT Center at Walt Disney World.

Yeast Cheese Bread

1 cup bread flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 package RAPID RISE® yeast
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup milk, room temperature
¾ cup hot water
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
2 to 2½ cups flour

Combine the first four ingredients in a large bowl. Mix well. When mixed, add the next three ingredients, beat 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in cheese, begin adding the flour a half cup at a time. The dough should not be sticky, just elastic.

Knead the dough for 10 to 12 minutes on a floured board. Then make a ball out of the dough and cover it and let it rest for 18 minutes.

Grease a bread pan; shape the dough to fit the pan.

Brush the top with egg wash (beaten egg and water). Cover with plastic wrap and place in the refrigerator overnight; or at least 3 to 4 hours. Remove from the refrigerator, let stand at room temperature for 10 to 15 minutes.

Place in a 375 degree preheated oven for 35 minutes or until it tests done. Remove from pan and cool on a wire rack. Makes 1 loaf.

Whole Wheat Swiss Bread

3 cups all purpose flour
2½ -3 cups stone ground whole wheat flour
2 packages active dry yeast
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup milk
1 cup water
4 ounces Swiss cheese, cubed
2 tablespoons butter
Cooking oil

Combine 2 cups all purpose flour, undissoved yeast, sugar and salt in a large bowl. Stir to blend well. Heat together milk, water, cheese and butter until warm, not scalding. Cheese and butter do not need to melt completely.

Add warm liquid to ingredients in bowl. Beat with electric mixer at medium speed for 2 minutes. Scrape bowl occasionally. Add remaining all purpose flour. Beat at high speed for 1 minutes or until thick and elastic.

Gradually stir in just enough whole wheat flour with wooden spoon to make a soft dough, which leaves sides of bowl. Turn onto floured board.

Knead 5 to 10 minutes or until dough is smooth and elastic. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel. Let rest 20 minutes on a board. Punch down. Divide dough in half. Shape into loaves. Place in greased 8½ x4½ x2½ -inch pans. Yields 2 loaves.

Brush dough lightly with oil. Cover pans loosely with plastic wrap.

Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours or let rise and bake immediately. When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover. Let stand 10 minutes while preheating oven.

Bake at 375 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes or until done. Remove from pan immediately. Brush top crust with butter. Cool on rack.

EPCOT Cheese Bread

3½ -4 cups bread flour, divided
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 package active dry yeast
1 cup very warm water
Squeeze margarine
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded natural Swiss cheese
½ cup (2 ounces) grated Parmesan cheese
1 egg, beaten

In a large bowl, combine 2 cups flour, sugar, salt and yeast. Mix well. Gradually add water and 2 tablespoons margarine. Mix until soft dough forms. Combine Swiss and Parmesan cheeses. Reserve ¼ cup. Add remaining cheese mixture, egg and 1 cup flour to dough. Mix well. On floured surface, knead dough 8 to 10 minutes, kneading in remaining flour. Place dough in lightly greased bowl, turning once to grease surface. Cover. Let rest in warm place 20 minutes. On lightly floured surface, knead dough a few times. Divide into four equal pieces.

Cover and let rise 15 minutes. Roll out each piece in a rectangle and roll up from short side. Press ends to seal. Fold ends under loaf. Place seam side down in four greased 6x3-inch loaf pans. Cover, let rise until double in volume, about 50 minutes. Make a ¼ -inch deep slit lengthwise on top of each loaf. Sprinkle each with 1 tablespoon remaining cheese. Bake 375 degrees for 20 minutes.

ANSWER — Susie Lutz, Shoemakersville, requested diabetic recipes, especially those that can be served at covered dish dinners and picnics. Thanks Mrs. Clarence Sheffer, Glen Rock; for sending two.

Tangy Sweet & Sour Meatballs

1 pound ground beef
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 tablespoon mustard
1 clove garlic minced
2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon oregano
1 egg white
2 tablespoons bread crumbs

Sauce:

1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
¾ cup water
2 tablespoon soy sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 packages artificial sweetner

Combine meatball ingredients. Shape into one-inch balls. Brown in Pam-sprayed skillet, turning to brown evenly. Mix sauce ingredients. Add to meatballs. Simmer 20 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Raisin Rice Pudding

1⅓ cups water
¼ cup raisins
½ teaspoons cinnamon, divided
½ cup brown rice
2½ cups 2 percent milk
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 small package sugar-free vanilla instant pudding mix

In medium saucepan, bring water, raisins, salt and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon to a boil. Add rice. Cover and simmer for 45 minutes or until rice is tender and water is absorbed. Remove from heat. Cool slightly. Prepare pudding mix according to package directions, using 2 percent milk. Stir in remaining cinnamon and nutmey. Fold into cooked rice. Top with fresh fruit. Serves 8.

ANSWER — Edna Burkholder, Souderton, requested a recipe for chocolate syrup. Thanks to Marie Parks, Beech Creek, and another reader for sharing their recipes.

Chocolate Syrup

1 cup white sugar
½ cup baking cocoa
¾ cup water

Mix ingredients and boil for 5 minutes. Cool. Cold water can be added to reach desired consistency.

Cocoa Syrup

1½ cup sugar
Dash salt
1 cup hot water
2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine cocoa, sugar and salt in a medium saucepan; gradually stir in water until mixture is smooth. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Continue to cook and stir 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add vanilla. Pour into container, cool. Cover and refrigerate. Use to prepare cold drinks or use over ice cream.

FIG MUFFINS

1 cup sugar
½ cup butter
2 eggs
1½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon ground allspice
½ cup milk
½ cup fig preserves
½ cup chopped black walnuts

Cream sugar and butter until light and flulffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Combine flour, baking powder, and spices; add to creamed mixture alternating with milk; mix lightly. Stir in preserves and walnuts until well blended. Lightly grease 12 cupcake tins. Spoon in batter. Bake at 350 degrees until golden brown, 16-18 minutes. Cool 5 minutes and remove from pan. Serves 12.

MEAT, CHEESE & POTATO SCALLOP

2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
¾ cup cheese
1 medium onion, sliced
4 medium potatoes, sliced
2½ cups canned luncheon meat or diced ham

Over medium heat, mix butter and flour to form paste; add salt and slowly pour in milk, stirring constantly. Add cheese and remove from heat when cheese melts.

Combine remaining ingredients in greased casserole. Pour cheese sauce over top. Cover and bake in 300-degree oven for 1 hour. Remove cover and bake 15 minutes longer. Serves 4-6.

"My name is Patti McLaughlin. I'm married to David and we have one son, Cole David, 4. Dave and I live on my father's dairy farm in Perry County. I work for my father full time on the farm. Dave just finished his college degree in accounting at Elizabethtown College. He will be working for Leventhol & Horwath beginning this fall.

"I am actively involved in the Perry County Dairy Princess and Promotion program. I really enjoy it. We are milking 32 Holstein cows. We also have a few sheep and chickens. Dave is responsible for all the breeding of the cows.

"This contest really interested me, because I love cows. They are all over my house, including my curtains in the kitchen."

LASAGNA ROLL UPS

2 whole boneless, skinless chicken breasts (1 pound)
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
6 lasagna noodles
15 ounces ricotta cheese
8 ounces shredded mozarella
1 egg
3 tablespoons parsley flakes
1 quart spaghetti sauce

Prepare lasagna as directed on package. Heat oil in skillet over medium-high heat; add chicken. Cook about 8 minutes per side, or until cooked through. Remove chicken to cutting board. Let cool 5 minutes. Slice chicken into long strips.

In medium bowl, combine cheeses, egg, and parsley; set aside. Heat oven to 350 degrees. Spread 1 cup sauce over bottom of casserole dish. Set aside.

Place lasagna noodle on work surface. Spread cheese mixture (about ½ cup) over noodle. Place a few chicken strips at end. Roll up noodle, jelly roll fashion, and place in casserole, seam side down. Repeat with remaining noodles. Pour sauce over centers of roll ups. Cover with foil, bake 20 minutes. Take foil off and sprinkle with grated romano or Parmesan cheese. Bake 5 to 10 minutes longer.

ASPARAGUS WITH CHEESE SAUCE

½ teaspoon cornstarch
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup milk
2 slices cheddar cheese, shredded
1 pound asparagus, cooked

In small sauce, combine cornstarch, mustard, pepper, and milk. Microwave on 1 to 1½ minutes on high until thickened, stirring at ½ minute intervals. Blend in cheese and pour over drained asparagus.

PARTY POTATOES

8-10 medium potatoes, cooked
8 ounces cream cheese
¼ cup sour cream
Salt, butter, paprika

Beat softened cheese and sour cream. Add cooked potatoes. Season to taste with salt. Add milk until potatoes are a nice consistency. Spoon into grease casserole. Brush with butter and sprinkle with paprika. Brown in 325-degree oven for 20-25 minutes.

MAYONNAISE DRESSING

2 cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon tumeric
1 teaspoon mustard
2 eggs
4 cups vinegar and milk
Lump of butter
Dash pepper

Mix everything togehter and bring to a boil. Reader writes that this is an old recipe that works well on potatoe salad.

Miriam Hoover

IRISH BATTER BREAD

3 cups sifted flour
½ cup sugar
4 teaspoons bakin powder
¾ cup raisins
2 eggs, beaten
1½ cups milk
½ stick butter, melted

Mix all ingredients well. Let stand in pan for 20 minutes. Bake one hour at 325 degrees in greased loaf pan.

CHEESE SCALLOPED POTATOES

6 cups potatoes
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped onion
3 cups milk
2 tablespoons flour
Pepper to taste
1 teaspoon parsley
1½ cups processed cheese, diced

Cook and shred potatoes. Melt butter in a pan and add flour mixed with ½ cup milk; stir in remaining milk. Add seasoning and cheese. Cook until cheese melts. Put potatoes in crock pot and pour sauce over top. Cook on low for four hours.

Recipe For Becoming Adams County Dairy Princess

BIGLERVILLE (Adams Co.) — Begin the recipe with a warm, welcoming smile, add in an entertaining and informative skit, then mix thoroughly with large amounts of enthusiasm for promoting the dairy industry. The result is the 1989 Adams County Dairy Princess Stacy Harlow.

Stacy was crowned at the 22nd Annual Adams County Dairy Princess Pageant held Saturday evening, June 10th, at the Biglerville High School. She is the daughter of Charles and Susan Harlow, Gettysburg. A senior at New Oxford High School, Stacy has worked for the past seven years on a neighboring Holstein Farm. She is currently serving as president of the Adams County 4-H Dairy Club and has competed on both the dairy cattle judging team and the dairy quiz bowl team.

Crowned the 1989 Alternate Adams County Dairy Princess was Susan Murren, 20, daughter of Thomas and Marion Murren, Hanover. She is a 1987 graduate of the Littlestown High School where she was active in the FFA program. An eight-year member of the 4-H program, Susan competed in dairy judging and dairy quiz bowl competition and well as public speaking contests at the state levels.

Serving as judges for the contest were: William O'Brien, Loan Officer with York Farm Credit; Nina Burdett, Windy-Knoll-View Holstein Farm, Mercersburg; and Lester Martin, Pleasant Valley Jersey Farm, Chambersburg.

Another highlight of the evening was the announcement of the county winners in the "Best Dairy Dessert Contest". Presentations were made by Master of Ceremonies Guy Sprague. Contest rules required that the contestant present one finished sample of the recipe, have the recipe typed on an index card, and that the recipe must contain at least two different dairy products. First prize of $50.00 went to Robin Thompson for "Amaretto Mousse Cheesecake"; second prize, $25.00, to Mary Sprague for "English Trifle"; and third prize, $15.00 to Geneva Holtzinger for "Deep Dish Coconut Cream Pie".

Lebanon County To Hold Pageant

Kynel Bombardner

Brenda Dice

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — The Lebanon County Dairy Princess Pageant will be held Saturday, June 24, at 7:00 p.m. in the Annville Elementary School. The two young ladies vying for the title are Kynel Bomgardner, daughter of John and Margaret Bomgardner of Ono; and Brenda Dice, daughter of Harold and Audrey Dice, Fredericksburg.

The county will also be holding their first "Little Dairy Miss" contest at the Pageant.

For an ultra-luscious, ultra-easy dessert, start with a purchased frozen layer cake with lots of frosting. Ever so carefully pry the layers apart and smooth on a layer of softened ice cream. Superb!

a Performed by professionals quickly at reasonable cost
b By yourself with your own or rented equipment.
c. Or other more conventional methods
2. APPLICATION - To insure better adherence to this super prepared surface, use the best fine bristle brush in four directions to evenly distribute the recommended mil thickness of seal coat coverage.
3. SPECIALIZATION - Every barn is different but generally it's best to use a high quality mildew resistant product, specially formulated to meet the requirements of this partially weathered wood that was and will be weather stressed.
4. WARNING - The modified oil latex is less effective as a wood preserver and actually increases nail & metal deterioration. Deal with home people. At their rates, I could double mine

Bedford County Dairy Princess

BY LINDA WILLIAMS
Bedford Co.

LOYSBURG (Bedford Co.) — Jennifer Lynne Veach, daughter of Elaine and Paul Veach of Everett, was crowned the 1989-90 Bedford County Dairy Princess in a pageant held at the Northern Bedford County High School on Friday evening, June 9.

Veach received her crown from outgoing diary princess, Angilique McDonald. "The Miss Congeniality Award" went to Angelene Kennedy, daughter of Janice and Willfred Kennedy of New Enterprise.

Other contestants, who along with Kennedy, were named princesses were Lou Ann Claar of Bedford, and Pennie L. Clark, also of Bedford.

Veach graduated from Everett Area High School on June 8. She works on her grandfather's farm and has two cows of her own. She is also an employee of the Gateway Restaurant. Next year, she plans to attend the University of West Virginia.

The new princesses' skit for the pageant was a classroom lecture to a group of stuffed mice on the benefits of calcium, milk and cheese. She herself was dressed as a mouse.

In answer to the questions, "What would you talk about if you attended a banquet and were seated beside the president of a bank?", she replied. "I would tell him how many farmers need loans to plant their crops."

The pageant followed a turkey dinner prepared by the band parents of Northern Bedford County High School.

Jennifer Lynne Veach

Peggy Henry was the chairman of the event.

Ross Hershberger provided additional musical entertainment. Special songs presented by the contestants and a group of future dairy princess contestants were written by Sara Deputy and Joan Woy.

Dorothy Naugle was the master of ceremonies.

Last year, as the 1988-89 dairy princess, Angilique McDonald traveled 5,091 miles. She spoke to 3,425 children in 150 classrooms, attended 16 farm meetings, 18 non-farm meetings, 39 special events, and did 14 store promotions.

STRAWBERRY DELIGHT

2 cups crushed strawberries
2 packages instant vanilla pudding
2 packages strawberry gelatin
1 container whipped topping

Dissolve gelatin in 2 cups boiling water. Cool at room temperature. Mix 2 cups milk with vanilla pudding and combine all ingredients with the gelatin. Beat with mixer or by hand. Pour into two serving dishes and refrigerate until reading to serve.

STRAWBERRY PIE

½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons instant clearjell
1 quart strawberries
1 cup strawberry puree

Mix sugar and instant clearjell together. Add strawberry puree and mix well with wooden spoon until it forms a smooth paste. Add strawberries and place in a baked pie crust. Top with whipped cream.

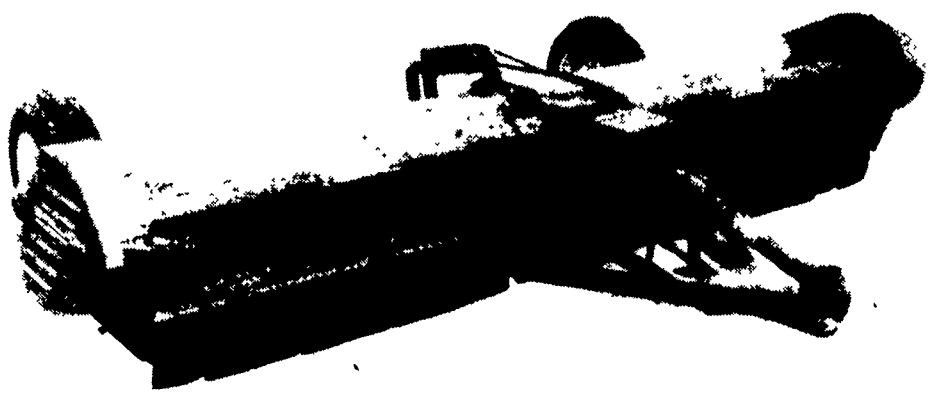
FLAIL SHREDDERS
TWO SIZES — 12 AND 15 FOOT CUTTING WIDTHS



THIS HEAVY DUTY GEAR BOX IS THE HEART OF THE MACHINE

Available In 540 RPM and 1000 RPM

The gear box on the Brillion flail shredder is made in Brillion's own modern foundry. It is then assembled with husky machine cut gears and tapered roller bearings. Input and output shafts are 1¾ " diameter. The geat box is designed to match the horsepower of large tractors... to keep going when others heat up and quit.

When you buy a Brillion you get the BEST... built-in quality with added strength where it counts...all the way from the heavier hood with replaceable wear plates, right down to the dynamically balanced rotor with knives installed to provide smooth, vibration-free operation. With your Brillion you can cut and shred a full 12 or 15 foot of residue. And you can move right along without costly and time-consuming breakdowns. The rotor shaft is made of 1¾ " steel. Drives between the gear box and pulleys are 2¾ " high capacity tubing, shielded by a metal sleeve. The PTO shaft is integrally shielded with a dent-resistant plastic tube.

Courtroom Scene Enables Franklin Co. Teen To Claim Dairy Princess Crown

BY BONNIE BRECHBILL
Franklin Co. Correspondent

KAUFFMAN STATION — Jennie Gloss, 17, has been named Franklin County's new dairy princess. She received her crown June 10 from 1988 princess Denise Martin at a banquet at the Kauffman Ruritan Building.

The daughter of Arthur and Lorraine Gloss of Chambersburg, Jennie will be a senior at Chambersburg Area Senior High School in the fall. She helps to milk her family's herd of 110 Brown Swiss. A member of the Horticulture Club, FFA, the 4-H Eastern Dairy Club and the 4-H Exchange Club, Jennie also enjoys gardening and working with flowers. After graduation, she plans to attend business college to become an accountant.

Jennie's skit depicted a courtroom scene. The case was Martha Milk vs. Charlie Cola. Portraying a lawyer, Jennie gave evidence in favor of naming milk as America's number one drink.

In her farewell speech, Denise related some of the highlights of her reign. Her first promotion involved taking a Jersey calf to a local mall. When several people thought the animal was a baby moose, horse or deer, "I knew my job was cut out for me," Denise said.

She also enjoyed school promotions. "The kids get so excited about the crown," she said. "They want to know if it's real. They make you feel special."

A 1989 graduate, Denise plans to spend the summer on her family's Jersey farm, then join a Youth Evangelistic Service team in overseas missions.

Clearfield To Crown Princess

CURWENSVILLE (Clearfield Co.) — The Clearfield County Dairy Princess Crowning for 1989 will be held June 30 at the Civic Center in Curwensville. The cermonies will start at 8 p.m. followed by an ice cream social and entertainment.

There will be a Dairy Maid Crowning for girls 9, 10, and 11 by June 1. They must live on a dairy farm, father work on a dairy farm or be a 4-H dairy club and/or FFA member with a dairy project. The girls must write an essay on one dairy product (250 words), and a paragraph on why they would like to be a dairy princess. They are to be sent to Mary Ann Way, R.D.#4, Clearfield by June 23rd.

Any girl who has completed her junior year in high school and is not over 24 years of age is eligible to compete in the Dairy Princess Contest. She must also be from a dairy farm or carry a 4-H and/or FFA project, owning at least two animals.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

Peas and strawberries, peas and strawberries — they occupy most of my time just now. Apparently, I've been practically giving them away as I've been told that I'm selling them much too cheaply. It is difficult for me to ask several dollars for a quart even though yesterday I got soaked to the skin twice while picking. I like to pick my things at the peak of perfection.

Just now I have a wide variety of flowers blooming. There are larkspur, lilies, coreopsis, feverfew, and iris in a bouquet on the kitchen table. My iris sometimes get a disease and I have been told they should be sprayed several times a year. As I have three big beds of hybrid iris with seven different colors, I want to take care of them as people often compliment me on their beauty. They were a gift from my daughter several years ago when she lived in Indianapolis.

The other Saturday I went to a public sale of household goods. Only a few times a year do I take time to attend a local public sale. My mother always liked sales and bought so many dishes and linens that finally my father forbid her to buy anymore. One of my sisters is also an addict and is filling her house with antiques as she attends one sale after another. When I was first married, I attended a few sales as I hunted tables, chairs and lamps to furnish my home. I even managed to acquire some small items which are now antiques.

At this last sale I stupidly bought a sofa and two chairs, which we needed, without a plan to get rid of our old ones. Have you ever tried storing an extra set of living room furniture? I was told by several charitable organizations that I would have to wait three weeks before they'd pick up our old furniture. So, we decided to haul it to Lancaster ourselves for them.

Tioga County Princess Begins Reign

WHITNEYVILLE (Tioga) — Tioga County, Pa. crowned their 1989 Dairy Princess in front of a crowd of more than 150 people at the recent Dairy Recognition Banquet held at the Whitneyville Fairgrounds Building.

Debra Ann Gibson, daughter of Edgar and Joyce Messner of Roaring Branch was crowned Tioga County Dairy Princess. Kathy Stamets of Osceola was named Tioga County Alternate. Kathy is the daughter of William and Mary Stamets.

Winners of the Tioga County Dairy Recipe Contest included: Category I Snacks, Dips, Appetizers or Punch: First place-Diane Mosher of Wellsboro; Second Place-Teresa McIlwain of Canton.

Category II Soups and Salads: First place-Diane McIlwain of Canton; Second Place-Emmaline Baity of Covington.

Category III Casseroles and Main Dishes: First Place-Phyllis Chamberlain of Mansfield; Second Place-Patricia A. Miller of Wellsboro.

Category IV Desserts: First Place-Annie Clark of Mansfield; Second Place-Ann Dunham of Wellsboro.

Grand Prize winner was Diane McIlwain of Canton.

Two Tioga County Farms were awarded the titles of Dairy of Distinction. They were the farms of Dean and Emmaline Baity of Covington, and Bernard and Esther and Harold Courtney of Mansfield. A slide presentation was given featuring all of Tioga County's winners and the newly named farms.

The Mansfield Men's Chorus, a yearly favorite, entertained the crowd with their own versions of dairy classics such as; "Get me to the Barn on Time", "There is Nothing Like a Cow", and "Bossy's Bustin' out All Over".

Terry Kizer, 1988 Tioga County Dairy Princess, said in her farewell address about her year as Dairy Princess and Debra's upcoming year, "Just think of it as a new adventure because you'll find many treasures."

Terry Kizer Crowned Debra Ann Gibson the new Tioga County Dairy Princess.

Master Gardeners Answer Backyard Questions

LEBANON — Since last August of 1988 a group of Lebanon County residents interested in home gardening has been involved in a Master Gardening Educational program sponsored by the Lebanon County office of Penn State University Cooperative Extension. The program initially consisted of weekly classes conducted at the Lancaster Farm and Home Center, where Penn State extension specialists and county agents presented subjects ranging from soil and fertilizers, integrated pest management, to lawn care and ornamentals, pruning of fruit trees and raising vegetables.

A requisite was that persons involved in the Master Gardening Program had to take a pre-test as well as score 80% in a final exam prepared by county extension agents. In addition, each Master Gardener agreed to serve 50 hours in volunteer capacity to assist other gardeners in Lebanon County and provide gardening expertise under the supervisor of the Extension Office.

The Lebanon County Master Gardening Plan is part of a larger state and future network of Master Gardening endeavors. Actually Pennsylvania and this local area in particular are late comers in Master Gardening. The western and southern states have had programs of this type since the 1970s. Currently Master Gardeners are assisting in providing assistance via the telephone to individuals who have questions concerning home gardening.

Master Gardening in Lebanon County is under the direction of Denis Hoke, county extension agent. The following are the current 1988-89 participants: Rhelda Brown, Hershey; Edwina Eckenroth, Annville; Kenneth Good, Myerstown; Susan Keizer, Mt. Gretna; Linda Leedy, Lebanon; David Stachow, Lebanon; Joan Stakem, Lebanon; and Susan Werner, Jonestown.

Farm Women Societies

Lancaster Society 25

Lancaster County Society of Farm Women #25 met June 10 at the home of Helen Mylin, Willow Street. There were 15 members present.

Fifteen members attended a meeting by Society #24 at the Farm and Home Building. A report was given of the Spring Rally. Six members had attended.

One hundred dollars will be donated to the county project, Center for Abused Women and Children.

Mary Roland was honored on her 80th birthday and presented a Farm Women pin.

Plans were made for the celebration of the 25th Anniversary of Society #25 to be held in September.

Next meeting July 8, will start at the home of Phyllis Reapsome, 1254 New Danville Pike. Then members will attend Sight and Sound.

Lancaster Society 18

Lancaster Society of Farm Women #18 met June 10, at the Hempfield Brethren Church. Maggie Carper was the hostess.

Lester Hostetter spoke on varieties and care of roses.

The business meeting was in charge of president Mildred Greider.

A donation of $200 was given to the Lancaster County Farm Women project for Abused Women and Children.

The next meeting will be a picnic on July 15 for members and husbands.

Berks Society 9

Janet Schlegel, presided over the recent meeting of the Berks County Farm Women Executive Board, with 20 members and two guests present.

The Farm women will be making hamburgers at the Annual Berks Heim Festival, June 3 and 4. The proceeds from the festival held each spring are used to supply items not budgeted for the residents. Everyone is welcome to join the folks at Berks Heim for a weekend of fun, food, games and entertainment.

A committee will be appointed by President Schlegel to produce a poster or display for our county to enter the State Project: "Farm Women — The Road Traveled."

The next meeting of the Berks County Executive Board will be June 26 in the Agriculture Center.

Bupp Speaks At Veal Luncheon

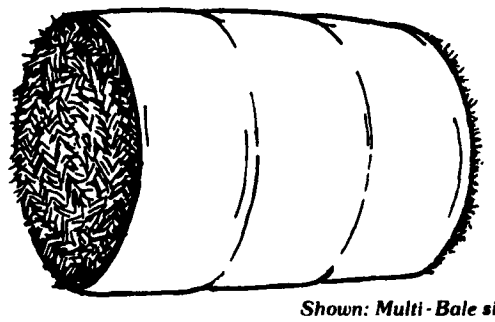
Agri-Tuf Super Ties™
25 per pack $7.00

A fine way to put up round hay bales in early spring or late summer, or whenever hay drying is a problem. By cutting your hay and only drying it down to approximately 70% to 45% moisture, you save the leaves and protein and cut drying time. It will be off the ground before the next rain. So consider the "Agri-Tuf Bag™" the next time you cut down quality hay.

For best results: Bag the same day it is baled. Avoid sitting on sharp stones or stubbles. Keep bag sealed for at least 3 weeks before opening to give hay time to ferment.

Agri-Tuf Bale Sleeves™



Shown: Multi-Bale size

State Beef Cookoff Winners Announced

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The first place winner of the 1989 Pennsylvania Beef Cookoff is no stranger to cooking competitions. A past grand prize winner in the Campbell's Soup Recipe Contest, and a finalist in the Pillsbury Bake-off, Anthony J. "Tony" DeSantis, of Blanchard, PA., impressed the panel of judges with his "Multi-national beef stir-fry" recipe.

DeSantis bested six other finalists in the state cookoff which was held on May 26, at Boscov's Department Store, near Harrisburg. DeSantis will now compete against other state indoor category winners at the National Beef Cook-off, in Portland, Oregon, on September 17-19. As the winner of the Pennsylvania competition, DeSantis was awarded $500, plus an expense-paid trip to the national competition where he will be vying for up to $15,000 in prize monies.

The second place winner in the cookoff contest was Gilda Lester, of Chadds Ford. Her "Bistro Beef" recipe earned her $250 in prize money. Third place was awarded to Sally Scorzetti, of Wynnewood, and her "Delectable Beef Tenderloin" recipe. In addition to the $100 third prize award, Scorzetti's recipe also earned an additional $100 for being selected the most convenient recipe by the judges.

The Pennsylvania Beef Cookoff is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Beef Council, in cooperation with Fox's Markets.

Multi-National Beef Stir-Fry

1¼ pounds of boneless beef top sirloin, cut 1-inch thick
¼ cup bottled Italian salad dressing
⅓ cup Hoisin sauce
⅓ cup picante sauce (recommend medium flavor)
2 to 6 drops Louisiana hot sauce
3½ teaspoons oil
1 large bunch of broccoli--flowerettes only with 1-inch stem
1 each red, yellow, and green sweet pepper, seeded, cut into julienne strips.
1 bunch scallions, cut in 1½ inch pieces
1 clove garlic, minced
Hot cooked rice for six

Trim excess fat from beef. Slice into strips, about ¼ -inch thick. Place in plastic bag with Italian dressing; close and marinate 1 to 2 hours. Turn bag once or twice.

In small bowl stir together Hoisin, picante, and Louisianna sauces; reserve.

Heat 1 teaspoon oil in wok-type pan; add broccoli, peppers, scallions, and garlic. Stir-fry over medium-high heat 2 to 3 minutes. Cover; lower heat; cook 1 to 3 minutes longer. Remove to bowl.

Remove beef from marinade and pat-dry with paper towels. Heat 1½ teaspoons oil in pan, and add half of beef. Stir-fry until beef is no longer pink. Remove to bowl with broccoli mixture. Heat another teaspoon oil in wok, and stir-fry remaining beef as above. Remove to bowl with broccoli/beef mixture.

Add sauce to wok-type pan; then return beef/broccoli mixture. Cook, stirring often, for 3 minutes. Taste; adjust seasonings if needed. Serve over rice. Serves 6.

Bistro Beef

2 pounds beef tenderloin
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup, plus one tablespoon, olive oil, divided
1 tablespoon butter
2 large onions, chopped
3 cloves garlic, minced
2 green peppers, cut into strips
2 red peppers, cut into strips
8 medium-sized whole canned tomatoes, use fresh if in season
1 cup red dry wine
¼ cup, plus 1 tablespoon, balsamic vinegar
1 bay leaf
¼ cup whole stuffed green olives
¼ cup sliced black olives
¼ cup chopped parsley
4 cups cooked rice

Slice beef into two-inch by one-inch pieces. (partially freeze to handle easily) Mix beef slices with Worchestershire sauce and two tablespoons of olive oil. Set aside in bowl.

In saucepan, heat two tablespoons of olive oil, and one tablespoon butter. Add onions, garlic, and peppers and saute until cooked. Add whole tomatoes, wine, vinegar, and bay leaf. Cook until reduced by half. Add olives. Keep warm while you cook the beef.

Heat the remaining one tablespoon olive oil over fairly high heat in skillet. Add beef and stir fry quickly one to two minutes. Season lightly with salt and pepper. Add to sauce. Serve immediately over hot rice. Be sure to discard bay leaf before serving. Serves 8.

Delectable Beef Tenderloin

Marinate:
1 clove garlic, sliced
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup red wine
1 tablespoon brandy
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 bay leaf, crumbled
2 tablespoons fresh ground pepper
½ teaspoon salt

Combine marinate ingredients and mix well. Place beef and marinate in a plastic bag and refrigerate for several hours.

Place beef in pan (uncovered) and bake at 425 degrees for 30 minutes. Discard marinate. Serves 6.

York County Beef

The 4-H members of the York Co. 4-H Beef Club recently held their first show of the 1989 show season. This "Preview Show" was held at the York Fairgrounds.

During the show the members showed their beef breeding projects, future market steer projects and the expertise of showmanship. These youth will be working with and caring for the animals throughout 1989 and many will be competing at the 1990 Farm Show in January.

In the breeding division of the show, an Angus heifer shown by Jennifer Calderazzo, York, was named champion Angus and also supreme champion heifer over all breeds. The Angus heifer shown by Sandra Eisenhour, Wellsville, was chosen reserve champion Angus and also reserve supreme championship heifer.

In the other two beef breeds, representing the winners were as follows: champion Hereford heifer honors went to Jennifer Altobelli, Dover, while her brother Matthew piciked up the reswerve champion Hereford rosette. The Simmental division saw another brother & sister again taking the champion and reserve champion honors home. Heifers owned by Joyce & Jay Stough, Seven Valleys, were named champion and reserve champion respectively,

The steer show was split into three weight divisions with the lightweight being won by Jason Baer, Brodbecks. The medium-weight division was won by Paul Miller, Jr., Spring Grove, and the heavyweight division was won by Cathy Shive of Seven Valleys. After all weight divisions were shown Paul Miller's steer was selected grand champion and Cathy Shive's steer was selected reserve grand champion steer.

The toughest part of the show always seems to be the showmanship competition. This year's show saw these members winners of their age group: 16-19 Years Old was won by Sandra Eisenhour; 13-15 Years Old was won by Robin Shive, Seven Valleys; 11-12 Years Old was won by Jennifer Calderazzo; the 8-10 Years Old was won by second-year member Raymond Stough of Seven Valleys.

The show was judged by Larry Weaver from Lancaster County. Larry is a 4-H leader in Lancaster and farms 300 acres and was named a 1989 Master Farmer winner during the 1989 Pennsylvania Farm Show.

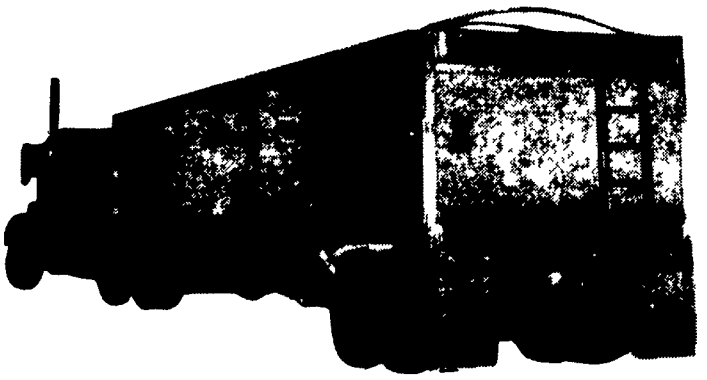
REDESIGNED 1989 TIMPTE GRAIN HOPPER



Got Grain? Then get the trailer that is Timpte tough... the Super Hopper. It's not only built to take it...it's also built to cut fuel costs. The Super Hopper is lightweight and aerodynamically designed to reduce wind drag. When there's grain to be hauled, Timpte does the haulin' best and pulls a lot easier than the rest.

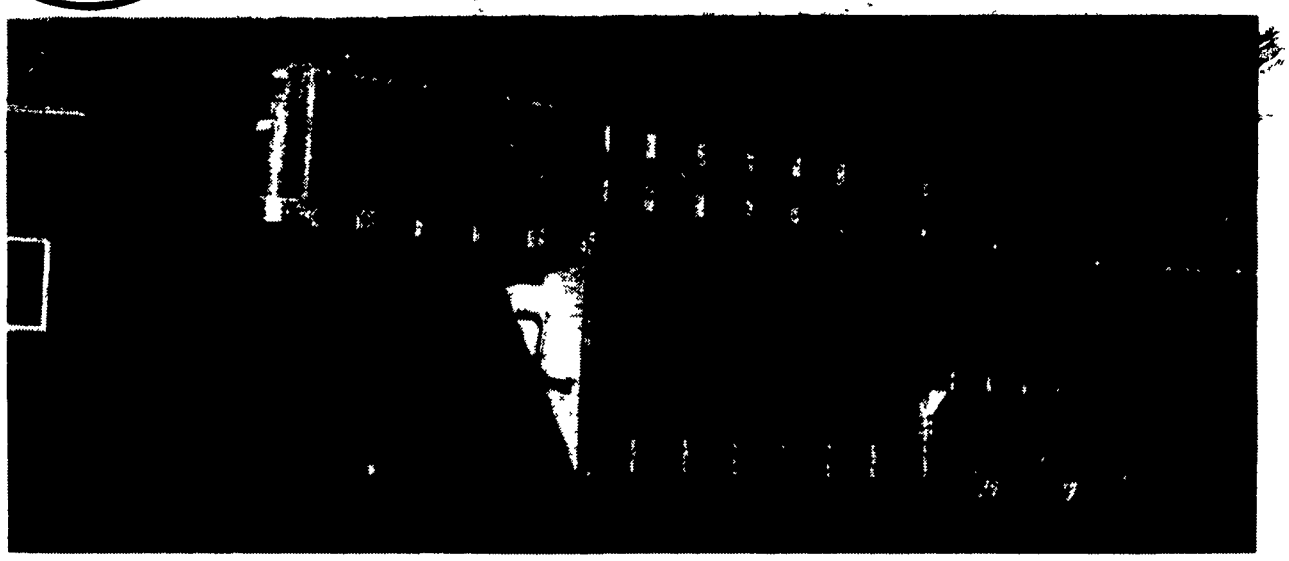
ALUMINUM GOOSENECK TRAILERS



20' Gooseneck Trailer

A versatile, lightweight, Eby aluminum stock trailer is built to provide years of maintenance free service. An Eby trailer is custom built to fit your individual hauling needs - No mass production! We use only quality components and strong alloy aluminum to manufacture what may be the last trailer you'll ever buy.

- LIGHTWEIGHT - Eby stock trailers are 25-35% lighter than comparable steel trailers. Less weight means better fuel mileage or increased payload.
- MAINTENANCE- Eby aluminum trailers won't rust. Welding and painting can cost you dollars in down time and repairs.
- DURABILITY - Eby trailers are built tough. Quality components and 6061 alloy aluminum provide the ruggedness required in a livestock trailer.

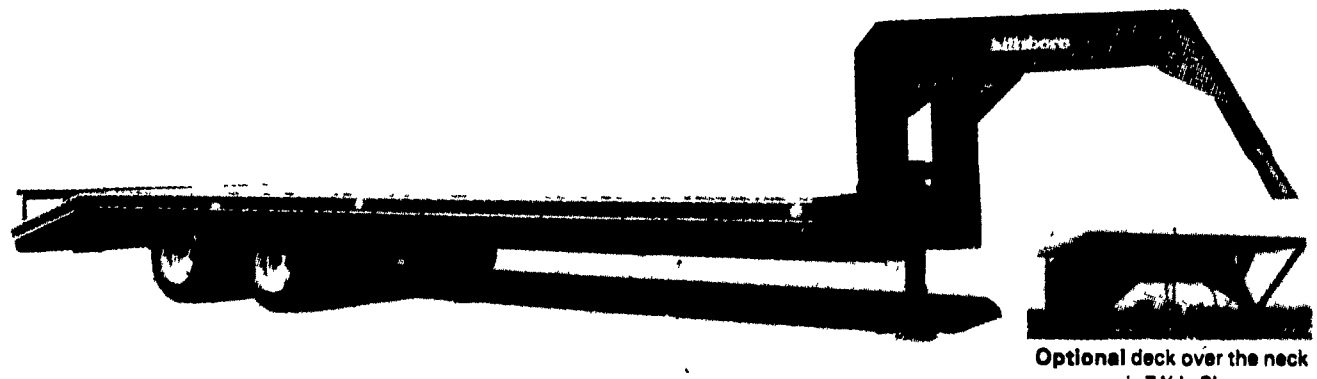
hillsboro
flatbed trailer
with flip-up beaver tail
Compare our quality and price!



Optional deck over the neck is 7½'x 8'

The FLIP-UP BEAVERTAIL raises and lowers in seconds -- slide out ramps are stored under the beavertail. The Hillsboro Flatbed features a full 96" deck width which is more value than the competition.

The Hillsboro Flatbed is available in two styles; the 20' and 24' trailer with standard neck, and the 28', 30' and 32' trailer with heavy duty neck.

VERSATILE — RUGGED — RELIABLE and REASONABLY PRICED!

The Hillsboro Flatbed Trailer with flip-up beavertail can be the one trailer that means lower cost for you. Here's why!!

VERSATILITY! That's what makes a Hillsboro trailer such a good investment. With the beavertail down it's an excellent trailer for moving wheeled equipment. Flip the beavertail up and it adds an extra four feet of deck space for hauling hay and other bulky loads.

HERE'S WHAT HILLSBORO QUALITY MEANS - All Hillsboro trailers are manufactured in precise jigs and fixtures which assures excellent alignment of axles, a better pulling trailer, a level and square trailer.

HILLSBORO WORKMANSHIP INCLUDES-Exceptional weld quality, material that is chemically cleaned, two coats of high quality paint, material strength engineered into the best flatbed value.

4-H HAPPENINGS

Four-H'er Leaves For Taiwan

Craig Williams, son of Tom and Tiz Williams of Middletown, will be leaving today for orientation at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md., to begin his six-month international experience in Taiwan through the International 4-H Youth Exchange (IFYE) program. He will be returning to Dauphin County in the early part of December.

The Williams family members are no strangers to international programs. Tom was an IFYE member to India in 1962. Since that time, the Williams have hosted delegates from numerous programs including Friendship Force and IFYE. The eldest Williams son, Tony, is presently with Up with People.

Craig, 25, was involved in the Dauphin County 4-H Dairy club and exchange club. While attending Penn State, where he received a bachelor's degree in dairy production, he had several jobs ranging from DHIA milk tester to working on a wheat harvest crew in the Midwest. Upon graduation, he worked for the American Jersey Cattle Club as the Northeast field representative.

While in Taiwan, Craig will work closely with his host families on their farms. He will become a contributing part of their communities while sharing his experience and knowledge with them. "I hope to gain from my expereinces and transfer them into practical techniques and knowledge," said Craig. "I hope to learn new and different animal science and farming techniques, share these new ideas, and mix them with existing ones."

During his stay, Craig will send reports of his activities and experiences to his sponsors and ask any questions sponsors may have of the people in Taiwan. After returning, he hopes to talk to organizations of his experience.

Anyone wishing to become a sponsor or send contributions, shoud write Penn State Cooperative Extension, 1451 Peters Mountain Rd., Dauphin, PA 17018. Make checks payable to Dauphin County 4-H Clubs Inc.

First Annual Maryland Beefestival

MT. AIRY, MD — Benny Dean and the Southern Rain Country Band, the Maryland Beef Cook-Off Contest, arts and crafts booths, square dancing and Texas-style dancing demonstrations are among the many featured activities at the first annual Maryland Beefestival on Sunday, June 25, from noon until 6:00 p.m. at the Back Acres Farm in Mt. Airy, Md.

"I'd like to encourage everyone to bring their families and friends to enjoy this day full of fun in the country," said Dr. Emmett Full, chairman of the Maryland Beef Council. "And, while everyone's enjoying the live entertainment, educational exhibits, and demonstrations, they'll savor the aroma and taste of real Maryland beef ribeye steak and roast beef sandwiches, barbeque, hot dogs, and more right off the grill."

Admission and parking for the festival are free. It is sponsored by the Maryland Beef Council, the Maryland Cattlemen's Association , and Maryland's Organized Beef Breeds. For further information and directions, call 301/831-7991

Hunterdon County Dairy Farm Open House

The Hunterdon County Dairy 4-H Club is holding an open house on the Frank Cooper dairy farm in Delaware Township, N.J., on June 25. Beginning at noon, the event will include a hayride tour of the farm, dairy presentations by the Hunterdon County Dairy Princess and 4-H'ers, and viewing of a videotape, "Milk in the Computer Age," and film, "Wholy Cow." In addition, visitors will be able to milk a cow and eat free cheese and other dairy products.

The Cooper farm, a dairy of distinction award winner, milks 100 Holsteins and raises 100 acres of hay, straw, and corn. It is located on Hamp Road. Take Rt. 202 south of Flemington to the Dilts Corner/Mt. Airy exit. Drive toward Dilts Corner and follow the signs to the farm. For further information, call 609/397-2971.

Lebanon County Sheep

The Lebanon County 4-H sheep Club held a meeting on June 8, at the house of leader, Linda Hetrick. There were 15 members present.

Greg Snyder gave a demonstration on fitting a market lamb. Greg is a Dorset breeder. He also raises Hereford cattle. Also, he judges at various shows.

Following the excellent demonstration by Greg, a short business meeting was held. Fair handbooks and registration papers were handed out. Other business discussed was upcoming events. The Jr. Livestock Field Day will be held on June 17. The National Dorset Show and Sale, will be held on July 7 and 8. The last item discussed was the Wool Pull which was held on June 14, from 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Brownies Learn about Wool

LEBANON — John & Lynn Zerphey, owners of Sheepberry Farms, presented a program on wool and wool processing to the Brownie Troop 664 of the Palmyra/Campbelltown Area, Monday, May 8.

The program was to show wool in its raw state and how it is transformed into yarn for knitting and weaving for garments. The Zerhey's brought hand carding combs, an Ashford treadle spinning wheel, and a small homemade box loom, after each was demonstrated, everyone had an opportunity to work with all the wool processing equipment. The wool that was spun was then knitted into a small square, allowing the children to actually see the process form raw state into a finished product.

The Zerphey's raise two breeds of sheep, black Border Leicesters and Suffolk, and a sample of each kind of wool was used in the demonstration. Along with sheep, they also own two llamas, and also brought along some llama fiber and llama fiber yarn plus samples of mohair and angora.

The Zerphey's became interested in the fiber arts soon after buying their first two sheep, John weaves and Lynn spins and knits. Both have participated in various sheep-to-shawl contests and demonstrations including the PA State Farm Show Contest.

The American Sheep Industry Association, Denver, Colo., provided several kinds of brochures for the members and leaders to further read about the American Wool Industry.

The Zerphey's enjoy the fiber arts and sheep raising and feel that through demonstrations as this one, the public can come to appreciate the American Sheep Industry and see first hand the ancient arts of hand spinning and weaving. A pound of white processed wool was given to the troop for any further projects and each member received a small sample of wool to take home.

LET KUBOTA GENERATE SOLUTIONS TO YOUR CONSTRUCTION NEEDS.

From on-site electricity to earth-moving, Kubota has the solution for your job site construction needs.

Kubota's hard-working excavators, wheel loaders, tractors, and 4-pole diesel generators are designed to solve problems.

Meanwhile, Kubota's rugged R400 wheel loader can lift more than a ton, and dump into a dump truck in less than a second

L-Series tractors are extra smooth on any kind of construction job, with 26 to 50 HP and a choice of mechanical or hydraulic shuttle-shift

When you need tough, dependable equipment, Kubota generates a solution for your construction needs.

To avoid injury do not connect generator to any electrical system unless an isolation switch has been installed

Mifflinburg Young Farmers Group Celebrates 50 Years

MIFFLINBURG (Union Co.) — For 50 years, members of the Mifflinburg Young Farmers Association have been learning how to be better at what they do. An adult education program sponsored by Mifflinburg Area School District and supported primarily with federal and state funds, the Association is the oldest continuously operating Young Farmer chapter in the state and possibly the nation.

Its 128 members, despite the designation "young" adult farmers, range in age from 20 to about 72, according to vocational agriculture teacher Timothy Weller, the Association advisor. A "young farmer" is any farmer willing to learn, Weller explains.

One reason for the chapter's continuing success is its tradition of a monthly dinner-meeting, according to Weller and several others involved with the group.

"The dinner-meetings give members a chance to socialize, to share experiences and to learn together," he explains.

"The meals add a social domension people enjoy," says home economics instructor Betty Jane Mincemoyer. For about 15 years, Mincemoyer and Future Homemakers of America at Mifflinburg High School have been preparing and serving the dinners.

The dinner-meetings are learning experiences for students as well as for the Young Farmers, she explains.

Students learn how to set tables, prepare food for large groups and serve meals. "It takes a great deal of cooperation, and it develops responsibility. They know it's 'their thing,' not mine," Mincemoyer explains.

Any of the FHA chapter's 66 members can help with the monthly dinners. About 10 students are needed each month; they serve 40 to 50 meals.

Mincemoyer tries to tie the menus to the Association's program topics and to introduce new or different foods.

Dairy products are served in June, "National Dairy Month," for example, and pork was featured at a program on swine. A program on soybeans was complemented with dishes made from garden varieties of soybeans.

Other menus have featured foreign foods—French, Mexican and Oriental dishes (the third served with chopsticks)—as well as Pennsylvania Dutch favorites. Zucchini, rhubarb and eggplant—foods less commonly prepared—have been main courses.

"We try to encourage a variety of eating experiences. All the food is prepared the day of the meeting. Sometimes home economics classes help with special dishes," Mincemoyer explains. She shares many of the recipes with both the farmers and students.

On some occasions, she offers programs for the Young Farmers' wives while the farmers are meeting.

The dinner-meetings are a fund-raiser for the FHA chapter, and students who help can earn money toward their attendance at FHA conventions. The project has led to serving meals for other school and community groups, and has helped several students get jobs as waitresses or waiters, Mincemoyer says.

One of the dinners' real success stories has been the involvement of special education students, she adds. As FHA members, the students help prepare and serve the meals, and one student's experience helped her obtain a job in a kitchen at a local university. "I think the dinners have given the farmers a greater awareness of these students' capabilities," she says.

The Young Farmers Association has recognized students' efforts by sponsoring an annual award for an outstanding home economics student.

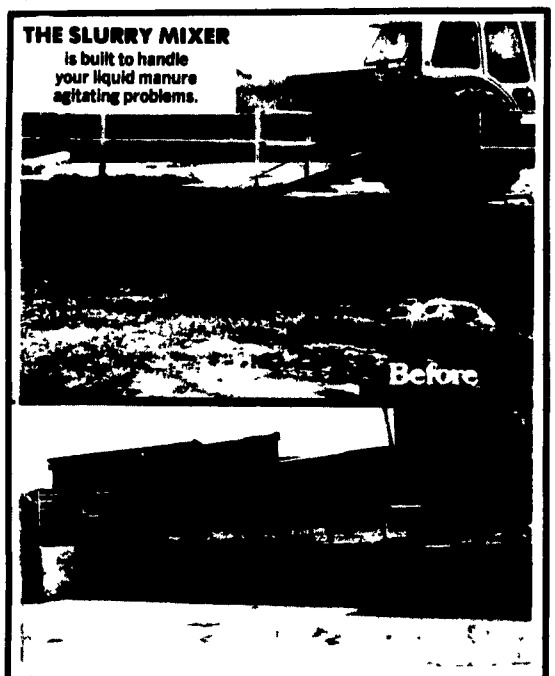
is built to handle your liquid manure agitating problems.



This 3 point hitch Slurry Mixer's large 22" propellor produces a strong undercurrent that moves liquids, floating chunks of crust, weeds, bedding and dried manure into the propellor that chops, mixes and blends your manure into an even liquid Slurry.

Priced at $2,285

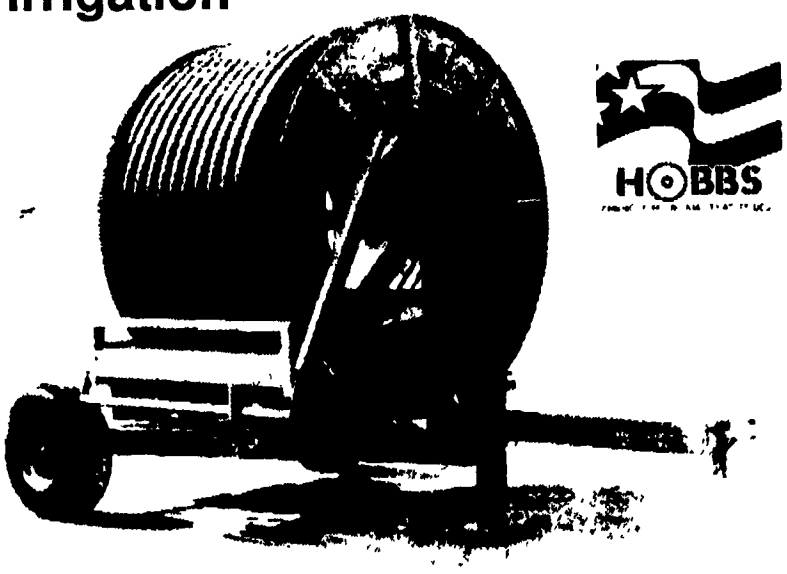
Reel Rain, American Made Quality Irrigation



Imitated but not duplicated. Many imports are copying the proven design of Hobbs Reel Rain Irrigation systems. What they can't copy is the years of experience that have gone into perfecting the Reel Rain design. Today's Reel Rain systems are the best ever. They're stronger, simpler to operate, and more dependable. We offer fourteen models from which to choose depending on the number of acres you intend to irrigate. With the optional engine drive each unit becomes a cost effective solution to removing liquid manure from your holding ponds and lagoons.

TORQUE AMPLIFIERS & CLUTCHES

Over the past 8 years, we have sold thousands of T.A.'s to satisfied customers across the U.S. Some of our best customers are I.H. Dealers.

We do complete job or center housing while you wait or will sell you the parts.

Our prices on T.A.'s with the Dana Sprag, are now $645.00 with a 2 year warranty.

We also have units and parts available to rebuild old style T.A.'s, including Ramp & carrier sets for $300.00

Clutches, Pressure Plates PTO Drives & Water Pumps

We have clutches available for most all IH tractors; including many heavier than original. We also have clutches for many other brands.

- Compare Our Prices -

All clutches & T.A.'s will ship U.P.S. and are sold on an exchange basis. Core charges Apply.

TRUCK LOAD SUMMER SALE!

Why Not Consider A Lease Through Our Economical Lease Plan And Lock In Our Summer-Sale Special NOW!

RICHARDTON

A GREAT CONCEPT JUST GOT BETTER!

Richardton Mfg. Company Introduces The MODEL 700 MULTI-PURPOSE DUMP WAGON

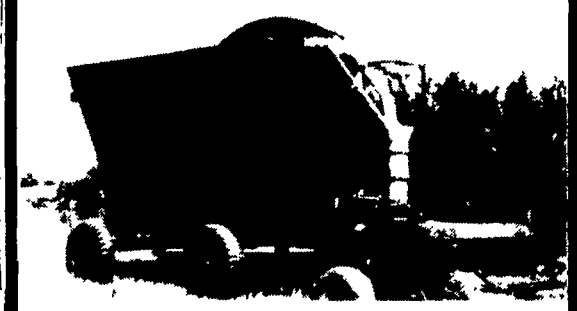
Many area farmers are quickly realizing the potential danger and liability of transporting forage with conventional tractor-drawn wagons. Consider the RICHARDTON Dump Wagon/farm truck approach.

* Increased speed from field to barn
* Brakes, turning signals, lights provide increased traffic safety
* Equipment cost/amt. of forage handled is less than conventional systems

Replace three or more forage boxes with one RICHARDTON Dump

MULTI-PURPOSE DUMP WAGON
BIG, STRONG, ECONOMICAL

• Works For You • All Year Long • Wet Field Conditions • Variety of Crops



The Most Versatile High Dump Wagon

Thousands of farmers can't be wrong. Many farmers still operate the Richardton High Dump Wagon they bought nearly 15 years ago. They say they'll buy a new one if the old one wears out. Other farmers own two or three Richardton Wagons and use them crop after crop, season after season. Ask the man who owns one.

You May Think They Are Higher Priced Than Forage Boxes — But You May Be Surprised!

RICHARDTON

Stationary Conveyor Box

BIG CAPACITY: 10'x16'x32" conveyor box holds an average load allowing your truck to return to the field for another load. The Richardton Model 1016 Conveyor Box automatically and evenly feeds into the blower.

HYDRAULICALLY DRIVEN: For smooth troublefree operation.

MINIMUM MAINTENANCE: Pintle chains and chain drive are used throughout the drive assembly.

SAFETY: Stop the conveyor from any position by pulling the safety rope that runs the length of the front and the sides of the conveyor box.

EASY TO MOVE: Equipped with two-wheel axle, tongue, and jack.

RUGGED CONSTRUCTION: Built into every Richardton product.

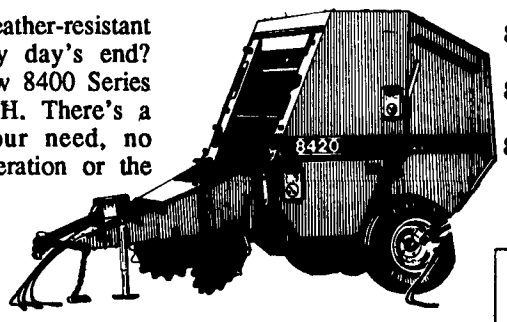
The New Case IH 8400 Series Round Balers

BALING THAT'S FAST, VERSATILE & TROUBLE-FREE



Want to put more light, weather-resistant bales behind your baler by day's end? Then check out the four new 8400 Series Round Balers from Case IH. There's a model designed to fit your need, no matter the size of your operation or the material you're baling. They each feature direct feed into an open-throat chamber, and aggressive bale starting action. So every bale starts right and builds right...to stay tight and fresh until you need it. And an audible alert tells you when each bale is done and ready for wrapping.

8420 Round Baler turns our 39x54-inch bales for smaller needs.

8440 Round Baler builds tight, firm bales up to 5x5 feet, regardless of the crop.

8450 & 8460 Round Balers are high-production models, built to produce big bales... 46.5 and 61.5 inches wide, respectively, and up to 6¼ feet in diameter.

We Have These Models In Stock-Pick Your Size

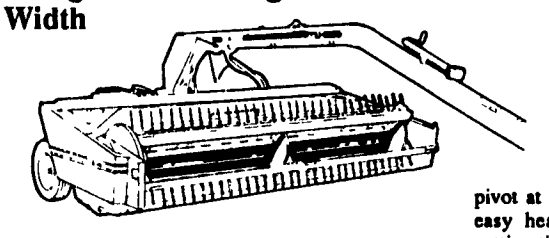
GEHL

New 2240 Hydraulic Swing 12'6" Cutting Width



109 Inches of Quality Conditioning

A Gehl center-pivot, swing frame mower conditioner gives you high capacity cutting and conditioning with outstanding maneuverability. Two models are available, the 2240 with 12'6" cutting width, and the 2270 with 14'6" cutting width. Both models feature wide, 109-inch rubber conditioning rolls with intermittent tread design to deliver thorough, uniform conditioning. These machines pivot at the center of the frame for easy header positioning, reducing cutting time and lowering fuel costs. And total hydraulic drive means smooth operation of low maintenance. Put a Gehl swing frame mower conditioner to work for you today!

...THE AXIAL-FLOW COMBINE SPECIALISTS

FEWER MOVING PARTS...

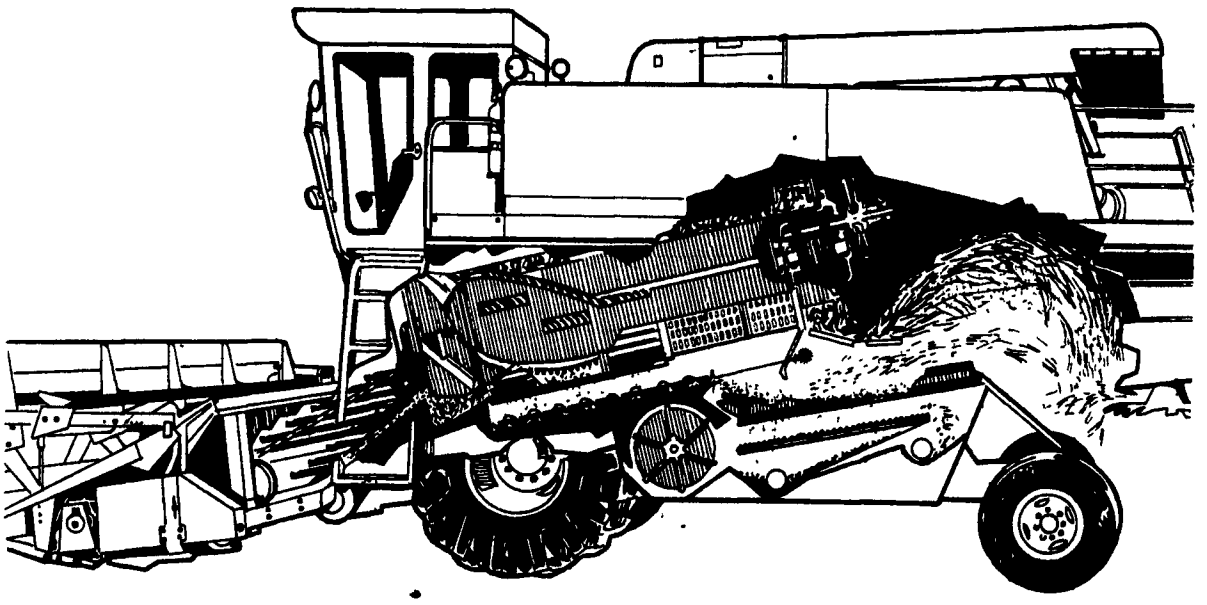
ALL CROP VERSATILITY...



The one moving part in Axial-Flow's entire threshing/separating process is the single large-diameter rotor. Nothing more. No cylinder, beaters or straw walkers. There's far less that can break or need maintenance. That's Axial-Flow combine simplicity.

Axial-Flow helps bring top price at the elevator. It handles grain more gently. Less crackage and dockage. You'll combine higher moisture grain at faster ground speeds for a quicker harvest. That's Axial-Flow performance.

Axial-Flow Combines for every crop. Designed to harvest over 100 different crops including corn, soybeans, wheat, sorghum and others. All popular grain header sizes plus 4 to 8-row corn heads.

HOOBER COMBINE SERVICE...

HOOBER COMBINE SERVICE SPECIALISTS KNOW COMBINES.

For twelve years Hoober's 5 combine mechanics have been working with Axial-Flow technologies. A COMBINE BOUGHT FROM HOOBER IS BACKED BY PEOPLE WHO KNOW AND CARE.

WAIT!

Having roofing problems? Considering a new roof in the next 3-4 years? Need to stop those pesty leaks on your poultry, hog or dairy buildings?

Before you invest big dollars for an expensive roof, consider Poxy Coat II.
Poxy Coat II is good for all roofs.
- is extremely flexible for long life.
- is heat resistant up to 1000°. (cooler summers, warmer winters)
- has a written 10 year guarantee.
- resists acid rain.
- comes in six colors, black, white and clear.
- an industrial coating at a fraction of the cost of a new roof.

For a free estimate to coat your roof with this long lasting weather proof Poxy Coat II, call today.

Pennsylvania Bull Named Supreme Champion At Atlantic National

TIMONIUM, MD — The supreme champion Angus of the Atlantic National was Manhattan of Indian Creek. The bull, an April 1987 son of Broadway, is owned by Indian Creek Farm of Stahlstown; R&J Ranch of Briggs, Texas; and Manhattan Associates of Briggs, Texas.

Judge Doug Slattery of New Ulm, Texas, slapped R&J Angela 1547 to be the grand champion female. This May 1987 Broadway daughter is owned by Whitestone Farm of Aldie, Va.; Springfield Angus Farm of Louisburg, N.C.; and R& J Ranch.

In the cow/calf division, the grand champion cow with a natural calf was Northcote Elegant Zara and her May heifer by Northcote Casanova. The pair are owned by Northcote Farm of Forest, Va. C K Lucys Sable and her December heifer calf sired by Grubbs MacKenzie were awarded the reserve grand champion cow with natural calf banner. They are owned by Richard Gregg of New Providence, Pa.; William Conley of Lebanon, Miss.; and Greg Krueger & Family of Coatesville, Pa.

The reserve grand champion bull laurels went to the reserve junior winner, Fairfield Dark Star P57. This champion is owned by Ascent Angus Farms of Oakland, Ill. and Schaffs Farm, Leoma, Tenn. He was calved January 1987 and was sired by S C R Lone Star 411.

Premier Angus Inc. of Cloverdale, Ind., and Goshen Farm of Paris, Ky., led out the reserve grand champion female, Premier Tess 7822B. This September 1988 Brost Power Drive daughter also won the senior yearling title.

Hilary and her January R&J Taurus 1186 heifer calf captured championship honors in the cow with an embryo calf division. The champions were shown by Fairfield Farms and J&D Hough, both of Lakeville, Ct. The reserve grand champion cow with embryo calf banner went to Shady Brook Vanna and her January heifer calf by Brost Dan Patch. This pair is owned by Shady Brooks Angus Farm, Premier Angus Inc., and Whitestone & Krebs of Gordon, Neb.

Numerous awards were presented in the group divisions. The show's premier breeder and exhibitor, Northcote Farm, lined up the best six head, exhibited progeny of Cobble Pond Miss Zara to capture produce of dam class, and showed the champion calf get-of-sire with offspring by Northcote Excitement.

Broadway was named the premier sire of the show, and his progeny won both the get and junior get-of-sire divisions. R&J Ranch and Goshen Farm were the exhibitors of both championship gets.

Two herdsman awards, under five head and five head and over, were presented at this year's Atlantic National ROV Angus Show. Dean Shrock, herdman at the Whitestone Farm won the five head and over award, while Tom Daubey of R&J Ranch won the under five head plaque.

Junior Angus Competition Planned

STATE COLLEGE- (Centre Co.) — Some 139 junior Angus breeders from 16 Eastern states have entered a total of 307-head of cattle for the 1989 Eastern Regional Junior Angus Show. The event will be held June 23-25 at the Pennsylvania State University Ag Arena.

The stalling of cattle and entry check-in will be from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. on Friday, June 23. That evening, the Pennsylvania Junior Angus Association will host a roast beef dinner from 6:00 until 7:30 p.m. For those feeling energetic, a volleyball tournament is planned after the meal.

The opening ceremonies of the Eastern Regional will start the day's activities at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, June 24. The show will get underway after the opening ceremonies. Judge Bill Rishel, North Platte, Nebraska, will place classes that day for registered steers, cow/calf pairs, bred-and-owned bulls and bred-and-owned heifers.

A dinner and dance for all junior Angus exhibitors and their families are planned for Saturday evening. Dinner will be served from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. and the dance is scheduled from 8:00 until 11:00 p.m.

A devotional service will be the first event on Sunday, June 25. It will begin 8:45 a.m. The show will resume at 9:30 a.m. with the judging of the 'owned' heifers.

All cattle will be released at the conclusion of the show.

For additional information on the 1989 Eastern Regional Junior Angus Show, contact the American Angus Association Junior Activities Department, 3201 Frederick Boulevard, St. Joseph, Missouri 64501 or phone 816/233-3101.

Penn State Recognized At Ag Educators Conference

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Several Penn Staters presented papers and received honors at the 1989 Eastern Region Agriculture Leadership Institute and Research Seminar, held last month in Mystic, Conn. The seminar was sponsored by the Agriculture Division of the American Vocational Association.

Dr. Blannie E. Bowen, Rumberger professor of agriculture, co-chaired the program's Agricultural Education Research Conference. Bowen and graduate student Jeffrey P. Miller presented "Microcomputer Use and Resulting Educational Needs of Farmers," which was named outstanding research paper.

At the topic session on higher education, Dr. Cathy Lyons, director of the Center of Minority Graduate Opportunities and Faculty Development at Penn State, and Dr. Edgar Yoder, associate professor of agricultural education, presented a paper on curricular strategies that enhance the experience of agriculture students. Tracey D. Hoover, a graduate student in agricultural education, acted as facilitator for this session.

David Hall, an instructor of agricultural and extension education at Penn State, acted as facilitator of the topic session on secondary instructional programs. Hall's paper on computerized assistance in advising agricultural education students received the Regional Award in the Exchange of Ideas category. Hall will present his paper to the national conference of the American Vocational Association's Agriculture Division, which will be held in early December in Orlando, Fla.

Dr. Timothy Rollins, assistant professor of agricultural and extension education, presented information on the problem-solving skills of agricultural students and their preferred learning styles during the topic session on teaching and learning. Dr. Connie D. Baggett, assistant professor of agricultural and extension education, and Carol Conroy, assistant director of the State Advisory Council on Vocation Education, discussed teaching techniques, strategies and styles for vocational agriculture students with special needs.

Dr. Dennis Scanlon chaired a discussion on innovative research collaboration strategies for faculty in the Eastern region. He also was elected vice president of the Eastern Region of the American Association of Teacher Educators in Agriculture, one of three subgroups in the AVA's Agriculture Division.

Scanlon will be responsible for coordinating all national activity of the AATEA in the Eastern region, interacting with the other regional vice presidents and preparing next year's Eastern Region Agricultural Leadership Institute and Research Seminar. During his term Scanlon hopes to stimulate collaboration among states in the Eastern region on issues such as teacher preparation and differences between agricultural education in the Northeast and other regions.

Lititz Youth To Exhibit At Regional Angus Show

LITITZ, (Lancaster Co.) — Nicole and Casey High of Lititz will be exhibiting cattle at the 1989 Eastern Regional Angus Show in State College next weekend.

Junior members of the American Angus Association with headquarters in St. Joseph, Mo., the Highs are two of 139 young Angus breeders who have entered a total of 305-head to compete for championship honors being awarded.

Bill Rishel, North Platte, Nebraska, will judge divisions for bred-and-owned heifers, bred-and-owned bulls, heifers owned by the exhibitor, cow/calf pairs and registered steers.

The Eastern Regional Junior Angus Show is sponsored by the American Angus Association and the Pennsylvania Junior Angus Association. It is one of four regional junior Angus shows the national organization sponsors each year for its nearly 7,000 active junior Angus members in the United States.

Morgantown Holstein Selected For Sire Power Bull Program

TUNKHANNOCK (Wyoming) — A young Holstein bull bred by Andrew D. Stoltzfus, Morgantown, Pennsylvania, was recently selected to enter th GOLD Sire Development Program at Sire Power, Inc.

Cabin-Run Sandman-ET*TD 2080356 is located at Sire Power headquarters where he will undergo an intensive herd health program before joining 70 other bulls being sampled this year.

Sire Power, Inc., the oldest and fastest growing A.I. cooperative maintains high pedigree standards for bulls entering our GOLD Sire Program.

Cabin-Run Sandman-ET*TD 2080356 is sired by Happy-herd Beautician*DP, a genetically superior bull with +1161M +.10% +61F +$163, 84% Repeatability, PDT +2.35, 84% Repeatability.

His dam is Gay-Ridge Spirit Stacey, VG(86). She was specially selected because of her outstanding type and production with a top record at 5-4 305 days of 28,900M 4.5% 1304F, a cow index of +1531M +.04% +63F +$188. She is sired by Sunny=Craft Chief Spirit.

The incentives offered to dairymen through the GOLD Sire Development Program are the broadest in the industry and are designed to reward those dairymen cooperating in the sampling and development of GOLD Sires.

Make Sire Power GOLD sires part of your breeding program today, and have daughters of genetically superior sires for your future.

Gehl Offers Mixer-Feeder Line

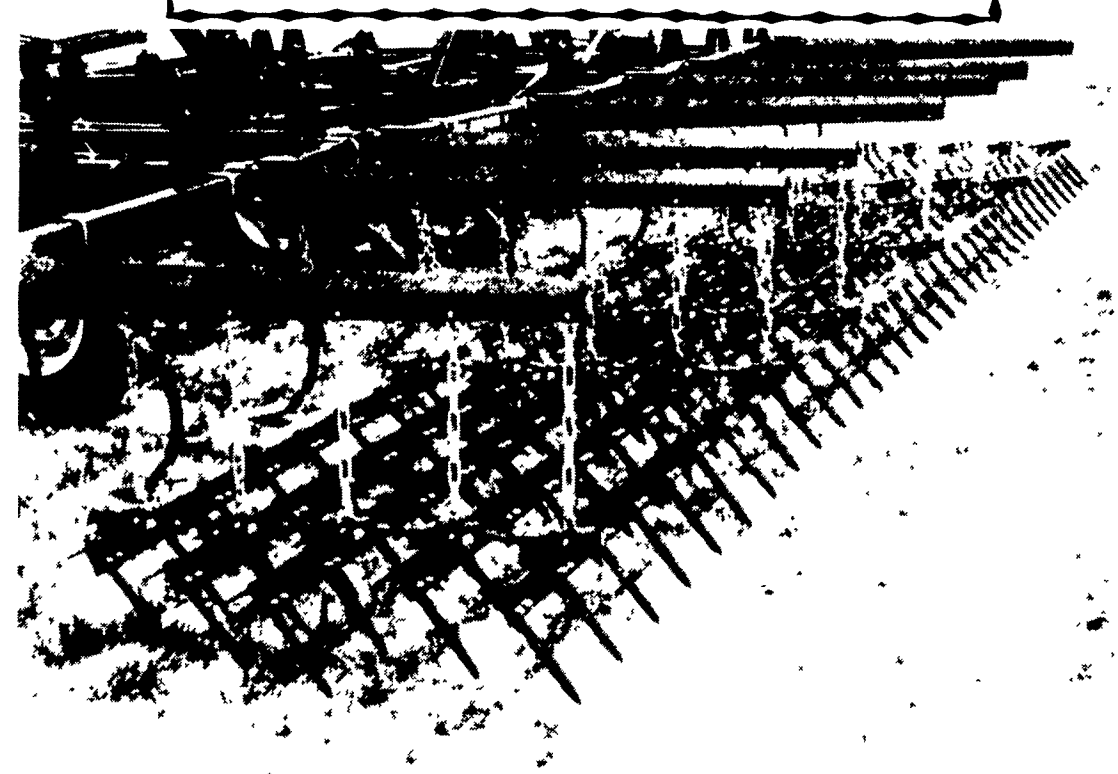
WEST BEND, WI — The Gehl Company has introduced a new line of mixer-feeders ranging in size from 210 to 500 cubic feet. All five models are available as trailer-type or stationary units. In addition, the four largest models are available as truck-mounted units.

The mixer-feeder design includes four notched augers that thoroughly and quickly blend feed, including square alfalfa bales, in an efficient figure-eight pattern. Exclusive star couplers act as shock absorbers for the bottom augers, increasing their durability.

An energy-efficient planetary drive system uses fewer chains and sprockets, requiring less horsepower than conventional models. The mixer-feeder's gears run in an oil bath for smoother operation, longer life, and easier maintenance. Gehl's time-tested conveyor discharge system quickly delivers a steady flow of feed to the feed bunk. Standard weigh bars or optional load cells permit precise weighing of all ingredients for a consistent ration mix.

Gehl also introduced an economical 190-cubic-foot feeder wagon that is ideal for feeding operations which require no mixing or blending. It features a smooth two-auger delivery system and a proven chain and slat discharge conveyor.

For more information contact Richard Burckardt, Gehl Company, 143 Water Street, West Bend, WI 53095 414/334-9461.



This spike tooth tumble drag provides maximum clod shatter action, yet levels the soil. Bracket arms hold tension attachment chains to allow the drag full flotation over the soil.

Spike Tooth, Coil Tine Attachments From Kent

Capable of unloading grain in three minutes or less, this auger wagon features self-aligning vertical augers that fold hydraulically plus an exclusive linkage assembly that reduces stress on the hinge area.

Kinze Updates Auger Wagon Line

WILLIAMSBURG, IA. — A newly updated line of Auger Wagons, capable of unloading grain in three minutes or less, has just recently been introduced by Kinze Manufacturing, Inc.

The three heavy-duty Kinze units, with capacities from 440 to 825 bushels, utilize a dual auger system which unloads wet or dry grain at speeds up to 290 bushels per minute, from start to finish. The units feature self-aligning vertical augers that fold hydraulically, plus an exclusive linkage assembly that reduces stress on the hinge area. The over center lock design also eliminates the need to bolt sections together.

The unique Kinze dual auger system creates a low-profile design that puts the auger system up front for better visibility and control. It also creates a lower center of gravity for better weight distribution and more clearance for the combine auger.

All models feature diamond-tread, high-flotation tires which ride on wide-flange H-beam structural steel axles. The more popular 640 model may also be outfitted with a rubber-track flotation system for wet or very soft harvesting conditions.

A 2:1 sprocket reduction drive system provides up to 50% more starting torque than the 1:1 ratio found on most grain wagons. Additional standard equipment items include: chain oiler, tip spout extensions, front and rear windows, flow control indicator, safety grates, hydraulic flow gate (640 and 840, optional on 440) and rear light package.

Wentink Addresses South African Poultry Congress

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Henk Wentink, the American poultry industry's indefatigable octogenarian, recently returned from South Africa where he addressed the 83rd Annual Congress of the South African Poultry Association held in Kempton Park near Johannesburg.

Speaking on "Problems and Opportunities in the Egg Business", Wentink made it clear at the outset that his remarks dealt with problems being faced by the egg industry in the United States.

He then discussed changes in the eating habits of Americans, the physical fitness craze, the recent rash of food scares associated with chemical contamination, the cholesterol-controversy, and a spate of public illness attributed to salmonella enteritides. All of these problems, he said, have contributed to a long and steady down-trend in U.S. per capita consumption now pegged at about 240 eggs per person per year.

Turning to another fundamental problem of the U.S. egg industry, economy of size, Wentink stated that as of December 31, 1978, there were 41 companies in the United States owning one million or more layers each. These 41 companies, he said, had a total of 81.9 million layers or 30 percent of the table egg layers in the U.S.

Ten years later, by December 31, 1988, he pointed out, the number of companies had increased to 51 owning a total of 135.3 million hens or 57 percent of the table egg layers in the U.S.

In addition to these large companies, the United States' egg industry also includes several thousand producers with flocks ranging in size from a few thousand hens to several hundred thousand. They have been successful, he said, because they have carved out a market niche for themselves which their larger competitors cannot touch. They have done this by offering better or more service, by adding further processed items to their product line, or by catering to specialized markets.

Looking ahead, Wentink declared that so far as the United States is concerned, he does not expect much deviation from current trends for the poultry industry. The biggest producers will continue to grow even bigger, he prophesied, while most of the others will be satisfied to serve their specific markets.

The most promising change, he predicted, will be a shift by the big producers away from marketing all of their production in the form of shell eggs to marketing a large volume in the form of one or more further processed food products.

"Prices for further processed egg items will more closely reflect cost of production plus a fair margin," Wentink concluded, "and will not be subject to the cyclical peaks and valleys that have characterized U.S. shell egg prices for many years."

Wentink, who resides in Wyomissing, Pennsylvania, is currently executive vice president of Walt Montgomery Associates, the world's largest agri-business firm specializing in management consulting, executive search, acquisitions and mergers in the food and fiber industries. He joined the Montgomery firm in 1979 after having spent 21 years with the Pennfield Corporation, a feed manufacturer headquartered in Rohrerstown, Pa.

He is best known to the poultry industry of the United States as chairman of the National Commission on Egg Nutrition for five years and a director of the American Egg Board. He also has been active in state, regional and national poultry and feed trade associations for nearly half a century.

Registration at the three-day South African Congress totaled over 1,400 persons. In addition to annual meetings of the various organizations comprising the South African Poultry Association, the Congress featured a comprehensive educational program and an extensive exhibition of Poultry industry products and services.

Ag Deans Report Strong Demand For Graduates

WASHINGTON, DC — The nation's colleges of agriculture have good news for students: there are more jobs than there are graduates.

So said deans from seven agricultural universities and colleges nationwide, who were interviewed recently by Purdue University's School of Agriculture to get their assessment of the job market for this year's class of agriculture graduates.

Although the informal telephone survey by Purdue's agricultural communication service did show a decrease again this year in the number of agricultural graduates, it also showed more companies are increasing recruitment activities on campus and freshmen enrolled in agricultural studies are on the upswing.

J. Patrick Jordan, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Cooperative States Research Service, said that four of the schools contacted showed an increase in their freshmen class over last year. The College of Agriculture at Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colo., led the way with an increase of 25 percent, said Jordan.

"It is a more competitive market for graduates," said Allan D. Goecker, assistant dean of agriculture and the chief agricultural placement official at Purdue University's School of Agriculture in West Lafayette, Ind. "Both employers and students are making earlier commitments this year."

Half of the 1,721 undergraduates in the School of Agriculture are enrolled in three departments--agricultural economics, horticulture, and forestry and natural resources.

Last year the school graduated 355 and expects to graduate 365 seniors this year, Goecker added.

Goecker said the agricultural enrollments began a slow climb a year ago when 352 freshmen enrolled in the 42 agricultural curricula. This fall 455 freshmen will account for a 16 percent increase, he said.

Last winter twice as many recruiters visited the Purdue campus as two years ago. In October, 40 corporate recruiters attended Purdue's annual Agriculture Career Day, one-third more than a year ago.

Starting salaries range from $18,000 to $30,000, annually, Goecker said, with the average just over $20,000. The 1988 graduates averaged $20,873 about 8.6 percent higher than 1987.

Goecker is a member of a U.S. Department of Agriculture committee on manpower needs that forecast an annual shortage of 4,000 food and agricultural science graduates extending into the 1990s.

Marvin J. Cepica, associate dean for resident instruction of Texas Tech in Lubbock, said employers are concerned about the shortage of agriculture graduates, and some have increased their support for agricultural colleges.

"We have really increased our internship figures," Cepica said. "Many result in a job after graduation, either with that company or with a related industry."

He said food technology seniors can command salaries ranging from $25,000 to $30,000 annually, with an average starting salary for all agricultural graduates "somewhere between $19,000 and $20,000."

William R. Thomas, dean of the College of Agriculture at Colorado State University in Fort Collins, is concerned as well about the shortage of agriculture graduates. However, Thomas said the overall enrollment in the College of Agricultural Sciences is fairly steady, and the school does have 25 percent more freshmen than a year earlier.

The most popular agricultural program at Colorado State is equine science, Thomas said, which attracts a large proportion of women and out-of-state students. The program, jointly offered by the Colleges of Agriculture and Veterinary Medicine, instructs some 300 students a year in equine reproduction, nutrition, management and health, he said.

The same is true at Mississippi State University in Mississippi State where Charles E. Lindley, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, said there are plentiful employment opportunities, but not enough "good graduates."

Lindley said that interviewers are more selective, with salaries ranging from $18,000 to $21,000 annually. They average about $21,000, he said, with the strongest demand for food science and marketing graduates.

Landscape architecture and agricultural economics are the two most popular programs with students, Lindley said. Also popular at Mississippi State is the agricultural operations management program, formerly called agricultural mechanization.

More employers are visiting the University of Florida's College of Agriculture in Gainesville this year, according to H. Evan Drummond, acting dean for resident instruction.

Hiring is on the increase in fruit and vegetable production, poultry and dairy science, and agronomy and soil science. Salary offers range from $15,000 to $30,000, with the average near $20,000, Drummond said.

Popular areas of study with undergraduates at Florida are in the Food Science and Human Nutrition Department, Drummond said. A close second is the microbiology program, which counts 450 majors, most of whom are studying premedicine, preveterinary medicine, and predentistry, or planning to attend graduate schools.

Florida's agricultural enrollment, which fell from 1,400 to less than 100 students during the past decade, enjoyed a four percent increase to 690 students during the 1988-89 school year, Drummond said. He counted another 73 in the School of Forestry.

Charles M. Smallwood, dean of the School of Agricultural Sciences and Technology, California State University-Fresno, said that the school's agricultural enrollment held steady with about 1,200 agriculture students until 1983, then declined 25 percent during the next four years. In September, however, the freshman class increased five percent. The college consists of four agriculture departments plus home economics and industrial technology.

Smallwood said the largest enrollments are in agribusiness and animal science, but the faster growing majors are enology, which is the science or study of making wines; food science; and nutrition. However, he said there were 100 more jobs than the 303 graduates at Fresno last year.

Carl L. Pherson, associate dean for academic affairs at California State, said plant and food science graduates are getting salaries ranging from $20,000 to $28,000 a year, with the food science graduates "doing some better."

Pherson said the college is "under-enrolled in plant and food sciences. If you are willing to study and be competitive," he said, "there are good opportunities waiting for you."

At Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y., the College of Agriculture's associate dean and director of resident instruction, George B. Conneman, said he sees a "fairly favorable job market this spring" with more recruiters on campus than in recent years. He said that "firms related to agribusiness are competing" for graduates and that salaries are up at least as much as the rate of inflation.

Landschoot To Teach Turfgrass Science At Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Dr. Peter J. Landschoot has been appointed assistant professor of turfgrass science in Penn State's College of Agriculture.

Landschoot will be responsible for developing and coordinating Penn State Cooperative Extension programs covering all phases of turfgrass management, including home lawns, athletic fields, golf courses, parks and roadways.

Landschoot will develop fact sheets, produce educational videos and update materials on PENpages, a statewide information system available to extension agents and the public. Landschoot hopes to help develop a turfgrass expert system, a computer program that simulates the problem-solving process of a turfgrass specialist.

Landschoot also is responsible for coordinating regional turfgrass conferences in conjunction with agronomy department faculty and the Pennsylvania Turfgrass Council.

Additionally, he will conduct research on the effects of fertilizers on turfgrass growth and the influence of certain management practices on turf disease. He also plans to develop screening procedures that will aid in the selection of more disease-resistant strains of turfgrass.

Before coming to Penn State, Landschoot was a post-doctoral research associate at Rutgers University, conducting research on the distribution and control of root-infecting fungi associated with patch diseases of turfgrass.

Landschoot received his Ph.D. in plant pathology from the University of Rhode Island in 1988. His dissertation was on the taxonomy and pathogenticity of fungi associated with patch diseases of turfgrass. He received his master's degree in agronomy in 1984 from Penn State. Landschoot also obtained his bachelor's degree in agronomy at Penn State, graduating with highest distinction and representing the College of Agriculture as a student marshal at the 1982 graduation ceremony.

Landschoot is a member of the American Society of Agronomy and the American Phytopathological Society.

Farmers Should Look For Alternate Water Sources

MORGANTOWN, WV. — Almost all of the livestock watering systems in West Virginia have relied on gravity to move water from ponds and developed springs to concrete or metal troughs.

Soil Conservation Service (SCS) technicians can now help farmers consider power besides gravity flow and look for water sources in addition to ponds and springs.

Rollin N. Swank, SCS state conservationist, said water is a critical need for livestock on pasture.

Landowners may want to look at ways to pump livestock water to higher levels. A pump, pressure tank and several hundred feet of pipeline may cost the same as a spring development and are cheaper than constructing a new pond.

As a water source on high slopes, water harvesting catchments may be used to channel runoff to a storage tank.

Some farmers are experimenting with used heavy-equipment tires as watering troughs.

"SCS employees are prepared to discuss livestock water alternatives and help landowners plan the systems best suited for their farms," Swank said.

For more information, contact any SCS office or soil conservation district in West Virginia.

Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Field Day Planned

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — The 15th annual Cattlemen's Summer Field Day will be held July 15 at South Mountain Farms in McKnightstown, Pa. Penn State, the Adams County Beef Producers Association and the Pennsylvania Charolais Association are co-sponsoring the event, which starts at 9:00 a.m. and runs through the afternoon.

The event features demonstrations by 25 exhibitors of permanent electric fence designs, irrigation systems and other items. There will be a judging contest and a discussion of show-calf types. Morning and afternoon tours will include the Gettysburg Battlefield, Eisenhower Farm's cattle operations and Mason-Dixon Farms, a 1,300-cow operation noted for innovative building designs and progressive technology.

A first at this year's field day will be the introduction of Keystone Rib-Eye on a Roll, prepared by the Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association Directors in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Beef Council. There will be a small charge for the lunch.

Speakers at this year's event include Ray Grimes, Dennis Byrne, Nancy Scott Bushy and Bob Tibbs, beef producers from various regions of Pennsylvania and Maryland. They will emphasize the flexibility of beef operations combined with other farm operations or a full-time job off the farm.

Glenn D. Eberly, president of the Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association, will present an update on state and national concerns of cattle raisers. Dr. John Comerford, assistant professor of animal science at Penn State, will report on a comparative study of beef and holstein steers fed different forage proportions and protein sources.

Dr. Lowell L. Wilson, Penn State professor of animal science, and Ray Grimes will co-chair the event. "We would like to invite everyone interested in cattle--producers, marketing personnel and those who just like to eat and talk beef," says Wilson.

Individuals with questions and groups intending to travel from county affiliates should contact Wilson at (814) 863-3659 or Grimes at (717) 334-1022. Brochures on the 15th Annual Cattlemen's Field Day are available from Penn State's Department of Dairy and Animal Science, 324 Henning Building, University Park PA 16802.

West Virginians Attend National Watershed Conference

MORGANTOWN, WV — Eight men represented West Virginia at the first National Watershed Conference to be held in 14 years, in May at Oklahoma City. The topic was flood prevention.

West Virginia has the most upstream watershed dams in the Northeast, with the first ones built in 1954. The 150th West Virginia dam was dedicated in September 1987.

One of the concerns at the conference was the aging of the flood prevention dams and the need for maintenance.

Attending from West Virginia were:

— State Conservationist Rollin Swank and Water Resources Planning Leader James Clevenger of the Soil Conservation Service in Morgantown.

— Lance Tabor, executive secretary of the State Soil Conservation Committee, from Charleston.

— Jarrell Sargent, mayor of Milton, which is planning a flood prevention project.

— State Sen. J.D. Brackenrich of Greenbrier County, chairman of the Senate Natural Resources Committee.

— Three men representing soil conservation districts, Frank Glover of the Monongahela, Boyd Meadows of the Guyan, and Ed Bumgarner of the Western. Glover is president of the State Soil Conservation District Supervisors' Association.

Sheep Producers Participate In Political Forum

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sheep producers from across the nation participated in a three-day lobbying tour of Washington, D.C., earlier this month promoting renewal of the Wool Act.

Council members attended strategy sessions on Wool Act Renewal during the opening hours of the meeting, then visited a number of key legislators in starting the renewal effort. Meetings were coordinated by ASI's Washington, D.C., lobbying group, Meyers & White.

Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-TX) addressed the group during its opening breakfast, saying the strengths and past success of the Wool Act will help producers in the effort to sell it to the nation's lawmakers.

Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter addressed the group, talking about the need for trade reforms which will drive the upcoming Farm Bill debate. Some of the other legislators who met with the Political Action Council included Rep. Joe Skeen (R-NM), Rep. Jim Leach (R-IA), Rep. Ron Marlenee (R-MT), Rep. Richard Stallings (D-ID). Members also met individually with their own senators and representatives to discuss issues of primary importance in their respective states.

"This was a fabulous start to the Wool Act Renewal effort," said Legislative Action Council Chairman Pierce Miller of San Angelo, Texas. "Our group was well-received by legislators from all over the country, and our contacts gave us a better feel for what factors will make up an effective effort.

"Producers nationwide have helped to fund our work to renew the Wool Act," Miller said, "and we are counting on their continued support. This is the single most important issue U.S. producers will face this year."

Miller said the 1990 Farm Bill and its accompanying Wool Act will determine the industry's economics in years to come. "We must continue to strongly support this legislation which provides us a strong base and has successfully spurred the industry to adopt its own promotion and marketing programs."

Other issues addressed by the group in meeting with legislators and top government officials included animal damage control, scrapie legislation, environmental issues, animal welfare, public lands use and grazing, endangered species, and domestic and foreign lamb and wool marketing.

Members of the Legislative Action Council of the American Sheep Industry Association are Pierce Miller of Texas, chairman of the Council; Ken Miner of South Dakota, co-chairman of the Council; Bill Pfluger of Texas, immediate past president of the National Wool Growers Association; Bill Balden, Kentucky; Casey Brown, Colorado; Robert Jappert, Oregon; Chase Hibbard, Montana; Joe Russ, California. Also participating were ASI President Bill Schneemann of Texas; ASI Secretary/Treasurer Gene Brune of Indiana; Bob Gilbert, Montana, and Ralph Mayer, Texas.

Crop Acreage Reporting Deadlines Approaching

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Crop acreage reporting deadlines are approaching quickly. Farmers are reminded to report their crop acreages to the county ASCS offices, by June 15 for small grain crops and July 17 for corn, soybeans, tobacco, and hay.

Farmers participating in the Acreage Reduction Program and those farmers with crop insurance are required to report their 1989 planted acreages. Upon request, a copy of the acreage report will be furnished to the producer so that a copy can be provided to the insurance agent.

Because of additional requirements in reporting crop acres, farmers should anticipate spending more time in the office than ever before. We recommend therefore, that producers stop at the office before 4 p.m. Eight a.m. (8 a.m.) is usually a good time report crop acreages as few people are normally in the office at that time.

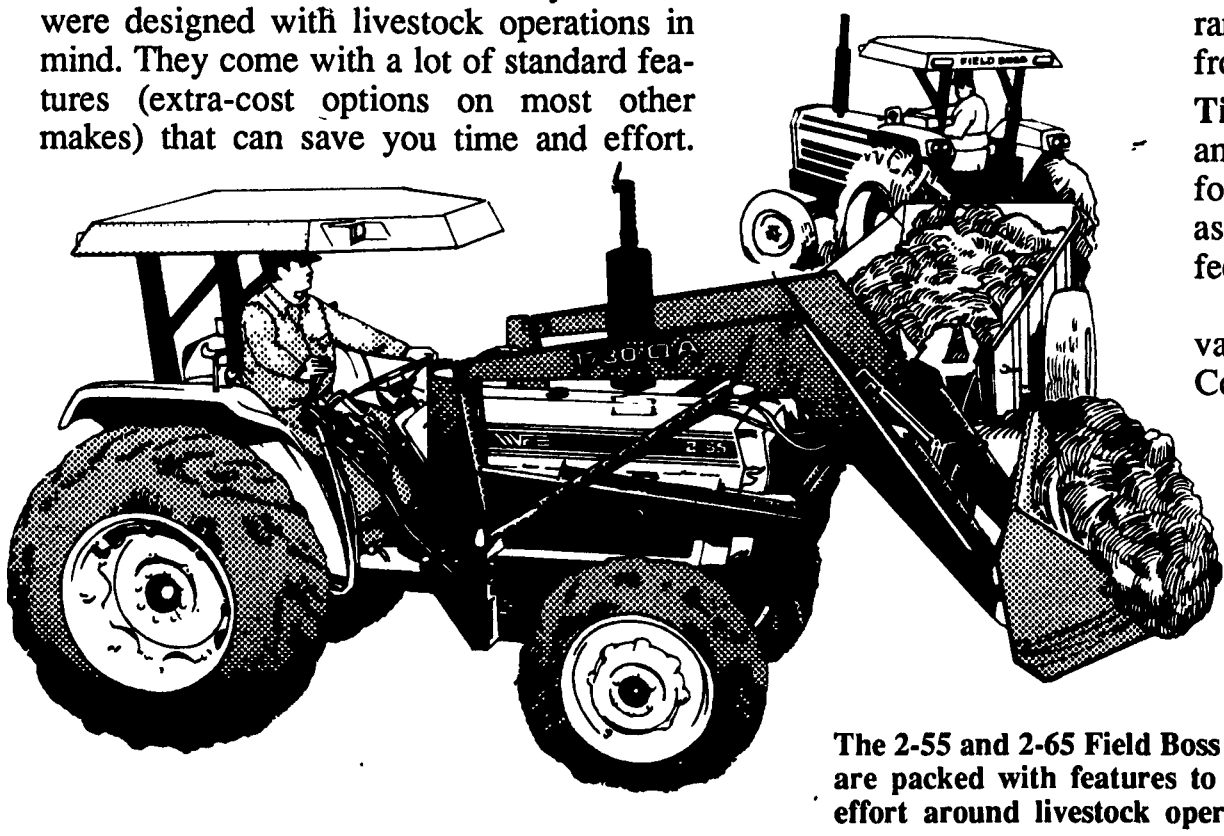
Load-up with White Farm utility tractors

Livestock means loader tractors. And the 2-55 and 2-65 Field Boss® utility tractors were designed with livestock operations in mind. They come with a lot of standard features (extra-cost options on most other makes) that can save you time and effort.



Shift on-the-go. Our new synchro-mesh transmission lets you shift through four ranges without stopping. To let you choose from 16 forward speeds.

Tighter turning. You'll like the quickness and agility of the 2-55 and 2-65, too. Even the four-wheel drive models turn almost as tight as most other two-wheel drives. A big plus in feedlots and other tight spots.

Experience for yourself the quality and value built into every 2-55 and 2-65 tractor. Come in today. It'll be worth the trip.

WHITE FARM EQUIPMENT

The 2-55 and 2-65 Field Boss utility tractors are packed with features to save time and effort around livestock operations.

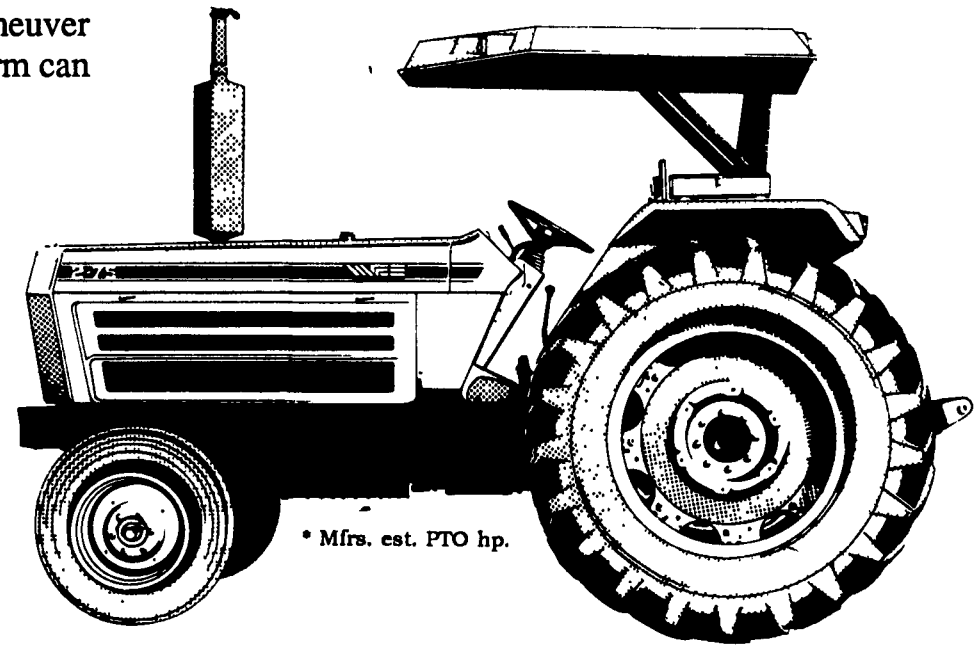
Big enough for the field, agile enough for the feedlot.

Whether you need to do heavy work in the field or maneuver around the feedlot, the 2-75 Field Boss® from White Farm can handle the job with ease.

Power to spare. The engine on this tractor is a beautiful 75* hp direct-fuel-injected six cylinder diesel. Teamed with the big-tractor power train and hydraulics, it makes the 2-75 more tractor than most utilities could ever be.

More standard features. What some other manufacturers call options come standard on the 2-75. Synchromesh transmission. Both 540 and 1000 rpm PTO. Two batteries for more starting power. Adjustable lower links on the 3-pt. hitch. And more!

Experience for yourself the quality and value built into the 2-75 tractor. You'll want to take one home.



* Mfrs. est. PTO hp.

Whatever you use a utility tractor to do, you'll like doing it better with a 2-75 Field Boss.

30 YEARS AGO

-Miss Verna Witmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan M. Witmer, Millersville RD1, Saturday was elected 1959 Lancaster County Poultry Queen following the Ninth Annual Poultry Assn. Barbecue at Lititz Springs Park.

Following the announcement of the announcement of the 19 year-old brunette's title, she was presented with the Royal Crown by Miss Janic Koser, Manheim RD2, 1958 queen. The coronation was followed by presentation of more than $100 in gifts to the new queen and runner-up in the contest, Miss Cynthia Mae Landis of Strasburg.

Competition for the queen's title was preceded by the announcement of winners of the County Chicken Contest, with nine of the county's best poultry chefs vying for the Junior and Senior championships.

Senior winner was Mrs. Walter Warfel, Lanc. RD 6, with Mrs. Clayton K. Haverstick, also of Rt. 6 as runner-up.

Miss Rosene Snavely, Elizabethtown RD3, was champion junior chef, with Miss Doris Landis, Lititz RD3 as runner-up among the younger set.

-The hottest double-play combination for Lancaster County young people in many years tallied another win Thursday for Manheim Central High School Future Farmers of America as 19 year-old Gerald Greiner succeeded Dean Hoffer to the presidency of the Pennsylvania FFA organization, in convention this week at Univ. Park.

Greiner, athlete, public speaker and successful young farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Greiner of Manheim stepped into the state's top FFa post, before the president's chair had a chance to cool off as his former schoolmate and friend, Hoffer, stepped down.

-Seven new cooperators were approved this wek for membership in the Lancaster County Soil Conservation District, by District Directors in regular monthly business session.

Land controlled by the seven county farmers and included under their agreements total 534 acres. The new district members are:

Elmer M. Burkholder, Ephrata RD3, 43 acres; Raymond Gehman of Bowmansville, 150; Monroe W. Good, East Earl RD1, 88; Paul S. Good, Denver RD1, 55; Harvey Leinbach, East Earl RD1, 30; Rufus Musser, Rothsville, 93; Fred H. Sherick, Willow Street, 75 acres.

Miss Vera Weaver, Lititz and Manheim Central elementary school teacher, was presented the District's scholarship to Penn State's Soil Conservation Lab Workshop this summer. The award is sponsored by Harry H. Noll, Lancaster investment broker and conservationist.

Penn State To Field Test Soil Nitrogen Test

LANCASTER — Lancaster County farmers, along with farmers in many other parts of the country, are under fire for the high nitrate found in groundwater. For many years, farmers may have been mismanaging nitrogen fertilizer and manure nitrogen in a variety of ways. Recent research has shown that much of the excess nitrogen applied to crops eventually ends up in groundwater. The nitrogen content of manure and legumes has been recognized for a long time, but often it was forgotten when developing fertilizer recommendations because of the uncertainty of the availability of nitrogen from an organic source. Traditionally, fertilizer recommendations errored on the side to ensure that sufficient nitrogen was applied to meet the desired yield potential.

Dr. Richard Fox with the Penn State agronomy department has been looking at a variety of tests for many years to bet a better handle on these organic sources of nitrogen. His original purpose was to reduce input costs, however, the research fits well into today's issue of water quality.

Several years ago while using a soil nitrate test, Fox noted that the soil content of nitrate nitrogen would start to increase in the spring and reach a maximum level during mid to late May. Once the soil nitrates reach their maximum level, they remained fairly constant throughout the season when organic nitrogen sources had been applied to the land. Subsequent research showed soils that containing 25 ppm or more Nitrate Nitrogen at this time of the year do not show a yield response to additional nitrogen fertilizer. During 1987 and 1988 he conducted plots across the state with a very high correlation to these earlier findings.

This year the new nitrogen test will be offered on a trial basis through county extension offices, some Soil Conservation District offices, and crop management associations. If the testing procedure is successful, testing kits will be marketed to farmers, consultants, fertilizer dealers, etc. next year. Extension will not be getting into the business of doing soil nitrogen tests after the trial period. Merkele Laboratory at Penn State has offered a nitrogen test for several years and will continue to offer this service in the future.

In Lancaster County, the county extension office, P.S.U. Nutrient Management Office in New Holland, P.S.U. Southeast Research Farm in Landisville, and the Lancaster County Conservation District will be field testing the new soil nitrogen testing procedure. The procedure that is used is very similar to a laboratory test used for testing blood nitrogen. The test uses a paper test strip that is sensitive to nitrate nitrogen. The test strip turns a darker color as the level of nitrogen in the sample increases. An electronic meter is being used to read the intensity of the color change rather than just using an eyeball comparison to a color chart. The color reading is then calculated in parts per million of nitrate nitrogen.

The quick test will be free of charge during the trial period. Merkle Laboratory also offers a nitrate test for $5 if someone prefers a chemical analysis. In Lancaster County, Farm Managers and Ag Industry Representatives can have samples tested under the following conditions:

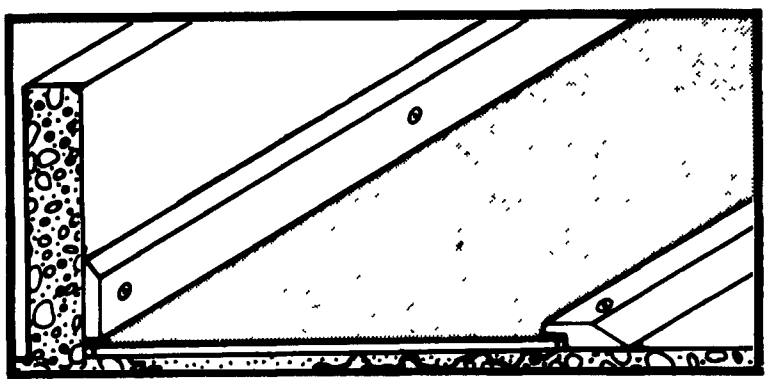
1. A maximum of three samples will be done per farm unit.
2. Farm unit must be located in Lancaster County, farmers outside the county should contact the county extension or conservation district in the county where they are located.
3. A FARM DATA SHEET must be complete before the test is run. The sheet helps to estimate the tons of manure per acre applied.
4. Fields tested should receive regular applications of manure or have been in a legume crop during 1988.
5. Field should not receive more than 40 pounds of plow down or surface applied nitrogen plus the nitrogen in starter fertilizer for the 1989 growing season before testing.

Soil samples should be done as close to analysis time as possible. Soil samples should be randomized over the entire field with a minimum of 18 samples to a depth of one foot. Immediately after sampling, they must be dried. Wet samples will not be tested. To dry samples using a convection oven, use a low heat setting of 200 to 250 degrees until sample is dry, do not over dry. With a microwave oven, use the high setting for five to eight minutes or until dry. Air drying of samples on paper can also be done, however it it takes too long to get the sample dry, the results will be less accurate. Once dry, the sample can be held for several days. Testing will be available through the end of June at the following locations at the times listed.

TIME - 10 a.m. to noon - TUESDAYS: E-Town Vo Ag Dept., Solanco Vo Ag Dept., Ephrata Jr. High Ag.; THURSDAYS: Penn Manor Vo Ag Dept. Summitt Valley School Ag.

TIME -1 to 3 p.m. - TUESDAYS: Bart Township Bldg., Manheim Cent. Vo Ag; THURSDAYS: G. King Store-White Horse, Strasburg Township Bldg.

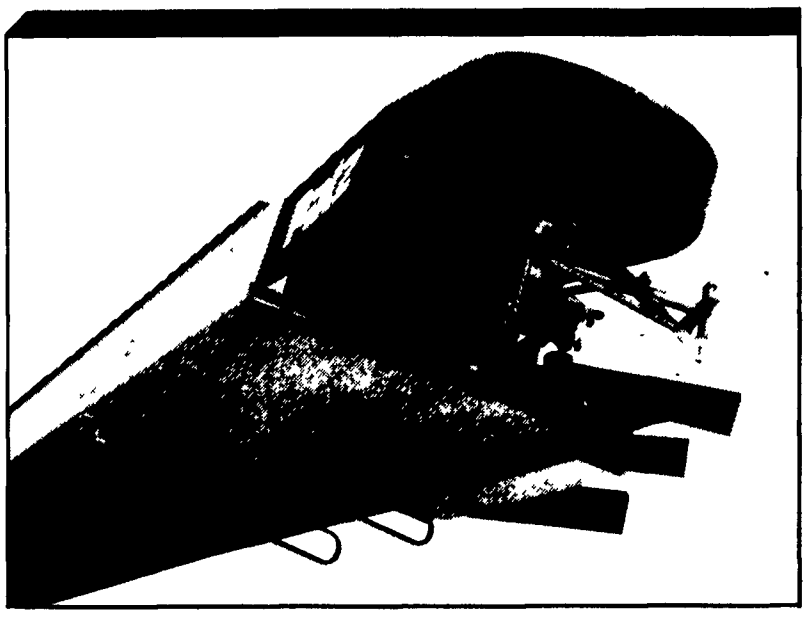
Samples can also be brought to the County Extension Office, Conservation District Office or the Penn State Research Farm near Landisville.



PatzGard liner

For mangers, feed bunks, conveyors, slides, gutters and more.

- Nonporous and super slick for easy cleaning.
- Will not rust, rot or corrode.
- Avoids rebuilding worn mangers and gutters.
- Avoids sour odors and feed waste.
- Feed savings could total $30 per cow each year.
- Cows eat better off PatzGard for higher production.
- Reduces fly feeding and breeding in mangers.
- Slick surface reduces power requirements for gutter cleaners and conveyors.



Why Patz is No. 1

- Durable Patz hook-and-eye link chain. Progression forging builds extra strength into hook-and-eye link contact points. Final heat treating increases hardness, strength and wear resistance.
- Four-tooth sprocket drives every link behind the hook--the link's thickest and strongest point.
- Chain flexibility for various layouts.
- Select 2" flites for solid manure or 4" high flights for slurry manure. ¼ -inch-thick flites are welded to Patz links. ½ -inch thick wear shoes extend flite life.
- Three drive unit sizes match your gutter length and allow expansion.
- Corner wheel top-and-bottom flanges guide the chain around the corner. Corner wheel assemblies remove easily for service without concrete breakout.
- Heavier XH link available for extremely long pulls.

QUALITY & PRICE - Patz HAS THE BEST COMBINATION!

Poultry Manure Management Featured On Farm Tour

NEWARK, De. — Poultry manure and fertilizer management on sandy soils will be highlighted during a public tour of farm demonstration sites in Sussex County on June 20th. The tour will start at 9:30 a.m., at the University of Delaware's Research and Education Center on Route 9 west of Georgetown, and will end at noon.

The farms on this tour are cooperating with the Sussex Conservation District to demonstrate best management practices (BMPs) for reducing non-point source pollution (NPSP) as a part of Delaware's NPSP Management Program on the Nanticoke River watershed. Other cooperating agencies include the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control (DNREC) Division of Soil and Water Conservation, Soil Conservation Service (SCS), and University of Delaware Cooperative Extension and Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Applying more crop nutrients in fertilizers and manures than can be removed by the crop is a potential source of groundwater pollution," says Tom Williams, University of Delaware Extension specialist in agricultural engineering. "Excess nutrients can be leached from the topsoil by rain and irrigation water into groundwater where they become contaminants."

Nitrogen in the nitrate form is particularly susceptible to leaching, especially in sandy soils, says Williams. The BMP to reduce this potential loss of nutrients is to apply only the amount that can be used by the crop. Apply it as close to the time of use as practical.

Nutrient management starts with a good field history, the specialist says. Soil must be tested and manure must be analyzed for nutrient content before using it as a fertilizer. Williams suggests that farmers set realistic yield goals and establish a nutrient budget with manure and fertilizers as appropriate sources. Calibrating application equipment and making timely applications are also desirable practices.

Williams says crop rotations, manure storage and integrated pest management are some other BMPs that will be discussed on the tour.

Transportation from the Research and Education Center will be provided. If you plan to attend, call the Sussex SCS Office at 856-7378, so adequate seating can be arranged.

These 'Part-Time' Dairy Farmers Are Full

BY MARIANNE WALKER
Centre Co. Correspondent

BELLEFONTE (Centre) — You'll find no photographs of black and white dairy cattle accompanying this Centre County Dairy feature, no pictures of lush pastures, barns, farmsteads, or milking equipment.

If, as an astute Lancaster Farming reader, you're wondering why a dairy feature article doesn't center around a dairy farm, it's probably because Tom Musser, Sr. refers to dairy farming as his sideline, "We're part-time farmers," he chuckles. While the Musser farm certainly boasts all of the afore-mentioned elements, when approached for an interview on their operation, the Musser family was quick to emphasize their jugging operation and farm store.

After spending just a few short minutes within this thriving enterprise, it's easy to see why these entrepreneurs are "bullish" on direct marketing. The Musser Farm Store is meticulously maintained, inside and out.

The floors gleam, the showcases have nary a fingerprint, and the groceries are set atop shelves in well-ordered lines. The first impression gained upon entering the store is cleanliness; the second is quality.

Just inside the front door, the first product you'll spy in this on-farm store is Musser beef. They butcher their own steers, selling the meat by the cut, or in larger quantities, such as halves or whole beef. The beef case is brimming with vacuum-packaged cuts -- and they're the picture of leanness.

Tom Musser, Sr., who handles all butchering duties at the farm, sees that the beef is cut with today's fast-paced consumer in mind. "People want it quick," he explains, pointing out the many steaks, ground beef, and beef cubes, all of which may be prepared with ease.

Their meat line also includes chicken, ham, sausage, and lunch meats. These are purchased by the Mussers and then prepared for sale at the farm store.

The store carries a full line of groceries, including cheese, a variety of ice cream products, fruit juices and produce. Groceries were originally added at the store to supplement milk income, and they have certainly been an added bonus for the family. "Over the years, they've covered our overhead," affirms Tom, Sr.

And, then there's the milk -- the very heart and soul of the Musser Farm Store. This family produces four types of milk in their operation: Whole, skim, 2%, and chocolate. The cream is skimmed and sold to an outside source. The milk stands in the dairy case, bottled in glass, a reminder of what dairies used to be.

The marketing of this variety of products requires a great deal of equipment; it also makes necessary the housing for that equipment. A tour through the entire jugging and meat preparation facility is an exciting and educational experience. Come along!

In the meat room you'll find a large walk-in cooler, hooks for the hanging of beef carcasses, a grinder for preparing ground beef, and a slicer for cold cuts.

In the meat preparation room, you'll be greeted by spotless counters, a state-of-the-art electronic scale and labeler, and a vacuum packaging machine. Although a costly investment, the vacuum packer has been of tremendous benefit to the business. The machine packages meats and cheeses in transparent plastic, removing all air from the finished product. When these foods are packaged in this manner, shelf life increases dramatically and the products are immediately visible to the customer.

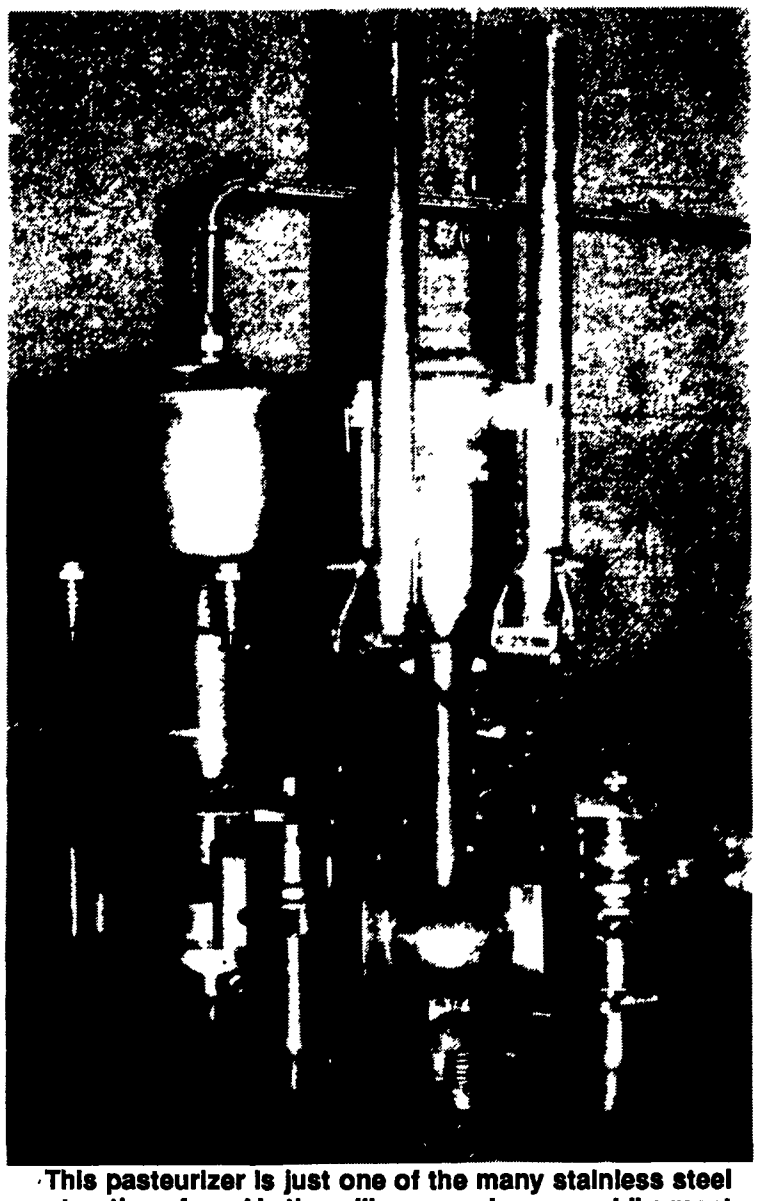
And, then, there's the milk processing room. The stainless steel contraptions that dominate this room are laid out so as to maximize efficiency and minimize labor.

The Mussers use a huge, 550-gallon tank to transport the milk from their barn to the processing facility. From the tank the milk is piped into a 150-gallon holding vat before moving through the pasteurizer and homogenizer.

An ice builder cools the milk to approximately 38 degrees before it's moved to a finish tank. From the finish tank it's pumped to the bottler where the finished product is bottled and capped. Finally, a conveyor belt moves the bottled milk to carts, each of which holds 135 gallons.

The processing room backs up to the Mussers' dairy case, so it requires just a few steps to place the bottles on the store shelves. This well-planned operation is ideally suited for two people, according to the Mussers.

Milk processing takes place twice weekly on the Musser farm, "Every day would probably kill us!" chides Tom, Sr.



This pasteurizer is just one of the many stainless steel contraptions found in the milk processing room. Like most of their equipment, the Mussers purchased it in 1960. You'd never know it--everything looks sparkling new.

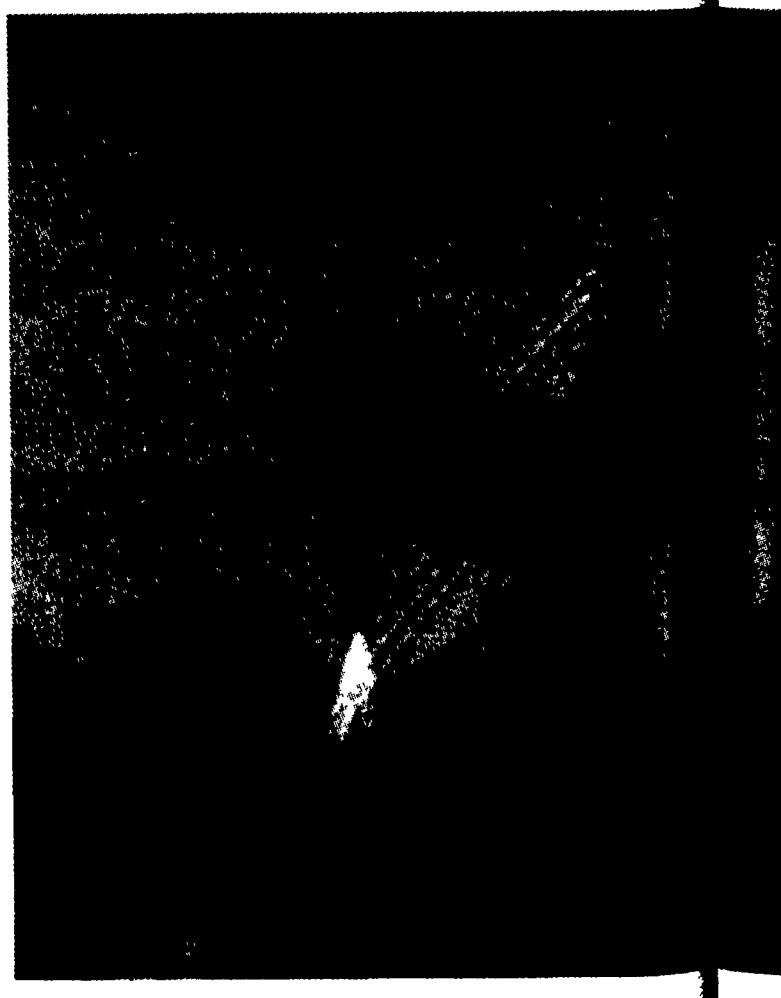
The origins of this jugging operation provide an intriguing history. Tom Musser, Sr., grew up on this 343-acre farm, but at 18, he left to pursue a teaching career. "I always wanted to farm," he remembers. "There wasn't a farm available when I graduated from high school, so I went to college. When the farm became available, I came back."

Upon graduating from college, Tom, Sr. taught for four years at Central Dauphin High School where he was the head wrestling coach. In 1960, he returned to the family farm, but maintained his teaching and coaching career at Bellefonte High for an additional 15 years. "I enjoy teaching and farming, and I've had the better of both," smiles Tom.

According to Tom, Jr., "A jugging operation was always Dad's dream," and in 1973 that illusion was transformed into the Musser Farm Store. Tom, Sr. still does occasional substitute teaching, serves on the Bellefonte Board of Education, and has been active in



ullish On Direct Marketing

The exterior of the Musser Farm Store is as inviting as a fresh, cold glass of all natural milk. The brilliant white building, surrounded by the lush farmland entices visitors to come inside.

In addition to four kinds of milk, Musser Farm Store carries a generous line of fresh meats, meats, cheeses, ice cream and, most importantly, four kinds of milk.

the Spring Township Planning Commission and the township's Zoning Commission. But, it's the farm store that occupies most of this businessman's time.

Rod, the elder Musser son, plays a vital role in this farm-to-consumer enterprise. A graduate of Michigan State who has done graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, he is responsible for all of the Mussers' young Holstein cattle. He also oversees the crop production. Rod and his wife, Linda, an Engineering Librarian at Penn State, have been parents for just two weeks.

Tom, Jr., is the herd manager and the second man in the two-man milk jugging procedure. The "two Toms" process the milk and juices. Tom, Jr. also does all of the artificial insemination for the herd. He still finds time for a little dairy promotion, though. Tom has served on the Centre County Extension Board for six years, and the Regional Committee for the Extension Board for four years. He has been a director of the DHIA for two years, during which time he's also been the Chairman of the Centre County Dairy Promotion Board.

Tom Jr.'s wife, Cindy, works off the farm as a Secretary/Accounter at Penn State's College of Business.

Joan, affectionately known as "Grandma Musser" manages the farm store. The tight ship she runs requires plenty of bookkeeping, phone calls to suppliers; and, of course, cleaning. Joan is assisted in the store by one part-time employee, the Mussers' only non-family hired person.

Over the past sixteen years, direct marketing has become a way of life to the Mussers. And, it's a way of life they'd not change for anything.

The owners of one of only two jugging operations in Centre County, the Mussers are quick to assure you that it's not been an easy route to take. "To be realistic, it's getting tougher all the time," relates Tom, Sr.

They, like all Pennsylvania dairy farmers, pay into a generic advertising fund which handles those Pennsylvania milk ads we've all heard on the radio. Because the Mussers also want to advertise their farm store, specifically, their total advertising budget can be astronomical.

Then, because they are located in the country, they must price their milk under current market prices to entice customers to make the drive. "The oil embargo really hurt us," remembers Tom, Jr. "Location has been really tough for us," adds Tom, Sr. "There are still a lot of people who don't know where we are and this is our 16th year!"

Still, this family wouldn't opt for selling milk any other way. "What do you do for more income on a dairy farm?" queries Tom, Sr. "You can get bigger or you can get a better price for your product, and I have no desire to milk 100 cows," he declares.

Tom, Jr. agrees, "I'd quit before I did that. I don't think I could stand to be in the barn seven days a week."

Over the years, the Mussers have found that their customers are changing. In 1988, 2% milk surpassed whole milk as their best-selling product. Since today's consumer is much more interested in protein than in butterfat, Tom Jr. now selects sires that are plus-protein for building their closed herd.

Since 1960, the Mussers have purchased less than twelve animals for their current 48-cow grade herd. "We feel that we have about the optimum as far as land, crops, machinery and animals," says Tom, Sr. Tom, Jr.'s current statistics show that the herd is currently producing an average of 18,000 pounds with 680 pounds of butterfat. Over the past ten years, those averages have been 19,000 and 700, respectively.

The Mussers have minimized the time that must be spent in the field. "We probably have less equipment than any farm in the valley," states Tom, Sr. They do all no-till planting and hire other farmers to do a portion of that planting. They also use very few soil additives. "We're not after top yields in our fields or from our cows," explains Tom Sr., again underscoring the retail side of their business. "We're after a decent living and a decent family life to go along with it. You're never going to get rich farming, so you might as well enjoy it," he says with a laugh.

The three Musser families all manage to take vacations once annually. "I know a lot of farmers are proud to be able to count their days away from the farm on one hand, but I just don't believe in that," exclaims Tom, Jr.

These dairymen aren't early risers, either, by dairymen's standards. The morning milking begins at 7 a.m. and the evening at

'Part-Time' Dairy Farmers

Every third Sunday, one of the men gets the mid-day as time off. All are present for the milkings, but one man is able to spend a large portion of the day with his family.

If the future of this direct marketing operations is dependent upon attention to detail and top quality products, the Mussers will surely see much success down the road. Tom Musser, Sr., has contemplated the making of ice cream from time to time, and that may be an item of the future at the farm store.

Tom, Jr., is determined to continue the direct marketing enterprise, "It's become a dying form of business, but I really like it." He also noted that while the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture enthusiastically supports direct marketing, he believes that it falls to point out the pitfalls. "They make it seem as though it's easy to do and they want people to do it. People go into it and then they realize how hard it is," he says.

Pitfalls notwithstanding, the Musser enthusiasm for the enterprise and the brain-power that's behind this operation seems to make it almost a sure bet that these "part-time farmers" will be full-time entrepreneurs for many, many years.

— 112 ACRE FARM —
SNYDER COUNTY, PA.
FRIDAY EVE., JUNE 23, 1989
7:00 P.M.

On the premises at Mill Road, R.D. #1, Mt. Pleasant Mills, PA 17853. Take Rt. 11/15 north from Harrisburg to left turn at Rt. 104, and go 3.7 miles on Rt. 104 to left turn onto Mill Rd. at Meiserville Inn, and go ½ mile to farm.

— THE FARM —

Beautiful rolling fields of fertile Weikert-type soil. Approx. 85 acres tillable and 25 woodland. Separate never-failing springs supply the house & barn. The fine trout stream "Mahantango Creek" flows by the pasture. Ideal set-up for crops or livestock.

— THE IMPROVEMENTS —

The home has been extensively remodeled. The exterior has solid cedar clapboard siding and all new windows and doors. Inside, new wiring, plumbing and plaster set the stage for the finest of amenities. A new first-floor wing houses the spacious eat-in kitchen with pointed stone fireplace, all new cabinets and appliances and DuPont Corian countertops. Natural-finish plank floors. 3 immaculate new bedrooms on second floor. All new exquisite bath with double Corian vanity and ceramic tile. Basement stone walls pointed inside and out, and a huge stone fireplace.

The barn is a huge T-shape, structurally sound and suitable for any farming enterprise, but needing some cosmetic work on the exterior. All the care and love have gone into redoing the house, thus far. Other outbuildings as well.

— THE OUTLOOK —

Perfect for the Gentleman Farmer, the Horselover, the Sportsman, or the Developer. The quality and beauty of the dwelling qualifies if for any purpose from Country Estate to Hunting Lodge. The conturs of the land lend themselves to several large subdivisions. No zoning in Perry Township. Snyder County planning/zoning is very liberal and helpful at this time. COntact Snyder County Planning Commission, Middleburg, PA.

— REASON FOR SELLING —

The owners will be joining their son in a dairy farming operation in another county.

TO INSPECT: Phone the owners, Roger and Diane Gray at (717) 539-2435 for an appointment. Open House dates: Sunday, May 28 and June 4 and 18, 1:00 to 4:00 P.M. For color brochure, phone the Auctioneers at (717) 382-4379 or 244-2875.

Dairy Research Update

"MAXI-TECH F.F." PRODUCTS REDUCE COWS SUMMER HEAT STRESS

Dairymen know a higher level of energy is critical during summer heat. However, proper forage intake is critical, therefore the amount of grain must be limited. Use of high energy fat (250% more energy than grain) has been limited by the fat-fiber reaction in the rumen. Therefore, Dairy Cows Limiting Factor Continues To Be Energy.

MAXI-TECH F.F. works in four new ways to Increase Your Cows Energy Digestion:

1. Purina Mills Technology Made It Possible to Create An Extreme Density Of Super-Energy Animal Fat In Maxi-Tech F.F.
2. Maxi-Tech F.F. Has Twice the Fiber Found in Average Supplements. This Fiber Allows More Fat To Be Consumed Without Creating A Fat-Fiber Imbalance.
3. Fermentable Fiber Is Digestible, So The F.F. Component Of The Maxi-Tech F.F. Is Converted Into More Additional Energy.
4. Fermentable Fiber Also Creates A More Favorable Environment For Essential Rumen Bacteria, Therefore The Entire Diet (Not Just The Maxi-Tech F.F.) Is Utilized More Efficiently!
